MARX UPHOLDS EXPERTS' PLAN

German Chancellor Urges Support of Program

Asserts Economic Recovery Will be Hastened

Adherence Declared Vital to Welfare of Country

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

BERLIN, June 4.—Frankly designating the Dawes report as the pivotal point in Germany's foreign relations and reiterating the ministry's adherence to its previous acceptance of the experts' recommendations as a basis for the approaching reparations negotiations, Chancellor Marx's statement in the Reichstag today on the occasion of his reappearance at the head of the second Cabinet bearing his name, was occupied entirely with references to the nation's foreign relations as affected by the enforcement of the Dawes report.

The Chancellor avoided any specific mention of measures for the relief of the internal situation, declaring that with the provisions of the Dawes report once approaching execution, the home situation would obviously react to the general movement toward economic rehabilitation. National discipline and unity were indispensable for the achievement of Germany's recovery, the Chancellor observed in his appeal to the Reichstag for its approval of such measures as were required to carry out the experts' program.

ACCEPTANCE IN WHOLE

Germany was prepared to receive the report as an unalloyed and indivisible whole and, added Dr. Marx, the opposing parties to the pact would be expected to assume the same attitude, especially with respect to the adoption of all measures necessary to place Germany in a position to fulfill her obligations.

The government's statement met with only a few dissenting votes and it will be debated by the Reichstag tomorrow. The Chancellor asserted that Germany's economic life was in a miserable if not a desperate condition, threatening complete breakdown unless some relaxation in the monetary stringency could be attained. The government saw in the experts' report a way out of the crisis and in its note of April 17 it had assured the Reparations Commission of its readiness to collaborate in the experts' plans. In accordance with this declaration, said the Chancellor, the present government will continue its preliminary work for carrying out the report.

DEMANDS UNITY

The economic and financial unity of Germany and her administrative sovereignty, said the Chancellor, must be restored, as otherwise the obligations demanded in the report could not be assumed. The heavy sacrifices asked of the German people could be borne only if it were made possible for all Germans to carry on their work undisturbed in their homes.

"To restore their freedom and homes to thousands of expelled Germans," exclaimed the Chancellor, "is an indispensable action which the government cannot relinquish."

Describing the speedy settlement of political questions with the Allied governments as one of the most urgent tasks for Germany, Dr. Marx appealed to the Reichstag and the German people alike to destroy by disunion and destructive strife Germany's rapid but slow recovery. Asserting that everything would depend upon the next few weeks, he concluded:

"It is Germany's last chance of salvation. The Rhineland and the oppressed countrymen in the Ruhr expectantly await rescue and help."

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

DES MOINES, June 4.—The Democratic race for Senatorial nomination and the Republican contest for railroad commissioner were the only contests for important State offices, which remain from Monday's primary had failed to decide definitely tonight.

The incomplete returns tonight showed Steck leading Denison by 1449 votes.

Senator Brookhart's advantage over Burton E. Sweet continued to hover around 32,000 and the percentage in the gubernatorial race, which was considerably below that required 35 per cent, remained unchanged.

Preparations already are under way for the State convention at which candidates for Governor and Auditor will be named by the Republicans. The convention is to be held at Des Moines July 9.

Woods Leaves to Wild Banzais

Thousands at Station Cheer Departing Ambassador as Nation's Friend

Mass-Meeting Protests Ban; America-Bound Ships Jammed in Rush

BY RODERICK MATHESON

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TOKIO, June 5.—The departure of former Ambassador Cyrus E. Woods today was an event fortunately rivaling a great celebration nearby before the main entrance to the imperial palace, where Prince Regent Hirohito was receiving an address of congratulations from the citizens of Tokio, presented by the Mayor. A considerable portion of the 500,000 people jamming the center of the city left the imperial celebration to gather at the Tokio station and the former Ambassador was forced to leave his motor car some distance away and walk to the station through a lane which the police had forced through the crowd.

The crowd cheered uninterruptedly for fifteen minutes, forcing the former Ambassador to bow time and again. At least 20,000 were jammed within the station itself, filling the steps and platforms. There was a continuous glare of flashlights for ten minutes and a score of police were unable to hold the crowds back. Hundreds of hands were stretched out to shake farewell.

Mr. Woods and his party had extreme difficulty in boarding the train, so great was the crush. The cheering continued until the train rounded the first curve. Mr. Woods was forced to hold his mother-in-law between his arms before him to protect her from the handshaking officials and diplomats.

REASSURES PEOPLE

The platform after the departure of the crowd was covered with flowers intended for presentation to Mr. Woods, and considerable Japanese footgear was lost in the confusion. Mr. Woods's parting statement follows:

"In leaving Japan, which I do with such deep regret, I am glad of this opportunity to express my most sincere thanks for the attitude of friendliness and helpfulness which the people and press of Japan have displayed toward me. On my part, I assure them that on my return to America, I shall continue to devote myself no less than here to the cause of concord between the countries which is as vital a necessity to the world's welfare."

Now that the former Ambassador is leaving it is possible to state

TRUE BILLS NAME BOYS

Charge Murder and Kidnaping

Confessions Are Disclosed; Woman Accuses Youths in Suit for $100,000

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, June 5.—A plan by two rich youths, both brilliant students, to kill for excitement and to kidnap for a ransom which they did not need, was disclosed tonight in the detailed confession of Nathan Leopold, Jr., who with his boon companion, Richard Loeb, was named in true bills charging murder and kidnaping for ransom in connection with the slaying of 13-year-old Robert Franks. The confession which was presented to the grand jury today was made public tonight by Robert E. Crowe, State's Attorney.

The true bills were voted against Leopold and Loeb late today by the grand jury which has spent three days investigating the slaying and kidnaping two weeks ago of the Franks boy, son of a Chicago millionaire.

The grand jury heard seventy-one witnesses and the last evidence presented was the confession of one of the boys read from stenographic notes.

TO SEEK BONDS

State's Attorney Crowe issued no statement in connection with the grand jury's action, except that "indictments have been decided upon."

The true bills were made returnable tomorrow, it was reported, in view of pending writs of habeas corpus for the release of the confessed slayers, also returnable tomorrow. Arguments on the writs will be heard, it is expected, after the indictments are returned. It was reported that efforts will be made to seek bonds for the boys, but the State is expected to resist such efforts.

The true bill for murder against each of the boys was reported to contain ten counts and that for kidnaping for ransom was said to contain sixteen. The true bills were voted two weeks to a day from the time the body of the boys' victim was found stuffed into a culvert in a South Side swamp.

The only other important event of the day in connection with the case came with the filing of a suit for $100,000 damages against Leopold and Loeb by attorneys for Mrs. Louise T. Nohley. According to her counsel, the woman said the youths attacked her when she went automobile riding with them. Assistant State's Attorneys said they knew of the charges but were little concerned in view of the much graver charges which the boys are expected to face.

MINISTRY IS REFUSED BY M. HERRIOT

Rejects Premiership as Millerand Remains Firm in Serious Crisis

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, June 5.—Edward Herriot, Mayor of Lyons, refused tonight to form a Cabinet under President Millerand when the President refused to resign.

France is passing through her most serious political crisis since 1877 when Marshal MacMahon refused to abandon his post when faced by the victorious Gambetta party.

It is generally believed tonight that President Millerand will seek to have some substitute form a Cabinet with a view to postponing definite action until Saturday, when he will issue a decree closing the Chamber of Deputies, which then need not be convened until next January.

It is expected that Francois Marsal, Poincare's Minister of Finance or Magdinot, former Minister of War, will attempt the task of lasting until Saturday night, after which, with the Chamber recessed, the government could remain in power, thanks to the laws of Presidential decree which Poincare jammed through the last parliament through a majority of the national bloc.

It was announced that M. Millerand will continue conversations with other political leaders tomorrow, seeking to find some one willing to constitute a Cabinet which will tide over the next two days as the constitution provides that the Chamber must be in session at least a week. The present session started the last Sunday and lasts to Saturday night, and whoever is Premier can decree of cloture without vote and then goven the republic until January, when the Chamber officially and automatically reconvenes.

The wildest rumors are seething in the capital that the Millerand-Maginot combination is contemplating a coup d'etat and the establishment of a dictatorship, but the left leaders ridicule the reports, asserting it is impossible for the President to ignore the will of the people.

LOCAL REALTY MAN NAMED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Burt L. Clogston of Los Angeles this afternoon was unanimously elected head of the subdivision section of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, now in convention in Washington. Mr. Clogston has made a specialty of subdivisions in Southern California and his election without opposition is a signal recognition of real estate men of Southern California, and a national compliment to Mr. Clogston personally.

The real estate men of the country were urged by President Coolidge in an address today to conduct their business with a view to mutuality of advantage to both buyer and seller.

"The deal in which one side 'gets the best of it' is not good business," the President said. "It doesn't promote more business or produce confidence in business generally. Formerly there was a curious notion that if one side in a business transaction profited, the other must necessarily lose. If that were true, all business would be under suspicion and wise people would stand aloof from it.

"The truth is that when two parties enter into a transaction by which each exchanges something which he needs less for something he needs more, both sides are benefited. That is the ideal basis of all trade and commerce, and it is the real basis of most transactions.

"It is particularly the opportunity and duty of real estate men to maintain such a standard. As a result their service is that of a middle man, bringing buyer and seller together. They will in the long run prosper if they are guided by the aim to render a real service to both sides. The transaction whose sole motive is the brokerage fee, whether or not it is earned by genuinely benefiting the principals, it is not commendable."

The real estate men had gathered on the south lawn of the White House and in opening his address the President greeted them as the "purveyors of cheer, confidence and soundly based optimism."

"You are in a very literal sense the sellers of America," he added. "You have sold it so well that it is recognized everywhere as the best buy in the world.

"Your profession has given largely to leadership of the better housing and better home movement throughout the country. Therein it has done much for the advancement of the community. We cannot hope that good citizens will come from bad homes. There will always be exceptions, but on the whole the quality of citizenship cannot be expected to rise much above the character of the home from which the citizens come.

"The ownership of a home, the feeling of independence that comes with possession of a bit of the earth, are among the most powerful incentives to high civic interest and usefulness. You can represent one of the strong practical forces working to make ours a nation of home-owning families."

JACK FROST WON'T LET GO

Coal Man Still Rules in Chicago Instead of Those "Perfect Days" the Poet Wrote of

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, June 5.—The much-heralded "perfect days" of June is anathema to Chicagoans, who still have the coal man to contend with. Cold, blustery days have followed those that were chilly, damp and rainy since Old Man Winter officially released his frigid hold on this section several weeks ago.

Truck gardeners and florists of the back yard and suburban variety are impatiently but hopefully watching for signs of germination before searing winds of autumn blow again.

Meanwhile Weather Forecaster Henry F. Cox is being submerged with letters and telephone calls asking whether there is going to be any warm weather at all. He has hopes for the future, but none for the present.

Disturbances, Cox says, moving across the country with a rapidity usually found in the month of March, are the reasons for the continued unseasonable temperature.

"Storms moving across the country with unseasonal rapidity do not give the sun a chance to warm up the air," said the weather man. "For real warm weather we must have at least two or three days of sunshine, but the disturbances follow each other so fast that the temperature is pulled down by the succeeding disturbance before the mercury gets fairly on its way upward. The tendency from now on, however, will be toward rising temperatures, and we may even have as warm a June as last year."

COOLIDGE WILLING TO HAVE LOWDEN AS RUNNING-MATE

President Indicates Illinois Man Is Acceptable but Refuses to Dictate Selection

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CLEVELAND, June 5.—President Coolidge has passed the word that former Gov. Lowden of Illinois would be acceptable to him as his running mate. There is every reason to believe that Mr. Lowden, who was the choice of the old-line party leaders for first place in 1920 will not resist a draft. This word came to Cleveland today and crystallized the sentiment already running strong toward Lowden.

It was plain that President Coolidge in disclosing his approval of Lowden, had not departed from his hands-off policy and was still leaving it to the convention, so long as no attempt was being made to put on a running mate to represent the insurgent wing of the party. The President, it was carefully pointed out, was simply making it known that he would regard Lowden as acceptable, if the convention chose to pick him.

All this fitted in with a rapidly rising tide for the former Illinois Governor which today had entirely drowned out the talk for Charles G. Dawes of Chicago, and puts Secretary Hoover out of the running. If he ever was in it, for Mr. Hoover had publicly declared he did not want the place.

NORTHWEST FOR HIM

Delegates and committeemen arriving from the States of the Northwest where the La Follette strength is openly admitted as a factor to be reckoned with, added to the rapidly growing sentiment for Lowden.

They declared that Lowden was the man who could do the ticket most good in the agricultural States west of the Mississippi, and who would draw strength from the rural vote which otherwise might be attracted elsewhere.

If the committeemen and delegates already on the ground were to pick out a Vice-Presidential nominee now it undoubtedly would be Lowden.

As preconvention details steadily are being cleared away, the machinery which will nominate the ticket next week is beginning to gather momentum.

Principal contests among delegates have been disposed of; organization selections for national committee officers are being made; last-minute touches have been added to the arrangements for the sessions beginning Tuesday; delegates are beginning to arrive and the preconvention period has now reached the stage of the ticket scramble.

TICKETS MUCH SOUGHT

The center of interest in Cleveland tonight is a great burglar-proof, bomb-proof steel and concrete vault over in the Federal Reserve Bank Building which contains the thousands of coveted pasteboards which are many thousands too few to satisfy all. Everybody who has anything to do with distributing tickets is going to have a fresh crop of enemies by Tuesday. Even the party leaders of the highest position cannot get enough tickets to meet the demands upon them.

It was definitely made known today for the first time with official sanction that the name of Hiram Johnson will not be presented to the convention and that no votes are expected to be cast for him from the floor as will be done for Senator La Follette. State Senator George H. Bender, Johnson's manager in Ohio, announced that there would be no nomination of the California Senator and that he stood by his previous release of his delegates. William M. Butler, President Coolidge's manager, said he had been advised that the two Johnson delegates chosen in Illinois would cast their votes for Coolidge.

SEEK NEW TREASURER

Before the National Committee completes its reorganization, it will choose a treasurer to succeed Fred W. Upham of Chicago. Charles D. Hilles, National Committeeman from New York, who has been discussed for the place, said today he was not a candidate and would not have it under any circumstances.

Carmi Thompson, one of the Ohio leaders also discussed for the place, said he appreciated the honor of being considered, but

CANADA LINE RUM BATTLE IS REPORTED

Dry Agents Hurt, Liquor Smugglers Captured in Fray, Quebec Hears

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

QUEBEC, June 5.—An unknown number of American revenue agents have been injured and several rum runners have been captured in a ten-day battle at the border over the possession of a ship's cargo of whisky which was being smuggled toward New York City, according to reports today from Sully township in Temiscouata county.

The smugglers are said to be Canadians. An unverified report is that ringleaders of the smuggling crew are mobilizing lumberjacks for an attack upon the American authorities in revenge for the arrest of two of the prisoners.

Details concerning the conflict are lacking, for it is being waged in the thick forests which fringe the international border in the Temiscouata region. It is known, however, that huge quantities of liquor have been cached in the timber fastnesses for smuggling into the United States.

Canadian and American revenue and customs agents, as well as inspectors of the Quebec Liquor Commission, invaded the region recently to hunt for the liquor and block its passage across the line.

It has been established definitely that the liquor came from St. Pierre Miquelon after having been smuggled by schooner from abroad and landed on the rocky coast north of Maine.

NAVY PLANS APPROVED

Senate Quickly Passes Bill

Measure to Bring Sea Power Up to Standard Now Goes to the President

Large Sum Appropriated to Build New Cruisers and Improve Old Ships

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The bill authorizing construction of eight scout cruisers and conversion of several coal burning battleships into oil burners was passed by the Senate tonight. Action was taken in the time required for the clerk to read the title.

The measure was recommended by the Navy Department as necessary to bring the American Navy up to the standard established as a part of the country's naval policy. It already had passed the House and now goes to the President.

Not a voice was raised in opposition to the measure which authorizes construction and repair work estimated to cost at least $111,000,000. In addition to the construction of the eight 10,000-ton cruisers, costing $11,100,000 each, exclusive of armament, and the conversion into oil burners of six first line battleships, the Navy Department would have authority to proceed with the building of six gunboats costing $700,000 each for use in Chinese waters. The repairs to the battleships would include additional protection against aircraft and submarine attacks.

Efforts made unsuccessfully in the House to incorporate a provision for gun elevation on thirteen battleships were not renewed in the Senate.

Several Senators who have expressed opposition to the construction measure were not on the floor when the vote was taken, and there was said to be a possibility that reconsideration of the vote might be attempted tomorrow.

FIRE-SETTER PHANTOM IS FIRED UPON

Mystery Figure Reported Third Time as Possible School-Blaze Suspect

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, June 5.—For the third time Special Officer Eddie Codoni, a patrolman in the Villa City district, has turned in a report about a mysterious woman wandering along Grand Canal avenue and attempting to set fire to structures there. His last encounter was tonight when Sheriff Traeger, Undersheriff Biscailluz, Deputy Hunter and Detectives Burnett and Watson were lying in wait nearby watching for a reappearance of the phantom figure in the hope that it might lead to an explanation of the Hope Development School fire at Playa Del Rey.

Codoni fired seven shots into a vacant house. The officers nearby made a quick investigation, but were unable to corroborate his statement that he had seen the woman inside.

The first encounter, according to Codoni's reports, occurred the night following the Playa Del Rey fire. He said he fired several shots at the woman when he saw her setting fire to a house. The next encounter occurred Wednesday night, he said, when she hid beside a house and attempted to shoot him as he passed on his regular rounds. Again, he said, he shot several times. Walking with his half-brother, H. Krukow, tonight, he said he saw her inside the vacant house and began firing immediately.

Sheriff Traeger conferred with the local police as Codoni was making his third report. A full investigation is under way.

SHRINE VOTES ONE TEMPLE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

KANSAS CITY, June 5.—The granting of one petition for a new temple to Akron, O., was announced today in the report of the dispensations committee of the Imperial Council of the Shrine, in session in the Orpheum Theater.

Akron's temple will be known as Tadmor. Its mother temple is Al Koran of Cleveland, that is, its territory will come out of that now under Al Koran.

OTHERS DENIED

The territorial reason was the outstanding one for denying all the other petitions. The other petitions were Kansas City, Kan., for a temple to be known as Kedra; Topeka, Kan., for a temple to be known as Amena; Ottumwa, Iowa, for a temple to be known as Hazah; Council Bluffs, Iowa, for a temple to be known as Makalla; Ada, Okla., for a temple to be called Delphi; Cumberland, Md., for a temple to be called Alighan; Johnstown, Pa., for a temple to be called Jericho.

The report of the committee was adopted by the council, closing the subject of petitions until the next convention.

Nearly 100 men from Akron, waiting anxiously outside the convention doors, shrieked with delight and began a wild war dance when the news of their petition's acceptance reached them. Runners were sent at once for a band which the delegation brought with them. One hundred and forty came from Akron to boost the petition. They paraded late this afternoon.

FIRST POTENTATE

Robert E. Lee, first vice-president of the Firestone Rubber Company, will be the first illustrious potentate of the Akron temple, everyone seems to agree. The first ceremonial will be in September. The petition was signed by 1000, and twenty-four temples were represented.

In the cheering group in front of the Orpheum Theater, E. W. (Tex) Edward of Helia Temple, Dallas, Tex., towered. He has been one of the principal workers for the new temple and none shouted so loud as he to every passerby:

"Shake, Akron has a temple."

Senate Gives Day to Debate on ex-Attorney-General

Asks Supreme Court Hearing on Ohio Judge's Decision

Justice Department Called on to Appeal in Case

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Almost the entire session of the Senate today was given over to an acrimonious discussion of the Daugherty investigation. Its only tangible result was the adoption of a resolution under suspension of the rules and with but two dissenting votes, requesting the Attorney-General to appeal to the Supreme Court from the Federal court at Cincinnati releasing Mal S. Daugherty, brother of the former Attorney-General, on a writ of habeas corpus after he had been taken into custody in pursuance of a Senate subpoena.

Chairman Brookhart introduced the subject particularly stressing criticism of Mr. Daugherty's refusal to testify personally or to continue representation before the committee. He began with the assertion that the committee had proved the existence of "a criminal conspiracy to protect law-breakers in the Attorney-General's household" and wound up with the declaration that this is the brave, "fighting Daugherty—the man who fights in the dark and stabs in the back."

Senator Fess, Republican, Ohio, declared that he personally would also have refused to appear before the committee, in view of the character of some of the testimony it had taken. This brought into the discussion Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, and several members from the Democratic side, including Minority Leader Robinson, Senator Caraway of Arkansas, Senator McKellar, Tennessee, and Senator Ashurst, Arizona. Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, a member of Senator Brookhart's committee, declared himself in disagreement with the chairman on several points.

Senator Brookhart described what he said were the circumstances under which the former Attorney-General's tax returns indicated that he was without funds when he took office, while the committee found evidence, he said, that he had three years later, $75,000 in cash in the Midland National Bank in Ohio.

In the vote on the resolution, Senator Pepper, Republican, Pennsylvania, who, with Senator Spencer, Republican, Missouri, voted in the negative, explained that he did not wish to bring about a conflict between the judicial and legislative branches of the government. Senator Willis, Republican, Ohio, led a fight on a similar point after the passage of the resolution seeking to modify its preamble but lost 44 to 29, and by action of the Senate Atty.-Gen. Stone was requested to appeal, and to use counsel satisfactory to the investigating committee.

Further procedure in the Daugherty investigation was still somewhat in doubt tonight. There was a possibility of a hearing tomorrow, although no definite decision had been reached on this.

House Passes Bill for Harbor Belt Railway

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The House tonight passed Congressman Fredericks's bill for a right of way across Fort MacArthur for the harbor belt line railroad. It is likely to be passed by the Senate before adjournment.

VICTORY IN SENATE

Congressman Fredericks won a complete victory tonight in the Senate when that body accepted and passed unanimously the bill for a new hospital building at the Sawtelle Soldiers' Home, which was passed by the House due to his tireless efforts. This was due largely to his persistence in insisting that the veterans at Santa Monica, old, infirm and helpless and bed ridden in the hospital, should be protected against fire. Congressman Fredericks's bill is the only one passed at this session of Congress for the erection of a public building of this kind.

HOLDS LOWDEN IS ACCEPTABLE

doubted that he could spare the time from his business affairs. Claudius H. Houston of Tennessee, chairman of the subcommittee on ways and means, was understood to have the backing of Mr. Upham and the support of many of the old committee members.

Among the organization proposals to be submitted to the convention for ratification with the indorsement of the National Committee will be one to elevate women to full membership in the committee and equal participation in its affairs. At present women members are associates, do not vote and retire with the public from executive sessions when any real business is to be done. Mr. Butler, the incoming chairman, said today he favored recognizing women members in full measure as a recognition of their interest and participation in party affairs, and it was assumed that his position had the indorsement of President Coolidge. It was announced today that Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton of Ohio, vice-chairman of the National Committee, would retire, and be succeeded by Mrs. A. T. Hert of Kentucky, widow of the late National Committeeman from that State. Mrs. Upton announced her candidacy for Congress from former President Garfield's old district.

At least one of the old-time figures of every Republican Convention, since the nomination of Lincoln, will be absent this time. He is Chauncey M. Depew, who has sent word that at the age of 90 he cannot come. "Uncle Joe" Cannon, however, who sat in the convention that nominated Lincoln, and has an unbroken record of taking part in every one since, will be here, and will deliver a speech.

CONTEST SETTLED

Republican National Committeeman Mulvihill of Mississippi, veteran winner of many a hard-fought contest before the Republican National Committee, lost his fight today when the committee refused to seat his delegates and accepted instead the delegates headed by Perry W. Howard, a negro lawyer of Jackson, Miss.

The committe's action forecast the replacement of Mulvihill as National Committeeman by Howard. The motion to seat the Howard delegates was by Committeeman Hillies of New York. The vote was unanimous. Thirty-eight votes were cast.

While the Mississippi contest was being heard, notice was given that the committee would be asked to hear a contest over the four delegates-at-large from Texas. Inasmuch as the Texas conventions were not held until May 27, the rule requiring fifteen days notice before the assembling of the National Committee would not hold good. Delegates headed by E. H. R. Green, a son of the late Hetty Green, were contesting for the seats also claimed by National Committeeman Creager and his delegates.

CHAPLAINS NAMED

Chaplains to officiate at the Republican National Convention here next week were named today as follows:

First day, Bishop William F. Anderson of Cincinnati, Methodist Episcopal Church; second day, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, New York City; third day, Bishop Joseph Schrembs, Cleveland Catholic diocese.

If there is a second session on Thursday or a Friday session, a representative of the Christian science Church will be selected.

Salem A. Hart, Jr., of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Cleveland, will be named for this session.

CAUSE OF FRUIT POISONING

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PORTLAND (Or.) June 5.—Research workers at the University of Oregon Medical School have succeeded in discovering the cause of so-called fruit poisoning, a disease which attacks hundreds of workers in the canneries and packing-houses of the Northwest during the fruit-packing season. After six months of investigation, Dr. Lyle Kingery, professor of dermatology, and Dr. C. H. Thienes, professor of pharmacology, have isolated the organism that produces the disease, and they are now on the way to finding the most effective means of checking and preventing the malady.

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) June 5.—Lester Ruffner, who for four years has been director of the annual Frontier Days' sports, is unable this year to act in such capacity, owing to ill health. He will be succeeded by Harry Stewart, a cattleman of long experience and of large knowledge in cowboy sports.

INDIAN CUSTOMS MISUNDERSTOOD

Their Dances Typify Deep Religious Ceremony

Music Powwows Meant as Thanks to God

Venerate Master of Life and Nature

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Indian ceremonials rarely are understood by other races and consequently the Indian rites and dances have often been unjustly criticised, says J. N. B. Hewitt of the Smithsonian Institution.

The white man is extremely gullible when it comes to believing fantastic tales about the red man. It is no rare occurrence for a witness to appear at a Congressional hearing and to testify regarding the evils of Indian dances and later admit that he has never seen the objectionable rites.

Furthermore, the white man must plead guilty to a lack of sympathetic imagination when he observes the Indian. Aside from some ethnologists, persons who do attend Indian ceremonies generally see only the gyrations of painted savages. Sometimes they can not refrain from showing their amusement and scorn. Sometimes they offend the Indians seriously.

One man who was present at a Navajo snake dance grew righteously indignant at the sight of venomous snakes handled by the dancers, who even placed them in their mouths. When one of the reptiles was laid on the ground the visitor impulsively took a soda pop bottle and tried to kill it. The white man was the Indians' guest. The snake represented some religious symbol to the dancer, and it was, for the time being, an object of veneration. Guest as he was, the rash outsider jeopardised his life.

Mr. Hewitt says that the ceremonies of the Indians are incorrectly called pagan. No people have held a more reverent attitude toward nature and the Master of Life than the Indians, he says. By their symbolism they built up a system of associations, so that when they saw the full moon or the budding trees, the ripe corn or the forest animals, they thought of the legends and the significance of those things in life. Considering their lack of advantages the Indians put into words an astonishing amount of truth regarding their universe.

The Indian regards the tribal rites and all the symbolism that goes with them with the same respect that any other race feels toward its religious observances. A typical feast is the Iroquois planting ceremony, which takes place in the spring. The women and girls dramatize the planting processes and sing the songs descriptive of each. Men of the tribe preach and tell the others to treat one another kindly, to avoid lying and gossip, to live peaceably, and to be thankful for their blessings. There are always a feast and dancing at the close of all festivals. They believe that the Master of Life, seeing the people dance, knows that His children are content with what He has done for them, and so He is pleased. It is all the Indians' way of rendering thanksgiving.

There is no doubt that some dances of primitive tribes have included practices which the white man regards as reprehensible. The Indians' practice of slashing themselves and one another with knives during the Sun Dance has been criticised. So has the reckless handling of snakes, both harmless and venomous, at the Snake Dance. Charges of immorality in connection with some rites have also been made.

The Indians themselves say that few, if any, dancers cut themselves now in the Sun Dance. The idea back of the cutting was to show courage. That the white man should object to their handling of the snakes is not so easy for the Indians to understand. The white man himself charms and plays with snakes in the circus cages, they say. The Indian gathers the snakes and uses them in his dance to show that he is friendly with the least lovely of all earth's creatures.

The Indian is said to be losing his racial identity, but many tribes still cling to the ancestral faith and ceremonies. The young Indians who attend schools and colleges—and many of them have white blood in their veins—do not take so keen an interest in the tribal rites as the older generation. They do not understand them. Moreover, as the Indians become farmers and stock raisers it is increasingly difficult for them to attend the feasts. The Sun Dance, for instance, is reduced to a brief, one or two-day ceremony, and the government usually prevails upon the Indians to hold it at a time when farming will be least affected.

But in spite of obstacles, the Indians, especially the Pueblos, manage to keep up the tribal traditions. A recent action of a Pueblo tribe in taking two Indian boys out of public school to give them eighteen months of training in tribal mysteries is significant of Indian determination to keep the ancient ceremonies alive.

OWEN SOUND (Ont.) June 5. Disapproval of Canada's Chinese exclusion law on the ground that "it is felt to be unjust legislation that prevents Chinese who have made their homes in Canada for many years and have proved loyal citizens, from bringing their wives and children," was expressed in the foreign mission report presented today by the Presbyterian General Assembly of Canada.

BIDS GOOD-BY TO JAPANESE

that he had been working in the closest confidence of the Foreign Office and the metropolitan police to hold down anti-Americanism and to prevent outbreaks. The former Ambassador, in following an urgent request of the authorities, has been receiving delegation after delegation of protestors, allowing them to use him as a safety valve for their feelings. Several times the grounds of the Ambassador's home has been invaded by gangs of fifty to 100 looking for trouble. There was a typical scene on Monday when eight motor loads of rough-looking men visited the embassy, alarming the servants, who barred the doors. Mr. Woods rebuked the doorkeepers, and appeared on the steps, greeting the visitors and shaking hands with those nearest him.

MEET IN PROTEST

"Who speaks English?" he asked, and one of the gang stepped forward. "Please tell these gentlemen I am glad to see them. What can I do for you?"

The interpreter conveyed the greetings, and then turned to Mr. Woods saying:

"We are here to tell you we do not like the American law."

"You have nothing on me," said the Ambassador. "I do not like it, either. Now what will we do about it? If you have anything to suggest, you are just the men I am looking for. Tell me what you think I should do."

Such a response completely disarmed them of hostility and the gathering listened attentively while the Ambassador advised the Japanese to adopt the attitude of a great power and thus win the place desired, while mob violence would now reflect seriously upon the nation. The men posed for photographs with the Ambassador, and they went away after shaking hands with Woods amid great banzaiing.

A national meeting was conducted today in protest against the American exclusion act attended by officials from all Japan. The meeting was in the mammoth wrestling hall, seating 30,000. The promoters of the meeting include prominent members of the Diet and press. About 4000 placards throughout Tokio inviting attendance resulted in jamming the amphitheater.

SHIPS ARE JAMMED

Perfect order prevailed, but there was tense excitement, especially when a resolution to accord a national funeral to a man who recently committed harikari close to the American Embassy grounds was presented, and carried amid pretentious silence. It was decided to conduct the funeral in a most solemn manner, parading through the streets of the capital. The first contribution to the funeral expenses was $500 by an anonymous person.

Requests are being made to the government direct to despatch to America additional ships, which are always under government orders, thus to provide transportation for the Japanese returning to their homes with their brides.

The steamship lines hope to provide passage for a maximum number of 2000. The Japanese lines are adding six extra sailings, and the Admiral Line is cancelling Chinese bookings as far as possible to provide room for the Japanese, doing this with considerable financial sacrifice. The ticket brokers in Yokohama are reaping a harvest by asking bonuses of $100 for tickets. The steamship offices are attempting to prevent this. The exclusion does not affect the Japanese with certificates of American residence but would prevent them from returning with their brides, and that is the cause of the rush.

Indian Wardship Not Affected by Citizenship Law

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The new Indian Citizenship Act recently signed by President Coolidge will make every native-born Indian in the country a citizen of the United States, Indian Commissioner Burke said today.

The granting of citizenship, however, he said, would not remove the restrictions on Indian lands under government guardianship, the Supreme Court having held that wardship is not inconsistent with citizenship. Indians' rights to tribal or other property are not affected.

LINEBERGER WINS CLEAN PORT FIGHT

Bill to Bar Petroleum Contamination is Passed by Both Houses

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Both the Senate and the House have accepted Congressman Lineberger's bill to prohibit further petroleum contamination of rivers and harbors of the country. The Congressman won his long fight late this afternoon in the House when his bill finally was adopted. There are a few changes between the Senate and the House bills but at an informal conference this afternoon leaders agreed on the Lineberger measure and formal acceptance in its final form will be made tomorrow.

As it passed the Senate originally, the prohibition against pollution by oil included inland rivers and water courses from factories and other manufacturing plants. The Lineberger measure restricts this to rivers and harbors under the jurisdiction of the War Department. This ends successfully a long fight started by Los Angeles and Southern California and is a credit to the Long Beach Congressman.

tion of the youths with the slaying of Freeman Louis Tracy, a university student, and the mutilation of Charles Ream, a taxi driver, last fall, was practically at a standstill, all efforts of the authorities being bent to the task of hurrying the last testimony to the grand jury.

During the day the youths were brought from the County Jail to the Criminal Court Building where two employees of a Chicago bank identified Loeb as the youth who opened an account there under the name of Ballard. The boys refused to come to the Criminal Court Building until the State's Attorney had secured an order for their appearance. As they entered a photographer exploded a flashlight and Loeb nearly collapsed.

Attorneys representing the boys went to the County Jail later for a conference. It was reported that details of the defense for which a fund of $1,000,000 is said to be available already, were discussed.

RECLAMATION BILL UP TODAY

House to Vote on Plans of Work's Commission

Rail Rate Revision Measure Also on Program

Rules to be Suspended for Quick Consideration

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, June 5. — Reclamation legislation in line with recommendations of Secretary Work's fact-finding commission will be considerd by the House tomorrow under a program agreed on late today by leaders.

It is planned to call up a bill introduced by Chairman Smith of the Irrigation Committee under a motion to suspend the rules, which would shut off amendments, limit debate to forty minutes and require a two-thirds vote for passage.

Similar action is expected on the Hoch resolution which would direct the Interstate Commerce Commission, after an inquiry, to revise railroad freight rates on commodities, including live stock, affected by the agriculture depression.

Unexpected delays prevented the House from reaching the measures today, both of which had been given places on the legislative calendar. Other business also prevented their consideration at a night session.

In view of the delay Mr. Smith announced that Speaker Gillett had consented to give early recognition to the reclamation bill. In calling the measure up under suspension procedure, Mr. Smith and other friends of the bill, confident that they can muster the votes for passage, agreed that such action was the only way a vote could be reached before adjournment.

Speedy Senate approval is expected, as Senator Gooding, Republican, Idaho, has announced to a deficiency appropriation measure.

Indications are that friends of the Hoch proposal also will be able to obtain the required two-thirds vote to pass their measure under suspension of rules. Among other provisions, the resolution directs the commission to carry out "with the least practicable delay" such rate changes as would promote "freedom of movement" of agricultural products affected by depression, and also would declare that agriculture he recognized as "a basic industry."

GIRL SEEKS ALLOWANCE PAID TO DAD

Would be Substitute Beneficiary to $10,000 a Year From Mrs. Flagler

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, June 5.—Miss Ruth E. Taylor of Pasco, Wash., petitioned the Supreme Court today to substitute for her father, Richard W. Taylor, as the beneficiary of a $10,000 a year allowance from the property of Mrs. Ida A. Flagler, her grand aunt. Miss Taylor's father, a nephew of Mrs. Flagler, died March 5 last. He was one of her numerous relatives, who have received annual allowances from the large surplus income from the trust estate created by Mrs. Flagler by her late husband, Henry M. Flagler.

Mrs. Flagler, adjudged incompetent, has been a patient in a sanatorium for many years. The original trust estate created by Flagler for her was valued at $3,000,000 and now has a value of $10,900,000. The annual income has averaged $375,000, of which relatives have received from $32,000 to $115,000 a year.

Miss Taylor said in her petition that she is 22 years of age and a high school graduate and had been entirely dependent on her father. She asserts that the committee of the estate ceased to pay the allowance when her father died. Justice Tierney appointed a referee to pass on the application.

PARIS DAY BY DAY

Theaters Come Back

BY RAYMOND G. CARROLL

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1924, Public Ledger]

PARIS, June 5.—New theaters are breaking through the mantle of black crepe drawn over Paris by the World War.

After the outbreak of the war the French theater as an institution for a considerable period practically ceased to exist. Conscription and war regulations, together with enemy air raids and proximity to the front, made theatrical enterprises either impossible or exceedingly difficult.

But now the theater is coming into its own again, and handsome new temples of the drama are being built and opened.

First of these is the smart Theatre de l'Etoile, where the actor-manager-playwright, Sacha Guitry, gets fifty francs each for his "fauteuils d'orchestra," or orchestra seats, when thirty francs is the price at most of the other leading French theaters.

There is only one Sacha. He has written some fifty-seven plays, the majority in from two to three hours. He dictates them as an American business man plows through his morning's mail. Later, at rehearsals, he whips them into shape. He is able to put on his pieces without the expense of a leading lady, for he marries them. Yvonne Printemps is his third wife, likewise his third leading lady. She is both clever and beautiful.

As for the remaining members of his company, they work cheaply, for to be in a Guitry play is a good flying start for any capable amateur. His "La Prise de Berg-op-Zoom" "The Capture of Berg-op-Zoom" he took from a French calendar, or rather it is a farce that he wrote around the chronicle on a French calendar of the taking of a Dutch town named Berg-op-Zoom by French soldiers one day in May back in the fifteenth century. Guitry is said to be the richest theater manager in the French metropolis.

His season's offering is "La Revue de Printemps," a vehicle for Guitry originality and wit.

Two other new theaters that have been opened this year are the Theatre des Mathurins, for light comedies, and the Theatre de L'Avenue, a most gorgeous playhouse for superior productions. Then there is the new Theatre de Madeleine, under the management of Andre Brule, an actor who in his choice of parts suggests William Gillette, the portrayer of "Sherlock Holmes." Brule does detective roles to perfection.

The fifth new Paris theater is the Theatre de la Micho-Diere, backed by M. Quinson, the "Tyson-McBride" of Paris, as he is probably the biggest theater ticket broker. Quinson is the close friend of the venerable Tristan Bernard, the playwright, and together they have written a comedy "Embrassez-moi" (Kiss Me,) which is running at the Theatre Palais-Royal, with sensational posters all over the city on the billboards.

Bernard is a real character, with his huge beard and his mania for attending prizefights, an intellectual who late in life turned to boxing.

The popular dramatic taste of the French public is for light comedies and musical comedies. Just as Jacques Offenbach, the composer of opera bouffe, came into the height of his fame shortly before and after the Franco-Prussian War, right now after the World War arrives a vogue for musical productions in Paris.

One theater only in Paris is the recognized home for spicy plays, the Theatre des Capucines, where the French porportion of the audience is seldom more than 10 per cent. The "off-color" is put on for the strangers, the majority attending not knowing what it is all about.

Not long ago in this theater Loucheur, the French statesman, got a terrific lampooning, and was present the first night to enjoy it. One other person in the audience is believed to have understood what was transpiring on the stage.

When the players of the Grand-Guignol went to America last winter, there was a reason. Dealing in horror sketches, this theater since the war has discovered that the French people no longer have nerves to be played upon. The war surfeited France with horror, and make-believe frightfulness only bored.

Even Landru, the bearded murderer of more than a hundred women, fell down as a newspaper sensation.

Tragedies are no longer acted in the French theater, the demand being for very modern plays and some problem dramas.

Even the genius of M. Herbetot, the manager of three stages in the Theatre des Champs-Elysees, did not save Jacques Coppeau, a good actor, and his high-class stock company playing there. Coppeau tried to be the Winthrop Ames of this Parisian "Century Theater"—indeed, some of the same capital that built the Century Theater in New York built the Theatre des Champs-Elysees in Paris.

An American-conducted orchestra in the second of the auditoriums, and a Russian actor-manager named Pitoeff, with Russian players on its roof, was the way the Theatre des Champs-Elysees limped through the month of May.

It is the dream of every French theatrical star to lose his or her first name and be known to the populace as either "La" or "Le." Many have aspired, but the record holds with Rachel, Bernhardt and Duse. Mme. Simone aspires to be a "The," but her chances are slight of ever attaining it. She is a highly emotional actress much like Nazimova, who was the wife of the son of Casimir-Perier, a former President of France. He was killed in the war and since then the actress has had two more husbands, the last being her author, Francois Porche.

Cecile Sorel, the Comedie-Francaise actress, has reached the October period of life. They are telling a story along the Grand boulevards of Clemenceau meeting the actress. There was a mutual exchange of compliments over their respective successes in America. "My wonderful lady," said the Old Tiger, "America is a country of young people. They like young people and we did not look our ages—hence we succeeded over there."

Madeleine Lely is the Ethel Barrymore of the French stage, well-mannered and a fine clothes-horse, but she is not nearly as clever an actress as our Ethel. Jean Marnac, the revue actress, is the Elsie Janis of Paris.

Among the French actors we like best of all Max Dearly. He might be likened to George M. Cohan, for he is slangy and sings and dances in an acrobatic fashion. He is good in anything, and can take a half-dozen different parts in an evening. Signoret is a former French classical actor who, although he looks like Forbes-Robertson, unbent himself into popular roles and became a great favorite. His best imitation is that of Lloyd George, which he does in a fashion that arouses the British ire.

On the playwrights' horizon no one has appeared to fill the shoes of Robert de Flers and Gustave de Caillavet. When De Caillavet died De Flers was badly shaken, but he made last season's success, "Les Vignes du Siegneur," which, freely translated, means "In Great Luck."

The first theater in Paris was in the Hospital of the Trinity in the Rue St. Denis. That was in the fifteenth century, and the production was a mystery play in which the protagonist was Our Lord. Paris now has many theaters with other ideals, but what may surprise is that the French people like best, since the war, plays that portray religion and morality, rather than satire and spice; in fact, they will attend nothing else.

MEXICO IN LULL OF PRE-ELECTION

No Change Expected Until After July First

Business of Republic Said to be at Standstill

Silver Prices and Oil Boom Boon to Country

BY JACK STARR-HUNT

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICO CITY, June 5.—Mexico may be best described at the present time as in the doldrums, and is likely to experience no change until after the Presidential election on the first Sunday in July. President Obregon is away in the Northwestern States and Ambassador Warren is attending the National Republican Convention at Cleveland, O. The capital is now experiencing that lull in political activity, which presages the final burst on election day.

The result is that business on the whole is at a standstill, and the economic crisis is accentuated. However, there are bright spots in the gloom, principal among them being the recent heavy advance in the price of silver and the fact that the United States will probably be in the market for 15,000,000 ounces at an early date. Holding the position of second world producer of silver, the present rise in value is bound to have a beneficial effect on the country's main sources of income, and the Mexico City financial situation is already showing signs of increased firmness.

OIL PRODUCTION GAINS

The second hopeful feature is the extraordinarily large number of productive petroleum wells which have been brought in recently. Only a few days ago the Penn Mexican Fuel Company, in the Tuxpan district of the State of Vera Cruz, brought in the Alamo 25 well with an approximately daily production of 2384 cubic meters, while the Mexican Gulf Oil Company in the same district brought in a well on the same day which is given an approximate daily return of 800 meters. The East Coast Oil Company at Panuco in the State of Vera Cruz has the next best new well with a daily return of about 750 cubic meters. The Petroleum Department of the government is handling more applications for permits for drilling purposes than it has been called upon to deal with for the last few years.

Close students of the present situation have given up definitely any hope that Mexico will obtain financial assistance from the United States, before Obregon's successor shall have been elected. The last hope for anything of this nature disappeared when Charles Beecher Warren left for Cleveland. Although he never admitted officially that he was occupying himself over financial help for Mexico, there is no doubt his good offices were at the disposal of the republic and a pillar of great moral support is now lacking.

OBREGON WELL GUARDED

President Obregon has taken with him a large number of the Presidential guards, while his famous "yellow train" will be sent to the United States border to meet him for his return to the capital.

Warren's absence is pregnant with theories in Mexico City, these ranging from his possible nomination for the Vice-Presidency of the United States down to the belief that he will eventually get to the White House to give the Coolidge administration the benefit of his advice on the Japanese question.

The Inter-American Conference on Electrical Communications, after extended preliminary sessions, have got down to the program of work. The vast field they have to cover will necessarily make their stay in Mexico a prolonged one.

The banking convention, which has been in session in Mexico City for some months, is approaching the end of its labors. The principal result of its deliberation will be a comprehensive survey of the present banking laws, and the remedies proposed in the form of a new and consolidating Banking Act. As this conference has been working in notable harmony with the Mexico Minister of Finance, their bill will probably become law as soon as completed. The moratorium for the old Mexican banks of issue, which would have expired at the end of June, 1924, has been extended for a further period of eight months.

Let this week's polishing be your last!

By using this new, simple method you will no longer be troubled with tarnish, stain or rust on your silver and other bright metals.

After polishing the surface brightly, finish the metal with Izen. Izen is a transparent, colorless fluid which dries quickly and becomes an invisible protection against the elements.

Salt air, water, heat and rain cannot dull the luster of bright metal that has been finished with Izen.

After using Izen you can throw away your polish. You will no longer need to spend tedious, toilsome hours scouring away the beauty of your bright metalware. Because Izen prevents tarnish and corrosion it saves you from the drudgery of continuous polishing.

You need an Izen finish on the nickeled parts of your automobile—on your bathroom fixtures—on brass and copper wares—on musical instruments—on your silver and plated wares. One 75c bottle of Izen will finish most of the bright metal in your home. Ask for Izen at drug, department, hardware, music, jewelry and auto accessory stores.

BISHOP NICHOLS TAKEN BY DEATH

Head of Episcopal Diocese of State Succumbs

End Comes to Aged Prelate After Long Illness

Coadjutor Parsons Succeeds to Church Post

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Bishop William Ford Nichols of the Episcopal diocese of California died at the St. Luke's Hospital, an Episcopal Church institution, today after a lingering illness.

Bishop Nichols had been in the hospital for three months as the result of a long-standing intestinal disease. An operation gave him relief for a time, but for several weeks his condition had been critical.

The churchman was taken ill on his return from a trip to the East where he attended a number of church meetings.

Bishop Coadjutor Edward Leam Parsons becomes the leader of the diocese with the death of Bishop Nichols. Bishop Parsons is former pastor of St. Mark's Church in Berkeley and was elevated to his present position in 1919.

KNOWN AS AUTHOR

Until recently Bishop Nichols was presiding bishop of the eighth province, which includes all of the Western States, Alaska, Hawaii and the Philippines.

He was born in Lloyd, N. Y., June 5, 1849, and graduated from Trinity College, (Ct.) in 1870 and Berkeley Divinity School in 1873. He was ordained to the priesthood in 1874.

It was while he was rector in Philadelphia that he accepted a call to be assistant bishop of California under the late Bishop William M. Ingram. He was consecrated at Philadelphia, June 4, 1890, and become bishop of California, April 8, 1893, following the death of Bishop Kipp.

Bishop Nichols founded the church divinity school of the Pacific Coast, located on the cathedral close here and was the author of several volumes, including "Some World Circuit Saunterings," "On the Trail of Your Faith," "Councils to Candidates for Holy Orders" and "A Father's Story of the Earthquake and Fire in 1906."

SERVICES SATURDAY

The bishop is survived by his widow, two sons, one Rev. John C. Nichols, missionary in China, and two daughters, both married.

The funeral will be conducted in the crypt of the Grace Episcopal Cathedral here on arrival of a son and daughter from the East.

Later the diocesan secretary announced that the funeral services would be Saturday at 3 p.m., from Grace Cathedral. Bishop Parsons will officiate.

The interment will be in Cypress Lawn cemetery, San Mateo county.

INCOME TAX CUT ONLY TO INDIVIDUALS

Commissioner Points Out That Corporations Are Not in on Reduction

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Commissioner of Internal Revenue D. H. Blair has issued a statement correcting a misapprehension which appeared to have existed in some quarters relative to the 25 per cent retroactive tax cut. He pointed out that it does not apply to corporations but only to individuals.

"There appears to be a misunderstanding as to the amount of income tax imposed upon corporations by the Revenue Act of 1924," said Mr. Blair in a notice to internal revenue collectors. "Your attention is directed to the fact that under the provisions of Section 230 of the act the income tax on corporations is 12½ per cent, which is the same rate applicable for the taxable year 1923. Corporations, therefore, are not permitted to take as a credit any reduction in tax for the payment due June 15, or any subsequent installment date. The credit of 25 per cent is limited to individuals, who are required to file returns on forms 1014 and 1014-A."

PRESBYTERIANS IN MEETING IN ARIZONA

DECLARE AGAINST WAR AS MORAL WRONG; MONEY GIVEN TO CHURCHES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, June 5. — A late meeting of Presbyterian churches in Northern Arizona was held at Ganado, where the church is conducting an Indian mission school, established at a cost of about $300,000, for the benefit of a 35,000 Indian population, mainly Navajo and Hopi. The school includes a well-equipped hospital, with an annex for tubercular patients, and has its own ice plant, electric lighting system, water system and steam laundry, while coal is mined near by at need.

The northern presbytery declared itself against war as a moral wrong, and went on record as opposed to the use of churches in war propaganda. Rev. Black of Fort Defiance was elected moderator.

Rev. Benjamin H. Freye, lately of Denver, has been installed as pastor of the Presbyterian church at Casa Grande.

At Flagstaff an addition is to be made to the Federated Church at a cost of $15,000.

The directors of the New Cornelia Mining Company have voted $15,000 toward the cost of a new Catholic church at Ajo, and a similar sum for a community Protestant church.

ARIZONA HAPPY OVER NEW DAM

Casa Grande to Celebrate Gila Bill Passage

Phoenix Credited With Part in Project Success

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) June 5.—Great rejoicing is reported from Florence and Casa Grande over passage by the House last night of the Senate bill authorizing construction of the San Carlos storage dam on the Gila River. Casa Grande will have a celebration Saturday to be attended by hundreds of Phoenix residents specially invited by the Casa Grande Chamber of Commerce.

Appreciation is expressed that passage of the measure in the House largely was due to a flood of telegrams sent from this city to Representatives of all States urging that the bill be passed as an act of justice to the friendly Pima Indians who now are to be assured of irrigation in the 40,000-acre project. Many telegrams were dispatched today to Senators Cameron and Ashurst and Congressman Hayden congratulating them on the success of long continued efforts. From them have come wires that they are sure President Coolidge will sign the bill.

Gov. Hunt states his belief that the passage of the bill is the greatest benefit to Arizona since the first appropriation was made for the Roosevelt dam and predicts that the Casa Grande plain will become a second Salt River Valley, while the Indians will be enabled to make remarkable advances in civilization.

President O. J. Baughn of the San Carlos Association is preparing for a great joyride in which residents of the Casa Grande section will visit the communities of Southern Arizona and spread the glad tidings of progress.

HUNT TO MEET OBREGON

Gov. Hunt tomorrow will leave for Nogales there to greet President Obregon at the international line. Today he wired permission for the passage of Mexican troops across the line for a parade that will be joined in by the soldiers of both nations.

The reception ceremony is to be on a great platform that has been erected on the Line. Obregon will arrive in Nogales at noon Saturday, accompanied by the Governors of the Mexican States of Sonora, Sinaloa, Nayarit and Lower California, and will remain until Sunday evening

LEASING LAW REPEAL FAVORED BY COOLIDGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, June 5.—President Coolidge has recommended repeal of the law under which the Secretary of the Interior is authorized to grant certain persons and corporations permits to explore and lease certain lands in the Red River section of Oklahoma. The President made his recommendations in a letter to Senator Fletcher, Democrat, Florida, who has introduced a bill to repeal the law. Despite the letter, the Senate Public Lands Committee decided yesterday to indefinitely postpone action on the Fletcher bill.

STRAY WOLF IS CAPTURED AFTER FIGHT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ST. LOUIS, June 5.—Whether the six policemen who attempted to catch a wolf in the vicinity of the David Rankin School of Mechanical Trades, will ever write a book about their experiences is not known. But they made a detailed report of their experiences to their commanding officers.

The report told how about fifty students of the trade school first chased the wolf, and finally called the police to help. The wolf was cornered in the vestibule at the front door, but no one dared to approach the snarling animal.

At last one of the police had a brilliant idea. He knew, so he said, a man who had a pet wolf, and who could very likely catch this one. So the man, Harry Byrnes, was summoned.

Byrnes took one look at the animal, and assured all that it really was a wolf. He could catch it easily, he said.

He captured it, but in so doing received the imprint of one set of upper and lower wolf teeth on his right hand. In view of his heroism, and his wound, the police decided to allow him to keep the wolf until a claimant would appear.

GAMBLING IN ITALY UNDER COMMISSION

GENEROUS OFFER FOR CONCESSION BY YANKEE SYNDICATE TURNED DOWN

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ROME, June 5.—A new commission to frame regulations regarding government licenses for gambling houses has just been created, consisting of Undersecretaries Acerbo and Finzi and Minister Di Stefani. Those gambling houses for which temporary licenses have been granted under a decree permitting the system are now closed, although it is stated that establishments at Rappallo are still open. An American syndicate recently made an offer to take over the entire concession on generous terms, but the deal fell through.

Places likely to be considered as suitable for concessions paying heavy government taxes are Sorrento, Capri and Merano, and some place in the lakes for the rich Milanese, possibly Taroama. When the matter comes up for discussion in the Chamber it will provoke considerable opposition in certain sections.

RTS MAY QUIT PARTY POLITICS

ght Today on Question at National Convention

Disbandment Proposals Offered at Sessions

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

COLUMBUS (O.) June 5.—ing a memorial for disband- and several proposals that ractice of nominating nation- ticket cease, the prohibition nal convention tonight was in uncertain state.

The first day's session brought a sharp divergence of opin- on these questions and the is- will be fought out on the floor ntion.

other faction in the party ed to bring about an expan- in its aims, and, if necessary, ange in name.

All others lobbied for amalgama- ion with the newly organized rmer party," which had its inception in a convention in Columbus last week.

The proposal for party dissolution was presented to the convention by J. A. Murray, sole delegate from Nebraska, yesterday chosen as vice-chairman of the national committee and an outspoken advocate of continuing the organization.

A more determined attempt to wind up the party was fathered by Robert H. Patten of Springfield, Ill. He introduced a resolution, which, with the memorial, was referred to the platform committee providing that the prohibition convention adopt a set of principles based upon law enforcement, give these into the hands of committees to present to the two major parties and if both refused to consider such resolutions, to send out a call for a national gathering at which an entirely new party would be organized.

WRANGLE RESULTS

Introduction of this threw the convention into a parliamentary tangle during which both proponents and opponents were called to order for discussing the merits of the proposal. Mr. Patten finally said he would not object to reference to the resolution committee, provided that meant the proposal would not be pigeon-holed.

Dr. Aaron S. Watkins of Ohio, Presidential candidate in 1920, who is chairman of the platform committee, resented this later in the proceedings, whereupon Mr. Patten rejoined that Dr. Watkins had taken an unfair advantage of an opportunity to discuss the convention as a former candidate by devoting half an hour to opposing the resolution.

BONUS BLANKS ALMOST READY

More Than 15,000,000 Copies Being Distributed

Oath Required Only in Case of Dependents

Place for Fingerprints to Aid Identification

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Application forms on which World War veterans are to apply for adjusted compensation were made public today by Maj.-Gen. Davis, Adjutant-General of the Army and in personal charge of the War Department's special unit created to handle the bonus and forward approved applications to the Veterans' Bureau for payment or for the issue of insurance certificates.

More than 15,000,000 copies have been printed and are being distributed over the country, to be made available simultaneously through government and other agencies.

JUST FILL OUT FORMS

In an accompanying statement, Gen. Davis emphasized that claimants have nothing to do but fill out the forms to the best of their ability and forward them to he War Department, where additional information will be supplied from files. Actual distribution of blanks to claimants is expected to begin about the 30th inst.

An oath is required only in case the applicant is a dependent, the statement said. No oath is required where the veteran makes his own application, but two witnesses are necessary for his signature.

The same blank covers the case, no matter whether the veteran served in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard, and likewise, it may be used either by the veteran or the dependent of a deceased veteran.

PLACE FOR FINGERPRINTS

An unusual fature of the blank is a place for fingerprints. This was added as a matter of easy identification and to protect and assist veterans in identifying themselves in the future without the necessity of having comrades who served with them testify as to their identity.

Newspapers were cautioned by Gen. Davis against reprinting the application blanks as a means of speeding up the work through circulation of forms prepared at the newspapers' expense. The government supply is more than three times the amount required. Newspapers reprinting the form should see that it is identical in every way with the government blank, Gen. Davis said, suggesting that such forms be submitted for approval before circulation to veterans.

ASK BANNING OF RUSSIAN ARCHBISHOP

American Officials at Riga Base Stand on His Severance From Church

BY DONALD DAY

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RIGA, June 5.—Because since his arrival in Riga Archbishop Nicolai exposed the Russian Living Church, saying it was being used to promote antireligious propaganda by the Cheka, American officials here have decided to recommend to Washington not to allow this aged prelate, his baby daughter and two companions to enter the United States.

The American officials base their stand only on the ground that the archbishop has severed his connection with the Living Church, telling the true situation about the church in Russia. They say that since Archbishop Nicolai does not represent the Living Church, he has no sound reason for entering America.

Informed of the hostile attitude of the American officials, the aged archbishop, his voice trembling, said:

"I do not want to be deported back to Russia, where I will be shot, because of my 5-year-old daughter. I was a wholesale druggist before the revolution, and I entered the monkhood only after my wife had died of undernourishment, thinking that I might help to save the Christian religion in Russia."

NO GREAT LOSS FROM EPIDEMIC

Harm More Psychological Than Material

S. H. Greene Cites Damage Caused by Elements

Release of Large Areas is Favored by Houck

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—The damage to California business by the foot-and-mouth epidemic, now apparently drawing to a close, has been more psychological than material, according to a statement today by Sam H. Greene, secretary-manager of the California Dairy Council. Greene was a member of Gov. Richardson's committee sent to Washington in connection with the epidemic.

The actual loss to agriculture has been less than is caused almost every season by frost, untimely rains or untimely dry weather, was Greene's declaration. He explained that there had been some severe losses suffered by the live-stock branch of agriculture and especially by certain individuals, but placed the loss in animals to date, based on State and Federal figures as under $4,000,000, as against $162,890,500 worth of California live stock untouched.

California's last annual return from agriculture was given by Greene as $555,000,000.

MORE FREE AREAS

SACRAMENTO, June 5.—Release of a large amount of additional territory in California from foot-and-mouth disease quarantine was recommended to the Federal and State governments today by Dr. U. G. Houck of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry and G. H. Hecke, director of the California State Department of Agriculture. The areas to be placed in free territory are: Napa, Solano and Alameda counties, all except premises that were infected. It now goes to conference with the House.

The Senate added numerous items to the measure as it came from the House for various government activities. Its principal single increase was $16,000,000 for paying refunds on income taxes by the Internal Revenue Bureau.

Court Upholds Sense of Smell of Dry Officer

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRANKFORT (Ky.) June 5.—J. Dolan, Louisville, lost his appeal from a sentence of ninety days and $300 fine for possessing liquor. He complained of the search warrant based on Officer J. W. The Court of Appeals confirmed the reliability of the officer's sense of smell as a reasonable ground of suspicion.

MANY TROUT FRY FOR CALIFORNIA STREAMS

DEPARTMENT PREPARING TO MAKE DISTRIBUTION OF 28,000,000

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, June 5.—Arrangements for the distribution of approximately 28,000,000 trout fry in the fishing streams of California are being completed by the State Fish and Game Commission Department of Fish Culture, which is in charge of William Shebley.

The first of the baby fish to leave the hatcheries will be started on their journey within a few days, Shebley said today. A larger shipment will be taken out some time next week.

The streams to be stocked, Shebley said, include practically every trout stream in California, located in all parts of the State from Del Norte to San Diego counties.

The supply of water at practically all the stations is falling off, making it necessary to distribute the young fish now at the hatcheries with the least possible delay.

Dan Cupid Put to Flight After Forty-Mile Hike

PUEBLO (Colo.) June 5.—Forty-four miles of tramping over hard roads knocked the glamor from the romance of Miss Irene Eddington and Virgil Mercallus, who eloped on foot from Canon City to Pueblo.

Soon after their arrival here Marcallus disappeared. The girl was found by Patrolman Weiner wandering the streets virtually barefooted and almost exhausted. Her shoes were worn through and her stockings were in tatters. She was lodged at the police station for shelter, until clothes can be provided for her.

She told the police that pounding forty-four miles over hard roads was too much for cupid, who fled when stone bruises and blisters came.

PLATFORM UP TO PRESIDENT

Coolidge Will Outline Party Declarations

Principal Planks Written at White House

Only Fight May be on World Court Stand

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CLEVELAND, June 5.—The Republican platform is to be a Coolidge platform, mainly the product of the Coolidge pen.

Leaders arriving from Washington bring intelligence that the construction of the platform is going forward at the White House with the President supervising the work, editing and rewriting planks submitted to him by various advisers and contributing entirely new planks representing his own untrammeled ideas of what a party declaration ought to contain.

The understanding is that the platform, virtually complete, will be brought to Cleveland by a trusted messenger next Monday ready for submission to the convention's resolutions committee on Tuesday. It may be that the White House will telegraph additional planks Tuesday and in any event the resolutions committee and the White House will be in close touch by long-distance telephone on the perfection of the platform.

The real job of the resolutions committee will be to devise a platform acceptable alike to the President and to important elements of the party differing with him on the World Court, taxes, agriculture and other questions. There is precious little room for a real thrill left in this convention, but if we get one it is likely to be in connection with a battle over the platform, such as may be precipitated by a World Court plank unacceptable to the irreconcilables.

TO LET COOLIDGE RULE

On the whole, however, there will be little disposition to quarrel with the President over the platform. He dominates the party and dominates the convention. He is consulted on every detail of the proceedings on which it is deemed possible he would express a preference. He is universally recognized as the greatest asset, some say the only asset, of the party. The Republicans are read to let him have his own way in the campaign, platform and all.

With the President molding the party credo, the document is expected to represent a marked departure from the verbose, evasive vague declarations of party principles that generally come forth from a resolutions committee. A comparatively brief, compact statement, setting forth G. O. P. fundamentals and promises in short, snappy sentences of unequivocal meaning, is anticipated—something partaking of the flavor of a Coolidge message or Coolidge speech.

Retrenchment, public and private, is to be the key word of the platform as shaped by the President—Yankee thrift translated into terms of statesmanship. We all must economize and pay our debts as expeditiously as possible, for that way lies prosperity, according to the gospel of Coolidge. The Republican party, the platform will declare, has pointed and smoothed the way, has performed wonders in this connection and will perform more, if continued in power.

EXAMPLE SET

Setting the example, the Republican administration and Congress have cut government expenses to the bone and reduced the public debt enormously, thereby making possible the recent reduction of taxes which enables individuals to pay their debts and save money. But this is only a step in the right direction. Taxes must not only be reduced, but reformed so as to release capital in large amounts for investment in productive enterprise, as originally proposed by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. The President would have the party pledge itself to accomplish this reform in the next Congress, if retained in power.

There is much speculation here on the character of the World Court plank the President will propose. It is taken for granted that the foreign relations declaration will exploit the international conference on limitation of armaments and settlement of Far Eastern questions called by President Harding and indorse Mr. Coolidge's proposal of another conference to carry disarmament further. But on the World Court the leaders are at sea.

The assumption is that President Coolidge will seek the adoption of a plank embodying Mr. Harding's proposal that the United States join the existing World Court with the Hughes reservations designed to save us from becoming involved in the League of Nations. That is what the proleaguers and procourt folks hope and what the irreconcilables fear.

HOPES CRUSHED

For a time the irreconcilables nursed the belief that Mr. Coolidge was not irrevocably committed to the original Harding proposal and that he was open to persuasion to embrace the proposition of complete divorce of the court from the League. Just when the irreconcilables were congratulating themselves that a platform plank could be written representing a compromise on this basis between them and President Coolidge, the President a couple of weeks ago unexpectedly made it known that he holds to the original Harding proposal. He favors our entrance into the court with the Hughes reservations only. He pointed out that delegates had been elected to the convention to support him on that understanding, and he asserted that he could not alter his stand. Then in his Decoration Day address he made it still clearer that he stands with the advocates of our adhesion to the present court, and that he cannot be relied upon to accept the Pepper plan or any other proposition involving the disentanglement of the court from the League.

The irreconcilables have misgivings they are not going to like the World Court plank as it emanates from the White House. What to do about it they have not decided. Some are for fighting a League court plank through the resolutions committee to the floor. Others counsel against a fight, saying the convention would support the President overwhelmingly. But a strong effort is to be put forth to induce the President to accept a plank representing concessions to the irreconcilable attitude.

Union Accused of Plot to Ruin Western Union

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, June 5.—Conspiracy to ruin the Western Union Telegraph Company is charged in a suit for a temporary restraining order filed by the company today in the United States District Court. The order is sought against the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and ten other associated unions, naming all the officials of the unions. The petition asks that a general strike, threatened to force compliance by the telegraph company with the demands of the unions, be averted by the court.

The unions, according to the charges, seek to force the telegraph company to operate under the closed-shop system.

REPORT ON OIL QUIZ ADOPTED

Senate Committee Places All Blame on Fall

Danger of Drainage from Reserves Conceded

No Evidence Found of Plot to Exploit Leases

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, June 5.—A report charging serious irregularities in connection with the Sinclair and Doheny oil leases was approved by the Senate oil committee today as a sequel to its long and colorful investigation.

The Senate itself probably will be asked to vote its approval tomorrow.

Prepared by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, the committee prosecutor, the report held that the leases were wasteful and had been negotiated secretly in disregard of the statutes and on the basis of a Presidential order illegally issued.

Fall's acceptance of $100,000 from E. L. Doheny was characterized "in the last degree reprehensible," although no opinion was expressed as to whether the payment was, in fact, a loan.

Shipment by Harry F. Sinclair of a consignment of blooded cattle to Fall's New Mexico ranch and Sinclair's subsequent employment of Fall after he left the Cabinet were cited without comment.

Likewise without comment the report related how Sinclair expended $1,000,000 to clear Teapot Dome of conflicting claims, some of which, at least, it says, were "shadowy."

CLEARS DENBY

Former Secretary Denby and Assistant Secretary Roosevelt of the Navy Department were exonerated from "any part whatever" in the negotiations leading up to the lease. It was declared that, despite diligent inquiry, the committee found "no facts of sufficient importance to report" in support of the rumor that public officers had speculated in stocks of the Sinclair and Doheny companies.

Similarly, the report said, "the evidence failed to establish the existence" of any conspiracy between oil operators and others at the Republican National Convention in 1920 for exploitation of public resources.

Before the committee gave its approval it struck out the Montana Senator's only recommendation for legislation and substituted a declaration that final judgment as to what new statutes are necessary should be reserved until the courts have construed the present laws in the oil lease litigation now pending. Senator Walsh's draft of the report would have suggested that competitive bids be required hereafter for oil leases; that such leases be made only for protection against drainage; that approval by the Comptroller-General would be necessary to make them effective and that hereafter no government oil could be "exchanged" for tankage.

OPPOSITION PROMISED

All organization Republicans on the committee were absent, although they had taken part in a discussion of its provisions at two previous sessions. Four Democrats and two Republicans—Chairman Ladd and Senator Norbeck of South Dakota—cast their votes for it, and the two remaining Democratic members also are expected to sign it. Senator Spencer, Republican, Missouri, predicted tonight that at least three of the four other Republican members who were absent today would join him in refusing to affix their signatures, making the final line-up either nine to four or eight to five.

Only a terse summary of the evidence taken since last October is contained in the report and some of the most engrossing chapters of the testimony, including that given by the long succession of witnesses questioned about the affairs of Edward B. McLean, are passed over with a mere reference.

Conceding the danger of drainage of oil from the reserves which had been emphasized by Fall as one of the principal reasons which actuated him in making the leases, the report declared the crucial inquiry so far as Teapot Dome is concerned, was "whether it was better for the government to have 22,000,000 barrels of oil in the ground or 1,666,666 barrels in tanks at the seaboard." This question, it was asserted, should have been left for Congress to decide.

DOHENY LEASE APPROVED

The Elk Hills lease to Doheny was described as "unexceptional" but the subsequent contracts with Doheny under which government royalty oil was exchanged for tankage were attacked.

Reviewing the testimony regarding the $100,000 payment to Fall by Doheny, the report declared that the essentially corrupt character of a loan made under such circumstances required no comment.

"It would be impossible for an officer to accept a loan of such an amount or perhaps of any amount under the circumstances," it continued, "without a sense of obligation to the lender, which, unless his character was cast in heroic mould, would be revealed in subsequent official transactions with him."

In criticising the use of royalty oil for construction of steel storage tankage, the report declared that steel storage tankage should be constructed only upon a contract calling for the payment of money to be appropriated by Congress for that specific purpose.

The sending of Marines to drive claimants from Teapot Dome after the Sinclair lease had been signed was denounced "as a perfectly outrageous use of the armed forces of the United States," resorted to "avoid a judicial inquiry into the validity of the Sinclair lease."

"Had the leases been awarded upon competitive bidding," it said, "there would have been no occasion to inquire whether they are fair or just to the government. The omission to invite competition casts a suspicion on the transaction as one in the interest of the government."

On the question of the danger of drainage, the report stated that among geologists there was no difference of opinion that drainage was possible between the Teapot Dome reserve and the Salt Creek Oil fields, although the extent and seriousness of the drainage was in dispute. Drainage to an appreciable and serious extent was occurring upon the two naval reserves in California, it was added.

SHORT LINES NAME DATE OF CONVENTION

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—The annual meeting of the American Short Line Railroad Association will be in San Francisco, August 13, 14 and 15, according to announcement today by Clarence M. Oddie, western representative of the association. Railroad executives to the number of 400 are expected to attend. The Eastern and Middle Western delegates leave Chicago on two special trains August 9 and spend August 12 at Lake Tahoe en route. Thirty-five California steam and electric railroads are members of the association.

PASS LAST FRONTIER

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 5.—A bit of history was re-enacted by Boy Scouts of Oklahoma City in their recent land run, "the run of 1924." From prairie schooners, buckboards and horseback the spectators watched the Scouts, many of them sons of '89-ers, as they made their dash to stake lots on the 200 acres recently donated by the city to the organization for a camp site, and to open Oklahoma's "last frontier." After the "run," and the staking of lots by a squad from each troop, the Scouts went to the "land office," in the City Hall, to register their property. The Scouts will build their own lodges.

Girl Charges Dentist With Serious Crime

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA ANA, June 5.—The courtroom of Superior Judge F. C. Drumm took on the aspect of a dental suite this afternoon when a dentist's chair was set up for illustration use in the case of Dr. R. E. Whitted, prominent in Santa Ana professional and social circles, who is on trial for a statutory offense alleged to have been committed against a 17-year-old Santa Ana girl.

After virtually all of two days had been consumed in securing a jury, the complaining witness took the stand for the prosecution. This morning when she was under a severe cross-examination by Attorney Lecompte Davis, of defense counsel, an illustration of details which revolved about the chair was demanded.

C. N. Mozley, Chief Deputy District Attorney objected to use of the witness chair as misleading to the jurors and demanded a dentist's chair be set up before the jurors. Judge Drumm ordered the installation.

When other equipment has been placed, the defense is expected to ask the girl to re-enact, in part, details of the alleged incident of which she accuses the dentist.

There are no women on the jury, which was selected after each side had exhausted all its peremptory challenges. The courtroom, crowded to capacity by a curious throng during examination of jurors, was cleared when court opened this morning. The request was made by the defense.

Dr. Whitted's wife sat with him as the girl told a revolting story directly accusing the dentist of improper conduct.

District Attorney Charges Criminal Libel

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN BERNARDINO, June 5.—J. K. Tibbitts, editor of the Labor Journal, was arrested late yesterday on charges of criminally libelling Dist.-Atty. George H. Johnson by the printing of an editorial attacking the prosecuter with asserted defeamatory inferences. Tibbitts was released on $500 bail after being arraigned before Justice Jerome B. Kavanaugh. He declared his arrest was "a piece of grand stand play."

In the complaint sworn to by Dist.-Atty. Johnson, the editor is accused of "malicious and defamatory libel tending to impeach the honesty, integrity, virtue and reputation of George H. Johnson, and thereby expose him to public ridicule and hatred." The editorial, the prosecutor contended, inferred that he destroyed evidence in liquor cases, and was based on the accusing of two of the prosecutor's dry operatives with accepting a bribe two weeks ago.

SAYS STUDENTS RUN WILD

Drinking, Smoking and Petting Parties, Subject of School Head's Address to Parents

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA ANA, June 5.—Parents of girls and boys attending the high school and junior high schools here will attend two mass meetings to be held tomorrow afternoon to hear J. A. Cranston, city superintendent of schools, reveal reports made to him of "wild parties," night rides, whisky drinking and other things asserted to have been done by the young folk.

Cranston called the mass meetings, he said, when reports of asserted misconduct on the part of students recently became so numerous that he desired to inform parents, now apparently in the "dark" as they were, as to the purported conduct of their offspring.

"I desire to warn parents of the dangers to their children as I see them, and tell them in a straightforward manner of what has been purported conduct of their offspring continued.

"I also desire to show them what the schools have been doing to protect the children and advise the parents against allowing their children to run wild at all hours of the night, as I understand has been the case in many instances."

Cranston's mass-meeting announcement came as a surprise, persons connected with school life admitted, as misconduct was thought generally to have been foreign to affairs in the local educational institutions. One session is to be at the high school, while the other is called for the Frances E. Willard Junior High School.

The principals of each school will tell what has been done to bolster up the moral conduct of pupils in the schools, Cranston declared, and then the superintendent will launch upon his revelations, he intimated, as intended to show juvenile problems that faced instructors and parents alike.

"I intend to tell the parents just what I have heard regarding night rides, cigarette smoking, whisky drinking and several other things that have implicated students, both boys and girls," Cranston emphasized.

"I don't expect to make direct charges because, in most cases, informants have been very anxious to keep their names out of the subject. For this reason I will not present any direct evidence."

LANKERSHIM, June 5.—Lankershim tonight illuminated the bright spot in the white spot when community leaders assembled in the social hall of the Community Church and banqueted with Angelenos and financial and industrial leaders from valley and near-by cities. The Greater Los Angeles Industrial Financing Corporation and its purposes and plans were the subject of discussion, and as a result of the assembly great enthusiasm was engendered and many memberships were sold, with pledges that Lankershim would at once subscribe for her quota. A. E. Warmington and Morgan Wood were the principal speakers. They told not only of the objects and aims in a greater way for the benfit of the entire district, but they also spoke of the individual profits that might be expected to accrue to Lankershim and all of the valley cities as a direct result of the success of the project. The local committee responsible for the success of the meeting and the elevation of Lankershim to a position near the top among progressive communities standing behind the organization included C. C. Bokerman, O. J. Renfrew, Howard Seeley, James Wilson, R. L. Forsythe and R. W. Blanchard.

CITY MANAGER RESIGNS POST

Action Result of Long and Bitter Fued

May Stop Proposed Recall of Commissioners

No One Mentioned to Fill Vacant Position

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ALHAMBRA, June 5. — Storm clouds which have been hovering about the City Hall for the past few weeks broke this afternoon when Grant M. Lorraine tendered his resignation as City Manager of Alhambra.

The resignation was handed to the five City Commissioners who had been in session since 8:30 o'clock this morning and was in the form of a simple statement by Mr. Lorraine, "I herewith submit by resignation as City Manager of Alhambra to take effect at your pleasure."

The resignation and the formal acceptance by the Commission will be embodied in a resolution to be acted upon next Monday night. By a mutual understanding it is to take effect July 1.

The Commissioners, N. W. Thompson, C. C. Garrison, W. P. Battelle, M. E. Carroll and P. E. Gibboney, called Mr. Lorraine into conference this morning and suggested that he resign, it is said. Mr. Lorraine refused, it is reported, on the grounds that no specific charges of misconduct or inefficiency could be preferred. A lengthly discussion followed which resulted in Mr. Lorraine being given until 12 o'clock to make a decision. His resignation was announced shortly after 1 o'clock.

According to one of the Commissioners, they have taken the attitude that Mr. Lorraine's resignation was desirable in the interests of public policy and harmony. No suggestion has been made as to his successor.

Today's outcome of the local political turmoil came after a series of secret meetings and group conferences following Tuesday's election when the bonds went down to defeat. The City Manager has been the target for criticism for several quarters, although no charges have ever been formally presented to the Commission. A recall movement to embrace four of the City Commissioners has made some headway. It is thought that an ultimatum presented to the Commission by a group of persons opposed to the recall had considerable influence in forcing the City Manager's resignation.

Whether or not the Commission's action in requesting Mr. Lorraine's withdrawal from office will serve to quiet the recall movement is a topic which is being freely discussed in all quarters today.

Mr. Lorraine has been City Manager of Alhambra for more than four years. For three years previously he was the City Engineer.

Your Pain May Be Neuritis

Many sufferers who are treating for rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago or sciatica are really afflicted with neuritis. This disease of the nerves causes pains, aches and soreness in different parts of the body, just like the ailments mentioned above.

The most common sources of neuritis are colds, injuries, bruises, infectious diseases or a rundown nervous system. Long-standing cases of rheumatism or sciatica frequently attack the nerves, setting up inflammation and producing neuritis. No matter what its origin, neuritis is always accompanied by sharp, piercing pain, usually in the shoulder, forearm, neck, thigh, leg or back.

Don't bother with medicines that relieve for today only. Assist Nature to remove the causes of inflammation and pain by taking Eopa Neuritis Tablets—a scientific treatment that has often brought lasting relief after other methods failed. Price $1.00.

Sold in Los Angeles by the Owl and Sun Drug Stores and all other leading druggists. Boericke & Runyon Co., Mfgs., San Francisco.

Burning and itching stopped almost instantly, red, scaly patches disappeared and the diseased skin soon took on the radiant glow of health under the healing influence of this marvelous liquid.

If you are bothered with eczema or any skin eruption, don't endure the misery another day. Just apply Ki-La-Ga with a soft sponge, and watch results. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as to the results received from its use, the replies received showed that ninety-eight out of every one hundred women had been benefited by its use. Therefore every sick and ailing woman owes it to herself to give this remarkably successful remedy a fair trial.—[Advertisement.

LATIN AMERICA SEEN AS HAVEN

Japanese Navy Urges Men to Emigrate There

Thousands Soon to Increase Ranks of Jobless

Flivvers Found Too Costly as City Carriers

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TOKIO, June 5.—"Go to South America," naval arsenal authorities are telling thousands of the men who are to be discharged shortly. "Go to South America. Make your worth known and felt, and you are bound to win success."

The latest figures show that 7330 workers in naval arsenals throughout the empire shortly will lose their jobs because of the retrenchment schemes it is proposed to put through. Dockyards and workshops declare they can't absorb more than 2000 of these workers at the most, and strenuous efforts are being made to have these men go to Latin America instead of adding to the unemployed in this country.

Special consultation rooms have been opened by the Overseas Industrial Association, recently formed, in order to interest emigrants and to induce in them a liking to go abroad, for the Japanese just loves to remain in his own land until real necessity goads. Here books and pamphlets dealing with the various South American countries are available to all.

The army also is planning retrenchment and it is expected that in a short time at least another 5000 persons will be out of jobs and provision will have to be made for them, too. The army is taking up the navy slogan to the men facing discharge, and to their employees also are saying "Go to South America."

The Ford cars imported by the Tokio municipality after the September earthquake in order to grapple with the transportation problem, which was very acute as a result of the burning of hundreds of trolley cars, and which the people named "Black Marias," owing to the similarity of these vehicles externally to prison vans, are to be withdrawn from the roads. The city has found them too expensive, each car costing on an average 10 yen a day. The service is unable to pay for itself, owing to decreased patronage.

The electric car service of the city is reaping a golden harvest, and is reported to have increased its business by more than 1000 yen a day.

One Year to Live! by John Hunter

SYNOPSIS

Tom Kendrick, a young American of whom she has dreamed since she met him in the days of her poverty, has returned to Paris and sought out Elise Duchanier. When he knew her she was maid to Lolette, the celebrated dancer. Now, because Lolette's jealousy has miscarried, Elise is La Phalene, whose fame as a dancer outshines that of her former mistress.

Dr. Laplerre, who loves Elise, has warned her she has one year to live. Elise, sole support of an invalid sister, has sought security in the number of her suitors, playing one against the other. They include Count Mordac and her manager, Maurice Brunel. Also Ahmed, Arab prince, and Donatelli, who because of her fought a duel of dice and poison. Ahmed lost. Kendrick found Elise at the dueling ground whither she had gone in a vain effort to stop the strange contest. Elise tells Brunel she must rest and break her contract with him. She puts her affairs in order, expecting death, after her sister has been restored to health.

Chapter LIV LIES

She was about to tell Baba that she was not at home, when she saw a movement in the open doorway, and Kendrick stepped into the room.

Elise nodded to Baba. With a swift glance at Kendrick the man withdrew.

Kendrick said: "I hope you will pardon the unwarrantable liberty I took. But I was afraid you would refuse to see me."

Elise steadied herself. She had steeled herself to make the journey, and now he had come to break down the barriers of her resolution.

"Why should you think I would refuse to see you?" she asked.

"Why should I think you would refuse to see me? Because I believe you find it hurtful."

She tried to smile.

"I am always willing to see my friends. But you found me just finishing my preparations for an extended holiday."

Disbelief showed in his eyes. "Where are you going?"

"Away—for a rest."

He was silent. Then: "So you won't tell me where you are going?"

"I would prefer not to do so."

"I see." He walked across the room and back again, and then stopped in front of her.

"I cannot leave without saying that which I came to say. I want to talk to you about those days when you lived in the Rue Jacques."

"They were happy days," she said, indifferently, and wondered at her own courage.

He looked at her quickly. "They were. And I find it impossible that the girl I knew then is the woman I found when I returned to Paris.

She bit her lip. "That was cruel of you," she said quietly. "It is one of the things I am trying to forget—that morning in the Bois."

"Forgive me. But I was carried away. You are so cold and I could not resist it. It was more than cruel."

She did not answer him.

He went on: "When I left Paris—that last time—I carried with me the memory of a girl I thought was the sweetest I had ever met. I intended to write—often—and always something came along to occupy my thoughts. I knew I was coming back to Paris and that may have made me careless. Yet I counted the days."

He would have married her. She knew that now. He would have married her even if she had been doomed to die on the morrow of their wedding.

"It is easy to say you counted the days," she said.

"Had you come back I might never have been La Phalene."

His eyes flashed angrily and then softened.

"That," he said quietly, "is a lie."

She flushed. "What do you mean?"

"That attitude of indifference; this show and extravagance. I read it in your face that afternoon when I called on you about Ahmed. You are acting as much off the stage as on. You are not La Phalene—but Elise Duchanier still."

Her hands moved hopelessly, though she tried to restrain their movement.

"You deceive yourself. It would be very much better for you to go back to America and forget all about Paris and me."

He abandoned his assertiveness, and tried another avenue of attack.

"Why do you do it?" he asked gently. "Please don't deny that it is make-believe any more, will you? You are suffering, and you are making me suffer. Why?"

She knew that any moment she might lose all control of herself and reveal the pitiful sham she was practicing. She would only be inflicting on him a share of her own agony. It was best for him to go away, best that the memory of Elise should be wiped out by the cold indifference of La Phalene.

"I admit that I am nervous and troubled. It was because of my folly that those two men quarreled, and I don't think I shall ever forget it. It has brought me to the verge of a breakdown. Apart from that I have everything one can wish for—admiration, wealth, fame—what more can I ask?"

He said: "Love."

She smiled. "Love comes afterwards. You had no time for love while building up your wealth."

"God help me, I had not," he said. "But love came to me, and I think love has come to you." He stepped closer to her. "You love me," he said evenly.

She shook her head.

"How can you deny it? Elise—just tell me that you love me, that you are the girl whose memory I have treasured all these months."

Her face was averted, so that he could only see its profile. Acting on the urge of an impulse, he stepped close to her and put his hand on her shoulder. She twisted, so that his grip fell away, and, with that, his arms went about her. He stooped as though to kiss her.

"If—if you don't let me go I shall die of shame," she gasped. "None of the others has ever dared this. And that you of all of them——"

His arms fell and he stepped back. She stood, swaying, white and shaken.

He said at last: "I can find no words—there is nothing to say. Only I love you so, and I can't bear to stand by and watch you—as you are. That is all."

He did not wait for her to speak, but turned abruptly and walked from the room.

He did not regret having taken her in his arms. The momentary shame which had succeeded the action had given place to defiant exultation. She loved him. She had shown it in those moments, had shown it clearly.

Why she should deny it, why she should try to send him away, passed his comprehension. The thought that her departure savored more of a flight than a holiday. She was going away, and she refused to tell him where.

Yet he thought he could find out. Lolette might know, for Lolette knew so many people who knew Elise.

Within twenty-four hours of Elise's traveling south, Kendrick was en route to Monte Carlo.

Lolette followed him. Brunel and Mordac were already there.

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Llega a Shanghai el Teniente Lowell H. Smith

SHANGHAI, Junio 5. — Hoy se reunieron en Shanghai los expedicionarios aéreos americanos, pues el Teniente Lowell H. Smith, que se había demorado en Kagoshima, Japón, por averías en el motor de su avión, "El Chicago", emprendió el vuelo hoy, y no sólo salvó sin novedad las 500 millas a través del mar de la China, sino que lo hizo en hora y cuarto menos que los dos aeroplanos de sus compañeros de expedición, que le precedieron en esa travesía. El tiempo empleado por Smith, quien, con su mecánico, el Teniente Leslie P. Arnold, pasó horas de mucho trabajo compondendo un motor refractario, antes de dar el salto, fue de seis horas, veinte minutos.

La mañana del próximo sábado se espera que continúen su viaje los tres aviones, rumbo a Amoy, que es la siguiente escala en su vuelo de circunnavegación.

El Presidente Millerand Llama a Herriot

PARIS, Junio 5.—Esta noche, el Presidente Millerand, siguiendo las indicaciones de los presidentes del Senado y de la Cámara de Diputados, que éstos le hicieron durante la tarde, llamó a Edouard Herriot, el líder radical, a la residencia presidencial; supónese que para suplicarle se encargue de formar un gabinete que suceda al del señor Poincaré.

Edouard Herriot se Niega a Formar Gabinete

PARIS, Junio 5.—Edouard Herriot, el líder radical, ha declinado el encargo de la formación de un ministerio que suceda al del señor Poincaré, según noticia dada esta noche.

Herriot no Forma Gabinete porque Millerand no Quiere Renunciar

PARIS, Junio 5.—Cuando el Presidente Millerand le ofreció al señor Herriot el puesto de Primer Ministro, paso que dió después de consultar con los presidentes de ambas cámaras, el citado líder puso en el tapete la cuestión de si el Presidente iba a continuar en su alta magistratura. Como el Presidente Millerand reiterara su determinación de permanecer en la silla durante todo el término constitucional, el señor Herriot se rehusó a formar ministerio.

Méjico en el Decaimiento de la Pre-Elección

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Junio 5.—Puede decirse que Méjico está en los actuales momentos completamente abatido, y lo probable es que su situación ni experimente ningún cambio favorable sino hasta después de las elecciones presidenciales, que se efectuarán el primer domingo de Julio. El Presidente Obregón se halla en el Noroeste de la República, y el Embajador Warren se encuentra en Cleveland para asistir a la Convención Republicana. La capital está pasando por esa calma de actividad política que presagia el bullicio final a la hora de las elecciones.

El resultado de este estado de cosas de que los negocios están paralizados y que la crisis económica se ha acentuado. Sin embargo, hay puntos brillantes en esta penumbra, siendo uno do los más conspicuos el reciente fuerte aumento en el precio de la plata; también el hecho de que los Estados Unidos van probablemente a comprar muy pronto en este país, 15,000,000 de onzas del mencionado metal. Como Méjico es el segundo productor de plata en el mundo, el alza actual va a tener un efecto benéfico en las principales fuentes de ingresos del país, y ya la situación financiera de la ciudad de Méjico comienza a dar señales de creciente firmeza.

La segunda circunstancia bonancible es el número extraordinariamente grande de pozos petroleros productivos que se han abierto últimamente, particularmente en la región de Tuxpan, Estado de Veracruz.

Los que estudian de cerca la presente situación han abandonado toda esperanza de que Méjico consiga ayuda financiera en los Estados Unidos antes de que suba el sucesor de Obregón. La última esperanza de ayuda de esa clase se desvaneció con la ida de Charles Beecher Warren para Cleveland, pues aunque el embajador nunca dijo que trabajaba en favor de un empréstito para Méjico, no hay duda de que sus buenos oficios estuvieron a la disposición del gobierno.

El Presidente Obregón se llevó consigo gran número de guardias presidenciales, y su famoso tren amarillo será enviado a la frontera americana para encontrarle a su regreso a la capital.

La conferencia interamericana sobre comunicaciones eléctricas, después de prolongadas sesiones preliminares, ha llegado al programa de trabajo efectivo. El vasto campo que tiene que abarcar la obliga a prolongar bastante su estancia en Méjico.

La convención bancaria, que lleva algunos meses de reuniones en Méjico, está para terminar sus labores. El principal resultado de sus deliberaciones ha sido un estudio comprensivo de las actuales leyes bancarias y de los remedios que se proponen en la forma de una nueva ley bancaria de consolidación. Como la conferencia ha trabajado en cabal armonía con el Ministro de Hacienda de Méjico, su proyecto de ley va a convertirse probablemente en ley tan luego como esté completo.

Se Recuperan Ocho de los Autos Robados por una Banda de Ladrones

Con cinco individuos puestos a buen recaudo en la cárcel de Venecia, y con ocho automóviles en un garage de un punto inaccesible de las montañas de Santa Monica, cree la policía de Venecia que ha quedado desorganizada una de las más grandes cuadrillas de ladrones de autos que se han organizado para operar en esa región.

El raid que le llevó a cabo en el montuoso retiro vino determinado por los informes que proporcionaron E. P. Hunt y Albert Fowler, que fueron detenidos hace dos días, acusados de robo de accesorios de automóviles. Se están identificando los coches, según manifiesta la policía, y parece resultar que todos fueron robados en esos lugares.

Los tres hombres a quienes hoy se echó el guante son, Robert Ludolph, Harry Smith y A. J. Tralno. Se les detuvó, dice la policía, basándose en informes dados por Hunt y Fowler.

Además de los coches, pudo rescatarse una gran cantidad de accesorios, dice la policía.

Los cinco hombres referidos están presos en la cárcel de Venecia, mientras allegan mayores datos los detectives Burnett y Fuller, que han abierto una indagación. A la policía de Los Angeles se le enviará una descripción de los reos, pues se esperan nuevas incidencias resultantes de la investigación que instruirá el departamento policíaco de aquí.

La Suerte de la Señora Willis en Manos del Jurado

Ayer a las 5 p.m., en la sala del Juez Superior Crail, se puso en manos de un jurado compuesto de ocho mujeres y cuatro hombres, el destino de la señora Margaret B. Willis, acusada del asesinato del doctor B. B. Baldwin.

En su último requisitorio, el Teniente Fiscal Hammer calificó el asesinato como "uno de los crímenes más nefandos de la historia de esta ciudad"; llamó a la señora Willis "asesino a sangre fría", y pidió un veredicto de asesinato en primer grado sin recomendación. De aceptar el jurado las conclusiones del Fiscal, la señora Willis tendrá que morir en la horca.

Durante la tremenda acusación, la señora Willis estuvo jugando con un ramillete de guisantes de olor, que de vez en cuando se llevaba a la nariz. Ninguna emoción se retrataba en su semblante. Harold, su hijo de trece años, estaba sentado a su lado.

CASE OF JUVENILES ON STAGE DISMISSED

BAY CITY THEATRICAL MEN WERE ACCUSED UNDER CHILD LABOR LAW

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, June 5.—Charges against P. F. Reed, owner of a vaudeville company, and Theodore Shore, manager of a local amusement resort, alleging they had violated the State child labor law in permitting two small children of Reed to perform at the resort, were dismissed today by Police Judge Frank Gafney.

Reed claimed he had endeavored to place the older child in school but had been informed it was too late in the year to enter a pupil. He also declared the younger child, aged 4, was too young for school. Witnesses, including the prosecuting attorney, testified the children's act was a proper one.

Reed and Shore were arrested at the instance of the State Labor Department.

BOBBED HAIR CAUSES STRIKE

Nurses in Training Deliver Ultimatum to School

Ousted Girl is Reinstated as Others Plan to Quit

Question of Discipline, Assert Hospital Officials

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PORT HURON (Mich.) June 5. Ten nurses of the training school of the Port Huron City Hospital, all with bobbed hair, are facing disciplinary action as a result of violating the training school rules in having their hair cut, it was learned.

The nurses won the first point in their controversy with hospital authorities over the question of bobbing their hair this week when nine of them informed the hospital superintendent that they were through with the training school unless the tenth, who had been discharged for bobbing her hair, was immediately reinstated. The bobbed haired nurse was put back on duty the same day.

Although all was quiet at the training school today, it was learned that those in charge of the training school were planning some disciplinary action in view of the fact that all of the ten girls who bobbed their hair had asked the superintendent of the hospital for permission to do it and had been refused.

DEPLORE STRIKE

"The disciplinary methods we use in our training school are the property of the institution and do not concern the public," said Miss Elizabeth White, who is in charge of the training school. Miss White added that she thought the action of the nurses in bobbing their hair was "an undignified procedure, all right for a labor union, which must strike to gain its ends, but unworthy of our profession."

After the ten nurses had been refused permission to bob their hair they held a meeting, it was learned today, and decided to take matters in their own hands, agreeing that if one of their number were punished by the hospital authorities by being asked to leave the training school all would quit. The serious shortage of nurses made it impossible to let all of the ten leave the training school, hospital authorities indicated, so some less serious form of punishment for all of them was decided upon. It is said that the punishment now being considered is to add three months to their training period.

MATTER OF DISCIPLINE

Hospital authorities do not regard the bobbing of hair as so serious a matter as the fact that they violated rules of the institution to do it, and had gone over the heads of the institution authorities to ask permission of the household superintendent and had been refused.

British Premier Forced to Defer Holidays Outing

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, June 5.—Prime Minister MacDonald, who had planned to go to Lossiemouth last night for the Whitsun Holidays, has postponed the trip until tomorrow on account of pressure of public business. The chief cause of the postponement is the debate on Friday in the House of Commons on the Canadian attitude toward the Lausanne Treaty. Canada has refused so far to ratify the treaty because Canada has had no part in the making of it.

It is understood the Imperial government insists that Canada was formally invited to be represented at the Lausanne Treaty commission, but privately informed the Imperial government that Canada would be relieved if she took no action as it was feared that the Turks would object on the score of overrepresentation of the British Premier. The same course is to be taken with all the Dominions of England.

ARIZONA MINE CASE NOW UP TO JUDGE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, June 5.—In the Supreme Court, after a day's argument, has been submitted the case of the Iron Cap Copper Company against the Arizona Commercial Mining Company. John P. Gray of Couer d'Alene, Idaho, represented the plaintiff and Edward F. McClennen of Boston the defendant. As was the case in the noted suit between the Tom Reed and United Eastern companies of Oatman, a large number of models and maps were presented in evidence. The Iron Cap had won a decision in the Superior Court of Gila county in its effort to clear title to veins now being worked within its side lines. The Arizona Commercial contended that the ore in dispute geologically had its vein apex on Commercial ground, though with admission that a geologic faulting had occurred, through which the continuity of the vein matter had been disturbed.

JAPANESE ACT TO FIX SHIPPING RATES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) June 5.—Shipping firms here were advised by cable today that the majority of the Japanese shipping firms that are not subsidized and do not have regular services operating, have decided to form a new conference to stabilize rates. This is the first time that tramp steamers have had a conference of this kind, and the experiment will be watched with much interest here.

Lumber rates on these tramps, as well as wheat rates from this coast to Japan, are to be governed by the rates applying on the regular liners.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BOBBY JONES AND MEHLHORN LEAD IN NATIONAL OPEN GOLF TOURNEY

AMATEUR AND PRO TIED WITH 147 STROKES EACH

Cyril Walker, One Stroke Behind, Is Third; MacDonald Smith in Tie for Fifth Place

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

DETROIT, June 5.—Bobby Jones of Atlanta, defending his title as national open golf champion, today made a fine effort to retain his crown by scoring 74-73—147, on the 6880-yard course of the Oakland Hills Club, and tying for first place with Bill Mehlhorn of St. Louis at the end of the first 36 holes of the championship tournament.

Cyril Walker of New York, with a pair of 74's, was only one stroke behind the leaders, while Bobby Cruickshank, who lost the play-off for the title to Jones last year, was tied with Dave Robertson of Detroit, while Walter Hagen of New York, and MacDonald Smith of San Francisco had 150.

It remained for Abe Espinosa of San Francisco, after a poor round of 81, to get a course record in competition for the present links, returning a tally of 34-37—71, one below par. This, with his 80 of the morning, gave him a total of 151.

WEST STARS

An improvement equally as startling as that of Espinosa was shown by James West of New York, who, after taking 81 strokes in the morning, chalked up a par 4 in the afternoon. This score included a spectacular eagle 2 on the 455-yard eighth hole.

Long Barasea of New York, holder of the title two years ago, turned in a record 33 on the first nine, but slumped to 41 on the second nine and took 80 for the afternoon round. This left him tied with such players as Chick Evans, Willie Hoffner, Joe Turnesa and Tony Loco.

Jesse Guilford, Boston, the only known amateur in the competition, got into trouble on the second hole and four penalty strokes gave him a 41. He improved his 80 of the forenoon round by shooting a 79 in the third round, but he took 81 in the afternoon round.

Another star performer of the morning who did not meet expectations was Joe Kirkwood, New Zealander, who after showing a fair game in the morning, slipped off to 81 in the afternoon.

Another disappointment to his followers was John Farrell of New York, who headed the eastern qualifiers with 144. The most spectacular split of the day was that of Jock Hutchison of Chicago, former British open champion, who required no fewer than 90 for the thirty-six holes.

There was a remarkably large entry for a medal play event, the paying admission to the Scores of the leaders and of Sarazen's record round:

Controversy arose today over Sarazen's score, the player contending that he had a three on the fourteenth, after the scorer had entered it in as a four. Sarazen's account would have given him 150 for the double round, instead of 79 for the second eighteen. The committee of the U.S.G.A., however, ruled that the score must stand, although they made no decision as to how many strokes Sarazen took on the hole.

Scores of western players were:
MacDonald Smith, San Francisco, 38-34-72—150.
Abe Espinosa, San Francisco, 34-37-71—151.
George Kerrigan, Los Angeles, 37-41-78—156.
Joe Novak, Berkeley, Cal., 41-39-80—161.
Richard Linares, Long Beach, Cal., 41-41-82—168.

With the date settled, Rickard said that all differences between himself and Firpo had been removed and that all that remained was the signing of the contracts. This, however, Rickard explained, would not be done until after the bout between Wills and Bartley Madden, now set for next Monday at the Queensboro stadium in Long Island City.

LIFT BAN ON ARENA FOR BOUT

Wills-Madden Go is on Definitely for Monday Night at Queensboro

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, June 5.—The fire department today notified the State Athletic Commission that it had approved in accordance with a resolution of the Board of Standards and Appeals, the application of the Queensboro Athletic Club to use the Queensboro Stadium on Jackson avenue, Long Island City for the staging of the Bartley Madden-Harry Wills boxing contest, which is scheduled to be held next Monday evening.

The approval was predicated on the decision of the Board of Appeals to which Simon Flaherty, owner of the club, had appealed two weeks ago, from the order of Fire Commissioner Drennan, who condemned the stadium as a fire hazard, because of its flimsy construction.

The stadium contains 75,000 square feet of wood built thirty feet apart and in the opinion of practical fire-fighters will make an enormous fire if it ever starts. The form of approval was forwarded to the State Athletic Commission by Capt. John J. McCarty, under orders of Fire Chief Kenlon. The Boxing Commission then issued a license to the Queensboro A.C.

Nationalista Wins by K.O. at L.A. Harbor

The bouts staged at the C.P.O. boxing arena last night at Los Angeles Harbor were by far the best and most sensational ever seen at the famous pavilion. The house was sold out at noon and there was standing room only when festivities began. In the main even Young Nationalista, flyweight champion of the Pacific Coast, won from Sailor Alki Akoi flyweight champion of all Navy by a technical knockout. The sailor was knocked through the ropes in the first round and when he crawled into the ring was on all fours to take the count.

Sailor George Etzell, all-Navy bantam won from Young Oaks. Oaks was about done for when the final gong sounded. In the special, Sailor Brett of the U.S.S. Oklahoma knocked out Battling Goody in the first round. Sailor Danny Toony of the U.S.S. Idaho won in four rounds from Young Vinett. Sailor Beza of the U.S.S. Aroostook won from Kid Tony. ## SERAPHS LOSE THIRD IN ROW

Sacramento Captures Tilt by 4-to-1 Score

Cruise's Homer Robs Hall of Shutout Win

Errors Give Senators All Four Markers

BY ROBERT E. RAY

The Angels took another one on the chin yesterday, losing their third straight game to Sacramento, 4 to 1. Walt Cruise's home run into the right field bleachers in the ninth saved the Angels from suffering a shutout and, incidentally, was the first earned run the locals have made off Sacramento pitchers this series.

Errors, one by Beck and two by Cruise, gave the Solons the game and robbed Doc Crandall of a victory he deserved. The Senators did not get an earned run off Crandall, boots being responsible for all four markers.

Arrayed against Crandall was another youngster, Charley Hall, who was pitching in the Coast loop when Noah first started gathering two-by-fours with which to build his ark. Hall served up a nasty brand of ball, holding the Seraphs to one hit up until the seventh. As it was, Hall only yielded five safeties. The Senators got six off Crandall in eight innings and none off Ramsey, who pitched the ninth.

PATRICK DISGUSTED

Something has got to be done about the Angels' lack of hitting power, but what, no one seems to know. Joe Patrick, prexy of the Los Angeles club, has gotten so disgusted with his team's showing that he has gone over to Catalina to try and recover his lost enthusiasm. Cruise has not looked so good at first base and it is possible that Krug will shift him back to the outfield and bring Durst in on first, where he played a bang-up last Sunday. Also, there's nothing to prevent Krug from using Whaley at third. This combination looked like the money against Salt Lake last Sunday, but has not been used against Sacramento.

Getting back to the game, McNeely, or rather Beck, started a two-run rally for the Senators in the first when the Angel shortstop messed up McNeely's ground ball. Kopp followed the boot with a single to left, sending McNeely to third, but was out trying to take second. Hemingway brought McNeely across with a single to left and took second on Siglin's infield out. Schang was safe at first on Cruise's error and Hemingway came home with the second unearned run of the inning.

NEW YORK, June 5.—The new six-meter yacht built at the Nevins yard, City Island, for Rear-Commodore Henry B. Plant, of the Pewanahaka-Corinthian Yacht Club was launched today and was named Natka. The new boat will be a candidate for the international team of American yachts of this type which will race against the British team for the British-American Cup, off Oyster Bay early in September.

The Natka was designed by Fred M. Hoyt, of this city and was the fourth of the new six meters to go overboard from the Nevins yard.

SERAPHS LOSE THIRD IN ROW

Cruise causing the damage. After Whaley had made a wonderful diving catch, at least it was ruled a catch by Umpire Casey despite Mollwitz's protestations that Whaley had scooped the ball up on the bounce, of Mollwitz's drive to center. Rohwer doubled to left center. Hall fouled to Jacobs. McNeely hit to Jacobs who threw to Cruise in time to get the Sacramento outfielder for the third out, but Cruise let the ball bounce out of his mitts and Rohwer took third. Then Kopp scored both runners with a single to left.

The first time the Angels even looked like they would score arrived in the eighth. Durst, who batted for Crandall, opened the home half of the inning with a single to right. Whaley flied to Kopp, but Twombly singled infield, putting two on and only one out. Krug then forced Twombly at second, Durst taking third, and Wally Hood ended the flurry by popping to Hemingway.

But the Angels weren't shut out, Cruise's drive, which just did drop into the bleachers, saved the locals from the disgrace of a whitewashing.

AGAIN TODAY

Despite any rumors to the contrary, the Angels will play the Senators again today. The probable pitchers will be Hughes or Canfield for Sacramento and either Myers or Payne for Los Angeles. Score:

Insignia Given Thirteen Men on Pomona Nine

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CLAREMONT, June 5.—Thirteen Sagehen baseballers have been awarded letters or additional insignia following the conference diamond season which closed for Pomona last Thursday afternoon. Four out of the thirteen were awarded stripes as second-year letter winners. Those who won insignia were Wiggins and Clark, catchers; Afook, Ovington and Vernon, outfielders; Holsinger, Jones, and Merritt, pitchers; Frater (captain,) first base; Beauchamp, second; Hutton Miller, third, and M. Miller and Worden, shortstop.

Of this number only three men will be lost to next year's squad by graduation, Capt. Rud Frater, U. S. Afook and Sid Beauchamp. Ten men will return as lettermen next fall besides a wealth of material coming up from the frosh team that recently closed a successful season under the coaching of Colvin Heath. Shaw and Maxson, will materially strengthen the pitching department, and both Jones and Holsinger are expected to improve over this season's form. Packard, frosh catcher, has great possibilities as a varsity man and promises to give Wiggins and Clark a run for a position behind the bat. Douglas Lowell, last year's star peagreen catcher, will also be eligible to play in 1925. Martin at first; McCormick, second sacker, and Spicer, shortstop, are three other yearlings who will make strong bids for varsity berths.

Welcome Toiler Track Stars at Manual Tonight

A gala night, with boxing and wrestling, plenty of action and a few short speeches, is carded for this evening at the Manual Arts High School Auditorium as a welcome home for the Toiler track stars, who took sixth place in the national interscholastic meet at Chicago ten days ago. The program is in charge of the Manual Alumni Association.

Sheriff William Traeger, Undersheriff Eugene Biscailuz, Robert S. Weaver, Coach Sid Foster and Capt. Lee Hansen will take the platform for short talks. Funds derived from tonight's event will be used to help defray the expenses of the team.

CITRUS UNION WINS FROSH CHAMPIONSHIP

The Citrus Union High School frosh baseball team won the championship of the Central League yesterday afternoon by trimming Alhambra, 8 to 4. The Citrus club had previously won over Glendale after the three teams had finished the regular schedule in a triple tie. The score:

| Citrus Union | 8 | 11 | 2 |
| Alhambra | 4 | 3 | 3 |

DICK HOPPE TO SCRAP FARREN

Championship Elimination Go at Legion Arena

Sailor Ashmore Meets Young Datto in Semi-windup

Frankie Nolan and Joe Dillon Also on Program

A championship elimination bout, which may disclose the eventual winner of the lightweight tournament for the Pacific Coast title now under way at Hollywood, is billed for the feature at the Legion arena tonight, with Dick Hoppe of Glendale, and Frankie Farren of San Francisco, the principals. Hoppe and Farren are two of the few survivors in the championship ranking of the schedule.

Early in the competition Hoppe was responsible for the elimination of Phil Salvadore, who was accorded by most of the critics the boxer with the best chance to cop the title and all the glory which will go with it. Farren only a few weeks ago eliminated another one of the favorites, Joe Schlocker, in a fast feature scrap.

Both boys are old-timers in the four-round game, are smart, box well, and can hit effectively with either hand. Its a toss-up as to which boy will win. Most of the fans, however, will no doubt string with Hoppe in that it's a case of a local boy pitted against an invader from the Bay City.

Another important elimination bout in the AA division is carded for the semi-windup. Sailor Ashmore, the one remaining boxer in this class accorded a chance to upset the dope and win his way to the final match, tackles Young Datto in this go. Ashmore is a dark-horse in every sense of the word, and although as awkward as they make 'em, has the stuff to make it tough for any opponent he may be asked to face.

Larry McGrath, pinch hitting for Matchmaker Tom Kennedy, during genial Tom's visit to New York, has lined up an attractive and well-balanced preliminary bill, featuring Frankie Nolan and Jockey Joe Dillon. Young Bello tackles Billy Young at 130 pounds; Red Uhlan and Harry Ritzer mix at 150 pounds; Sailor Fernandez with a record of fourteen consecutive knock-outs will try for his fifteenth, with Battling Ward the intended victim, and Eddie McAuliffe will open the show against Sailor Reed at 130 pounds.

CULVER IS READY FOR BIG RODEO

Lions' Club Also to Put on Auto Races Tomorrow and Sunday

With workmen yesterday finishing the alterations on the Culver City race plant, which have transformed the track into a modern automobile speedway, everything is in readiness for the big benefit rodeo and series of auto races to be staged there tomorrow and Sunday under the auspices of the Culver City Lions' Club. The festivities have been arranged in the interests of charity, and every cent of the net proceeds will go to the needy of Southern California.

The big doings are to get under way tomorrow at 1 o'clock with a series of five and ten-mile automobile and motorcycle races on schedule. The "Plantation Derby" an open ten-mile dash for automobiles is programed as the feature event, with Babe Stapp, Fred Frame, Earl Meyers and "Pop" Evans, all well-known local dirt track drivers, among the entrants. Lieut. W. T. Slater, a Culver City boy driving the "Little Joe Brady" Special, is the dark horse in this race.

A five-mile motorcycle match race, which brings together two of Culver City's motor cops, Jimmy Cain and Rex Servess, should furnish a world of thrills, according to Mayor C. V. Loop. This pair have been arguing as to their respective ability for months and plan to have it out in this grudge race tomorrow.

Immediatel following the auto races the rodeo end of the festivities will be launched, with trick riding, cowboy races, cowgirl races, fancy roping, and a bucking horse contest consuming the balance of the afternoon.

A halt will be called for dinner, and in the evening a program of eight boxing bouts will be staged, with many of Southern California's leading four-rounders on the card. Among the boxers are such boys as Kid Chile, Jimmy Darrah, Joe Medina and Young Farrell.

Three bouts between the three newsboy champions of Culver City and three of the Los Angeles champs conclude the series of fistic arguments, with "Freckles" of the "Our Gang Comedy" lot acting in the capacity of judge.

What Mayor Loop calls a pyrotechnic display, but what the layman would term a bunch of fireworks, will conclude tomorrow's events, with much the same sort of a program on for Sunday.

LITHOGRAPHERS PLAY BROTHERHOOD OUTFIT

The Western Lithograph baseball nine will play the Fraternal Brotherhood club at the Loyola College grounds Sunday afternoon. The Lithographers are now but one game behind the league leaders and by strengthening their team with Stanley at third they are now ready to put up a strong fight to cop the pennant. Parker is to pitch Sunday while Yorba will do the catching for the westerners.

Worthington, star second baseman, will be back in the line up after resting because of a sprained ankle. The Pacific league schedule is now on its last lap and some exciting finishes are looked for between the Western Lithograph Company, Fremont W.O.W., Willard Battery, Vernon Park Art Shop and Montebello teams.

OBSERVATIONS

Since Mr. Dempsey's personally conducted "slaughter of the innocents" out at Vernon the other night, discussion has been very free of the effect on the fight game locally of having three hopelessly outclassed individuals led to the chopping block to be slammed into insensibility by the champion. An awful lot of people who are really interested in boxing have made no secret of their belief that about one more such fracas would seriously injure the game locally.

It certainly is not a sight calculated to inspire lofty thoughts of the so-called "manly art" to see three men shoved into an arena with a regular man-eating tiger just to demonstrate what a murderous puncher he is. And it certainly didn't help matters any to see the victims wearing huge mattresses on their hands while Dempsey had regulation gloves with which to pummel them.

However, it is unreasonable to blame the management of the contest or Dempsey himself. Wad Wadhams was running wild all over the country trying to get somebody worth while for Dempsey to tackle. Dempsey didn't specify anybody—would just as soon have fought a top-notcher. Wadhams finally did get two supposedly good heavyweights from San Francisco, but they both refused to appear because they weren't assured that Dempsey wouldn't knock them out.

On Dempsey's behalf it must be said that in the first place Dempsey simply can't hit anybody in any way except hard. What's more, he wouldn't dare take a chance anyway. Ring ethics, sad to relate, are not such that Dempsey could trust anybody to come into the ring and "just box" with him.

It must be remembered that if one of those three bright young men had clouted him on the chi nand knocked him out he'd have lost his world's championship, and everything that goes with it just as completely as if he had been knocked out by Firpo or Carpentier in one of those fights where the champ was getting a quarter of a million for himself instead of just donating his services in a good cause as he was the other night.

Dempsey had one neat evidence of trusting somebody else in the ring early in his career when he shook hands with Jim Flynn up in Salt Lake City and while Jim shook his right hand he swung with his left and the present champion of the world sustained his only knockout. Dempsey doesn't trust anybody when he gets in the ring and he wouldn't know how to hit 'em easy if he wanted to.

The present heavyweight champion of the world has two physical assets which have won him the world's title and a huge fortune. They are, first, enormous strength, and second, marvelous speed. In addition to these two physical attributes, he has a mental attribute which has been of material assistance—an absolutely relentless and merciless ferocity.

All these attributes may not be pretty and aesthetic, but they have made Dempsey what he is today and they are a first-class indication of what Jack is going to do any time he steps into a ring. Outside the ring he seems quite different. He seems to be generous, rather retiring and inclined to mind his own business and ask others to do the same. But in the ring — every man for himself.

E. A. McGregor, hailing from Lindsay, drops a line giving a few additional suggestions of how Stanford might have won the I.C.A.A.A.A. track and field meet. In a P. S., he says, "Since writing the above, I have read with interest your article quoting 'Mickey' Reed on the same subject. Here you are—read it, Stanfordites, and weep:

220 yards—Pacific Coast Con., winning time, 1:56 3; I.C.A.A.A.A. winning time, 1:55 4. Daly of Stanford second. He probably made 1:56 2.

Conclusion: Daly would have taken 4th with 1 point.

High Hurdles—Pacific Coast Con. winning time, 15 3; I.C.A.A.A.A. winning time 15 2. Dole of S made this time.

Conclusion: Dole would have taken 4th with 1 point.

Pole vault—Pacific Coast Con. winning height, 12 9; I.C.A.A.A.A., 12 6, took second. Seofield (S.) tied for second. He probably did about 12 6.

Conclusion: Seofield would have tied with Dart, and U.P. for second. Points, 2 1-3.

Javelin—Pacific Coast Con. winning distance, 183 8. Won by Evers (S.) I.C.A.A.A.A., 184 8, took third.

Conclusion: Evers would have won third with 3 points.

This represents a total of 7 1-3 points that the Stanford men who competed at Eugene would have added to the Stanford score at Cambridge had they been there. Now! This added to Standford's score would have given them a total of 31 5-6 points. This would have easily won the I.C.A.A.A.A. meet!

CALIFORNIA PROSPECTS IN OLYMPIC GAMES DISCUSSED

BY BOYD COMSTOCK,

Former Coach University of Southern California and Yale University

The sprint situation has changed slightly during the last few months, but as yet we have no definite assurance that this will alter the old line-up. In the East we have Hill of Pennsylvania as the best of the collegians, whereas formerly this position was held by Clarke of Johns Hopkins. Hill's time practically eliminates all of the eastern collegians from the contending list, i.e., as contenders for first or second place honors. It is quite possible that Hill, Clarke and Bowman will make a serious bid for the team, and that one or more of that class will make the sprint or relay squad.

Woodring practically passed up the sprints last season, and must be considered as a quarter-miler. McAllister deserves no particular mention because of his absence from the game. Murchison's status is unchanged, and it seems probable that he will go in the tryout as the eastern home.

Hussey still remains as the dark horse of the eastern field. Many of the eastern experts persist in touting him as the next Olympic champion, although all of this optimism is based on his ability against schoolboy competition.

He will enter the tryout with the approval of the eastern coaches, and this means a great deal. He has a number of astute advisers, and it must be granted that they know their business. Ordinarily this sort of preliminary ballyhoo can be taken as hokum, but in view of the fact that his main supporters are not given to rash talk, it may be assumed that Hussey's campaign is based on real ability.

LACK KNOWLEDGE

Lacking any real knowledge of the other mentioned contenders, such as Goodwillie, it will be well to consider the sensational reports that recently came out of the Middle West. Most of this talk has found its origin in the camp of Coach Gill of the University of Illinois. The more recent dispatches come from the University of Michigan and the University of Iowa.

From the standpoint of time alone, Eric Wilson of Iowa looms up as Paddock's rival for 200 meters honors, with Evans of Illinois as the contender for the 100 meters race. The situation, however, is not as serious as the times indicate.

Last year Wilson defeated Clarke of Johns Hopkins in the 220 yards in the national collegiate, winning in 21 9-10s. At that time Clarke was at the top of his form. Clarke won the 100 from all of the best-known sprinters in the Middle West.

Wilson also won the Western Conference 220-yards championship in 21 1-5s., winning from Evans of Illinois. Wilson placed second in a 9 4-5 100.

In the national championships Wilson placed fourth in a 22 3-10s 220 (around one curve,) being outdistanced by Murchison, Lovejoy and Lochnicht. He gave evidence of being in shape by running a remarkably fast final lap in the mile relay. On his showing that day he qualified as a contender for 440 honors, and practically eliminated himself as a high place man in the sprints.

Evans is undoubtedly on the upgrade, although his past competitive efforts do not bear out the predictions from the Middle West. He won easily in the California-Illinois dual meet in 10s flat, and 21 3-5s. In this meet he appeared to particular advantage by reason of the lack of serious competition. Earlier in the year he placed fourth in a record-breaking indoor 50-yards sprint, being beaten by Ayres, his teammate, Wittman of Michigan (the conference 100-yards champion) and Hubbard of Michigan.

LITTLE TO CHOOSE

Evans appeared to advantage in the 1924 Drake relay sprint, winning from Irwin of Kansas and Locks of Nebraska in 10s. flat. According to reports there was little to choose between the first five runners and under these circumstances it is reasonable to assume that Evans was not running under wraps.

The status of the several western sprinters will be fairly well established in the 1924 Western Conference championships. Barring a sensational win in the two sprints, the present situation seems to be on a par with the 1923 middle western outlook. Irwin ran 9 4-5s. in the 1923 Drake relays, and Wittman of Michigan made the same time in the 1923 conference.

All of the men mentionad rank with Hill of Pennsylvania and the other eastern collegians who placed in the recent intercollegiates. The final ranking of the men under discussion is problematical and open to the usual upsets.

One of the most important points to be considered is the ability of the sprinters to hold their time ability throughout a series of heats, semifinals and finals. Many athletes appear to wonderful advantage in a single mach race, but fail under the stress of elimination heats. The eastern track men have an advantage in this respect, as most of the men in that section are accustomed to this sort of competition.

ROSSLYN HOTEL NINE ANNEXES BALL TITLE

Despite the fact that the Biltmore Hotel team imported a Coast League battery for the title game, the Rosslyn Hotel squad came through with a 6-to-5 victory and annexed the Hotel League championship in a game played yesterday at Downey Playgrounds. Frank Keck, Vernon twirler, and Johnny Zanic, Los Angeles backstop, were the Coasters imported for the title occasion. Tally and Kolby hurled for the winners. The Rosslyn nine bunched hits off Keck in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings to score all their six runs. Welsh featured for Rosslyn with four hits. Score:

EL MONTE NINE ON TOP

Sweetwater Is Defeated in Semifinal Game for Southern California Prep Baseball Title

Coach Bergstrom's fast El Monte High School nine went into the finals of the Southern California prep play-off yesterday afternoon by trimming Sweetwater, 9 to 1 at El Monte. The winners will meet Riverside High, conquerors of Santa Paula, in the near future for the title.

It was a case of too much Johnstone, the star El Monte hurler holding the Sweetwater hitters to three measly bingles, none of which were for extra bases. In the meantime his mates were slugging the offerings of Otis for a final total of eleven hits, concentrating their efforts in the third inning when five runs poured over the plate. Johnstone fanned eleven batters and himself got two hits.

The visitors hit only three balls out of the infield, and Martial, first sacker for the winners, had only six putouts. The score:

BAKERSFIELD GIRLS TAKE SECOND HONORS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, June 5.—Kern county Union High School girl athletes competing with schools representing the whole United States, won second honors in the national telegraphic meet held recently. Bakersfield amassed a total of 20 points by winning five second places and one third. The records have just been received by Miss Flora Demots.

The girls who were responsible for the good record of the local school were Ruth Hanning, who took second in the 60-yard hurdles and the hop, step and jump; Katherine Platt, who placed third in the high jump; Edith Chambles, who took second in the baseball throw for distance, and Alice Rutledge, who made second place in the basketball throw for distance. The other second place made by Bakersfield was in the 220-yard relay.

The sixteen schools who participated in the meet represented New York, New Jersey, New Hampshire, Connecticut and the remainder from schools in Northern and Southern California.

FRANKLIN IS AGAIN VICTOR ON COURT

Franklin High School's high-powered tennis team soundly walloped Lincoln's representatives yesterday in a match played at Sycamore Grove, winning by the lopsided count of 13 to 2. Franklin has a percentage of 1.000 in the City League standing.

CARDS LOSE

The Cardinals outhit the locals, 9 to 7, but could not bunch hits off Glazner when runs were needed. ## LOCAL OLYMPIC STARS DEPART

Art Forward of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, Johnny Powers of Occidental, Glen Graham and "Pump" Pomeroy of Caltech, Harry Smith of San Diego and Herschel Smith, Ken Grumbles and Charles Bickmore of U.S.C.

Nick Carter, star Occidental miler, who won the 1500-meter race in the local trials, at the last minute could not make the trip. He is laid up in bed. Arthur Seaman, the University of Arizona high jumper, will be picked up at Phoenix.

It begins to look as if the local athletes will have a tough time breaking into the coveted places in the trials. The failure of the Stanford and U.S.C. men in the intercollegiates indicates that all of the runners have their work cut out if they are to place among the first four. Daggs and Maxwell in the hurdles will have to step mighty fast. Crawford, the Iowa star, did 14.9 in the highs recently, which is traveling right along. Powers, if he runs as he did here, may fool some of the wise birds in the 400 meters. Grumbles and Pomeroy in the 400-meter hurdles don't stand much of a chance. Ivan Riley and Coulter having made phenomenal time of late. Eaton will be up against a flock of javelin heavers capable of 190ft. or better, while Bickmore, Smith and Graham will have to do some neat vaulting to place. Herschel Smith is accorded a good chance of surprising in the dashes.

PADDOCK IN FORM

Nixon said last night that two days ago Charles Paddock ran the 100 meters in 10.4 seconds, which equals his own record for this event. Not much wrong with the Pasadena flash apparently. What will he do when up against the much-touted Loren Murchison?

The men will stop off in Chicago long enough to go through one good workout there. They will arrive at Cambridge the day before the Friday heats.

Gregg Defeats Vernon Tigers in Easy Style

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SEATTLE (Wash.) June 5.—Vean Gregg, Indian southpaw, today hurled his mates to a 9-to-1 victory over Vernon in a fight for second place in the Pacific Coast League standings in a series here this week. Gregg allowed only four hits, struck out eight men and permitted but one man to pass first base, and that was on a home run by McDowell in the third inning.

Brady and Rohwer of the Indians also hit home runs. Brady's blow came in the first inning with lane on base, and Rohwer's clout finished the scoring of the game in the eighth with Lane ahead of him.

The Indians were tonight but one game behind Vernon for runner-up with San Francisco. Score:

BOXING BOUTS AT COMPTON TONIGHT

Matchmaker Barney Meyers is expecting a turn-away house tonight at Compton, when he puts on a ten-bout bill for the weekly fans at the usual prices. The show is for the benefit of Ray Coffey. Coffey is at present in the General Hospital following illness for several months. Many of the boys from the Central gym clamored for a chance to box on the bill as Coffey is popular with the fighters and managers. Victor Alexander and Sailor Jimmy Byrne top the card.

Byrne is the fleet heavy that many San Pedro fans are talking about. The U.S.S. California is Jimmy's home. Alexander still remains popular in Compton as an attraction. He trimmed Eddie Trebly in his last battle. Mack Spaw clashes with Roy Moore in the semi-wind-up. They will weigh around 145 pounds. Art Springer, hero of many a Vernon battle, will step with Pedro Villa in the special. That bout alone is a main-event attraction. The boys weigh 116 pounds.

Other bouts on the card are as follows: "Battling" Vargas vs. Danny Hererra, 120 pounds; Jimmy Walker vs. Young Alexander, 128 pounds; Rex Felix vs. Young Jolla, 145 pounds, and four other bouts that will be completed tonight.

DAILY MARKET LETTER OF THE NEW YORK COMMERCIAL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, June 5.—The seasonal dullness in dried fruits is more apparent with settled weather. Lack of new offerings and a general apathetic attitude on the part of buyers have contributed to the present lull. The movement of California prunes was somewhat accelerated during trading of today. The demand was spasmodic and followed largely to 30-40-50c with a few choice sizes the largest buying. A continued movement of fruit into distributing channels is noted. Package lines are short and well seeded and seedless on the up. There is no change in the situation with respect to apricots and prices continue short in wanted sizes and high and firm in all.

The movement of canned foods continues to be deceptive because of the volume of small orders and the apparent lack of block buying of any quarter.

CANNED PRODUCTS

Some attention is being given to canned vegetables in spite of definite quotations of late packs and the probability of heavy percentages of standard qualities in such important lines as peas, spot some of which represent quantities hardly sufficient to meet the average requirement of the period between the present and new pack periods.

Offerings of standard cling peaches represent extremely limited assortments of Tuscans and other varieties which are hardly available for the eastern markets. Prices on 1923 packs from second hands are on the basis of $3 to $3.10 according to quality and count and a firm feeling exists among holders. Pears are scarce and rather firm.

Maine sardines continue to show weakness. Pink salmon is also held on the Coast at $1.25 and local offerings are on the basis of $1.35.

SUGAR MARKET

The sharp decline in sugar futures on Wednesday had its effect upon the raw market and took much of the life out of 10,000 bags of Cuban for June shipment were sold to the National at 3 cents and freight equivalent to Cuba, duty paid. The lowest price at which raw sugar has been sold for nearly two years. This was followed shortly afterward by another of 7000 bags for June and first half July shipment at the same price. By the tone of the futures market has improved under a stream of buying orders.

The talk of the new business in front of late fell to the Federal 10 points under the other refiners who today made a move to meet the National, Atkins and Warner met the new price but Arbuckles went 10 cents lower. The others followed suit at the close all the refiners with the Federal were upon a parity basis. The latter then ordered a reduction to 6.35 for assorted sugar and 6.30 for Dutch. Brokers had been holding off expecting this cut and it is said to have been quite a business done at the low figure.

The new futures market closed with advances of from $ to 1 point. At one time the trend was downward but shorts began to cover on the low points that had been touched.

Sales closed at 3.10 cents; July, May 3.08, July 3.18, Sept. 3.24, September 3.33 and Dec. 3.31.

COFFEE AND TEA

Weakness in coffee futures was due to Brazilian cables were lower, Santos closing at 13 5/16 for June or at 75 milreis for July and $550 or 225 milreis for September and August at 31 milreis down.

The market remains quiet. The position of congous in the market is out of alignment with the local conditions in the Far East the price is materially strengthened while the local market teas are selling from 1 to 3 cents below the new crop prices. Japan has been moving fairly well.

The market for rice is firm in tone but buyers seem to be but little interested in the statistical position which appears favorable for later, on presuming that consumption maintains the present power of absorption.

Cables from the Orient have been firm also and point to a smaller output this year in Burma and Java.

The market showed much activity. The demand has increased and with moderate offerings the pressure to sell under grades conditions has been quite favorable to the buyer. At the close most of the sales were at 40½ cents.

There was a steady to firm tone to all grades and packings, but there were no attempts made to advance prices.

There were one car refrigerator sale December 31 3-4 cents and two cars at 31 7-8 cents.

METAL MARKET

The copper market was strongly inclined to firmness in demand and prices with reports of sales at 13 cents and even as high as 13 1-4 cents. However, there were those who were still quoting at 12 3-4 cents a pound at the close. London was firmer and advanced 10s per ton or £2 6d for spot and to £63 15s for future while electrolytic was unchanged at 70 cents, and has hardened at 14 cents a pound, St. Louis. In the spot advanced to 7s 6d per ton or £4 and futures registered a gain of 5s at £29 5s.

Tin declined 10 points and is unchanged at 45.55 cents, St. Louis, and has hardened at 45 cents from 7 3-4 to 8 1-4 cents. The advance in the Straits and prices there is a gain of 12s 6d with both spot and futures quoted at £31 10s.

Lead is continued. Prices are about ½ cent a pound. All deliveries and positions in Straits and straits shipments closed at 42 cents a pound. London cables standard spot as advancing £214 15s; futures £3 7s 6d to £214 12s 6d and straits £3 to £218 5s. The Far Eastern market registered a gain of £3 with straits in Singapore closing at £213 10s, c.i.f. London.

STANDARD CUTS PRICE

The Standard Oil Company of New York has reduced the tank wagon price of gasoline 1½ cents a gallon at Buffalo to 16½ cents. This cut was made to meet local competition from small refiners and distributors, who have been going after business aggressively by offering liberal concessions. The service stations in Western New York now charge 18 to 19 cents a gallon, according to retail distributors. This compares with a price of 23 to 24 cents that consumers are paying in Greater New York. South Dakota has entered the retail gasoline business by selling gasoline for 18 cents a gallon at stations established by the State Highway Commission.

Trading in bonds again centered in Liberties, where no fewer than six issues touched new highs for 1924. The Treasury 4s and the tax-exempt 3½s were among the issues which made new records. All issues which did not break through to new 1924 figures equaled their best marks. The new marks were made without any very great amount of buying. Gilt-edged corporation bonds were also higher, but the greatest amount of activity outside of the government obligations was in the more speculative railroad bonds, which moved fractionally into better ground. Foreign governments were relatively dull, with prices steady.

Pan-American Report Shows Favorable Year

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, June 5.—Consolidated net profits of $20,352,387, equivalent to $8 a share on average stock outstanding in 1923 was reported today by the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company, of which E. L. Doheny is chairman. The earnings represented a decrease of 33 1-3 per cent, or $11,223,449 from the preceding year.

Inventories for 1923, the company's annual report noted, increased from $10,713,945 in 1922 to $20,473,197; while the current assets, inclusive of a loan to and deposit with the Mexican government amounted to $46,117,160, or about three times the bonded and mortgaged debt of the company.

More than $21,000,000 was spent during the year for refineries, pipe lines and other additions to the capital account, one-half of which was spent in California and two-thirds in the United States. The actual value of inventories of petroleum, the report said, was about $29,500,000.

The company produced about 40,000,000 barrels of crude oil during the year.

Net profits for the year of the Mexican Petroleum Company, and owned companies of which the Pan-American Company owns about 97 per cent, according to the report were $11,088,287, leaving a surplus of $46,657,967.

Directors of the Pan-American Company at a recent meeting were reported to have considered an increase in the dividend which was reduced from an $8 annual basis to $4 in the first quarter of this year. This report was given color by Mr. Doheny's statement to stockholders that the benifits of an increase of $9,000,000 in the market value of oil stocks actually would be realized as soon as present plans were consummated, and extensions completed.

COTTON FUTURES IN MARKED RECESSION

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, June 5.—Cotton futures again declined heavily in today's trading, heavy liquidation of the July option by several prominent spot houses and brokers with Liverpool and London connections being the governing factor. With the exception of July the market started moderately higher on the cables and unfavorable weather. Bearish professionals, however, had the advantage of the pool trade operators and better foreign demand for actual cotton in Liverpool and they brought about a reaction soon after the opening.

On the way down some support was met, but July acted as a drag on the other months and in mid-afternoon was down $3.50 a bale on the day and off $12 from Monday's high, the remainder of the market was off about 20 points. In the last hour pressure was lifted somewhat and July came back to close 32 points net lower and other months 3 to 4 points net higher.

Spot cotton closed at 25.55, off 130 points, and a recession of 2 3-4 in two days.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—The Pacific Gas and Electric Company today declared the regular quarterly dividend of $2 a share on the company's common stock, payable June 15. ## WOOL MARKET

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BOSTON (Mass.) June 5.—The wool market in general has not shown any material change throughout the week, according to the Department of Agriculture. Some trading is in progress, but mostly to the advantage of the buyer. There seems to be a slight easing tendency in both fleece and territory wools, also in several lines of foreign stock. Fulled wools are showing some activity. Foreign wools are slow, some small lots among the various lines have moved to the mills during the week.

These sales included low scoured wools and some average fleece and territory stock actually scheduled in price. Also a small lot of average 12-months Texas was also included on a basis of $1.25 per cleaned pound. Some of the sales have been made in bond. Generally business has been more quiet for the past week than at any time during the season.

During the past week territory market has been the center of interest locally for the past several days. While many of the sales in the markets have been of an easing tendency, Texas wools purchased during the week have been a little firmer in priced Eastern Montana wools have been purchased for 58 cents per pound at country points and shipped in the western section of the State have sold for 59 cents, which would mean from 42 to 44 cents per pound landed in the Boston market, or $1.05 to $1.10 per scoured pound based on an estimated shrinkage of 60 per cent.

These figures are from 3 to 4 cents per pound lower than the same wools sold for early in the season. At Pilot Rock, Or., 200,000 pounds of good to choice wools are scheduled for a sealed bid sale today. Some volume in Indiana 1-4 blood stock has been offered at 70 to 80 cents clean, in that State. It is understood that at Kerrville, Tex., the Ohio and Texas 12-months wools totaling about 600,000 pounds scheduled for sale today have been disposed of at private sale. The Curtiss group of eight-months stock will be offered as a school at Harrison two-thirds of the wools offered were withdrawn.

The worsted business is still dragy but the manufacturers hope for improvement in July, although the knitters are quiet, some orders for fall delivery have been booked and the manufacturers say that a little better feeling is noticeable among the trade, in particular the woolen branch of the industry. The export of foreign wools still continues from this port. The volume, however, is much less. For the week ending May 24, 100,500 pounds in round numbers of grease wool were cleared for export and 22,500 pounds in round numbers of noils which included mohair, camel's hair and alpaca. The greasy wools were of South American origin entirely.

Average quotations on the better class of fleece wools similar to Ohio and Pennsylvania (grease):

|---|---|
| Fine strictly combing | 1.52 |
| Fine French combing | .43-.44 |
| Fine clothing | .40-.41 |
| Half blood strictly combing | .46 |
| Half blood French combing | None |
| Half blood clothing | .44-.45 |
| Three-eighths blood strictly combing | .50 |
| Three-eighths blood clothing | .44-.45 |
| Quarter blood strictly combing | .46-.47 |
| Quarter blood clothing | .44 |
| Low quarter blood strictly combing | .44 |
| Common and braid | .40-.41 |

Note: The better class of Michigan, York, Wisconsin and Missouri wool 1 to 2 cents less. Kentucky and similar wool 2 to 5 cents higher, depending on the particular lot offered. The above quotations depend to some extent on the individual lots.

DOMESTIC WOOLS: Fleece: Fleece wools are very slow and draggy. Stocks in various amounts have been available for the past few days at a slightly lower figure. Fine delaines and half blood similar to Ohio and Pennsylvania sold at 50 cents per pound. Three-eighths blood at 50 cents and quarter blood at 47 cents. Clothing wools are also showing some recession in prices. Several of the grades have been available around 2 cents less. Some volume of quarter blood stock has been offered in the Middle West at 44 cents.

DOMESTIC WOOLS: Territory: Staple wools in small amounts are being picked up by the mills in a few instances have shown a recession in prices. In some cases on fine which offers had been refused are now available at about 5 cents per pound less.

RANGE OF WOOL PRICES AT BOSTON

| Grade and Length | Fleece Per Pound | Scoured Basis Territory Per Pound |
|---|---|---|
| Fine strictly combing | $1.25-$1.35 | $1.15-$1.25 |

| Common and braid | .65- .68 | .65- .68 |

FOREIGN WOOLS: The market for foreign wools is very slow. Some of the stock which could be exported at a profit seems to have been disposed of. Foreign primary markets are showing a slight easing tendency. In some instances, due to this fact, wools consigned abroad from this market are being held.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

YOSEMITE LODGE, June 5.—Henry M. Robinson, president of the First National Bank of Los Angeles, and one of the authors of the Dawes reparations plan, appealed here this evening in an address before the annual convention of the California Bankers' Association on "Our Foreign Relations" for a fuller contribution to the problems of the world of whatever the American nation may have of practical ingenuity and organizing ability.

HENRY M. ROBINSON

"We should enter," he told his audience, "into negotiations with other nations on the basis, primarily, of self-protection, but with the full knowledge that our advantage lies in improving the condition of the world. Whatever we have of what we like to call horse sense should be contributed to bring about a situation which, in turn, will return to us many fold what we have given."

He prefaced the discussion of his subject proper with a succinct outline of the outstanding reasons for consideration of foreign relations at this time. Chief among these reasons he pointed out the ever-growing interest in questions involved in the tremendous accumulations of gold in this country, and the ever-increasing number of those who consider that this great hoard of gold may finally prove a menace.

"The old advice to the individual, 'In the days of thy strength be humble,' applies with equal force to a nation," Mr. Robinson declared. "The rules that govern envy, jealousy and hatred of an individual, apply in the case of nations. We all know that an individual of outstanding strength, power and ability is envied and hated and the hatred is often malicious. It is the delight of the small and envious soul, who has less strength and less effectiveness, to attack the greater. This rule applies with equal strength in the family of nations.

"Today a combination of the less fortunate nations, based to a degree at least on envy and hatred, coupled with their needs for the things we have, could result in a combination of effort to reduce our advantage and advantageous position, and I submit that isolation is not the way to meet such a movement.

AMERICAN NEGLECT

"This very strength of ours, when combined with our optimistic outlook, and the wide gaps in our knowledge, experience and education, has resulted in the neglecting and overlooking our own position insofar as it relates to our foreign relations. To quote Lord Bryce—'The thing most needed by the people and their representatives is more knowledge of the facts and of the outside world, with a more sympathetic comprehension of the minds of other peoples.' We all recognize the fact that but a limited amount of information relating to foreign affairs, even as our interest might appear, filters through our newspapers and periodicals.

"We have come to a time when all the nations with whom our relations are to be important—for all the purposes of this discussion—are democracies. We have come to a time when the democracies propose to supervise their governments in all questions involved in foreign affairs. It remains to be seen whether the people of a democracy are to be swayed by intelligent self interest, or by appeals and prejudices made by those who desire to obtain or retain office. The only protection for a democracy which proposes to supervise foreign affairs is to have some knowledge of the facts involved, and this will not be accomplished by the simple method of isolation. The methods by which our outstanding advantages can be lessened are doubtless many and we may be sure that the weak spots in our armor will be found.

"Involved in the question of whether international business shall be done on a sterling or a dollar basis, or whether both could be on a convertible gold basis, with advantage to all, is one of the questions which may prove of serious moment, unless it is met with courage and intelligence. It is useless to state an obvious platitude, that we have come to the end of one era and are starting on another.

"As a people, we have not yet learned to think nationally and objectively in questions of our national interest and national position with relation to the rest of the world. Until quite recently there has been no especial need that we should consider such relationship, as we were within our own boundaries, with unlimited resources. But the shifts of the war, and the years just before, leave us where sooner or later a new orientation, fundamental and perhaps decisive, will be made in our national existence.

"Apparently, we have not endeavored to objectively adapt ourselves to our new situation and have listened to the politicians, most of whom have had no acquaintance with the facts, figures or problems involved, except for limited excursions into foreign countries. Too many of our leaders like to solve our problems working entirely in a vacuum, without facts or figures and using altogether their own personal assumptions.

"We can hardly expect to maintain our economic and political, and if you please—moral—position in the world on the basis of isolation. If we are to attempt to protect ourselves, it is obvious that we must learn, as rapidly as possible, the fundamental things that will put us in a position where we can give proper consideration to all problems in order to protect ourselves against attacks of other nations, either singly or in groups. It is quite possible that with greater knowledge and with more thorough consideration of international problems, the timidity we now feel, although we do not own it, may change to the type of courage that would work advantageously to ourselves primarily and to the advantage of the rest of the world as a collateral result."

The afternoon session was given over almost entirely to this routine. Tonight the Robinson analysis of our foreign relations which was awaited with keen interest was preceded by scheduled papers by W. E. Wilcox of San Francisco, who is chairman of the special committee appointed to administer the foot-and-mouth disease fund; W. T. Dinsmore of Riverside, who made an interesting report of the agricultural conference which was held at Davis on Monday; Charles H. Wright of Santa Paula, "Farm Accounting by Banks;" H. Parker Holt, Stockton, "The Tractor as an Economic Factor," and Charles Duncan of San Francisco, "Humanizing the Bank."

Many of the delegates have scattered to take advantage of the scenic trips and the thoughts of others have turned toward the golf links at Wawona. To encourage this original research no morning sessions are held, the important features being scheduled for the evening. Most of the contentions have, by this time, been ironed out and the convention is proceeding smoothly upon its way. Delegates are delighted with the facilities and courtesies arranged by the Yosemite Lodge and the transportation company. There has been an absence of formal social functions, and officers agree that a better opportunity has been afforded for real co-operative work and intimate discussion than ever before.

BRANCH BANK DISCUSSION

While the independent bank controversy made a slight rift in the lute the debate upon an issue so sharply drawn has been for the most part sane and temperate and while the factions have been unable to find a common meeting place the differences have been discussed largely upon academic grounds. The McFadden bill is doomed; at least for this session of Congress. The news came to L. M. Maynard of Los Angeles today and proved a serious blow to the independent bankers' group who had based their campaign and hopes upon the adanvtages they expected to derive from the operation of this act limiting branch bank extension.

Mr. Maynard's information is that the bill will lie over in both houses until next session by reason of the refusal of farmer members to let it come up in the House because of their disappointment over the failure of agricultural relief legislation.

In pursuance to his statement to me yesterday that he "was here for a good time and not to talk politics or business," Gov. Richardson was up with the widely-quoted lark this morning and shortly after sunrise mounted the hurricane deck of a husky looking peak climbing mule and started for Glacier Point. The mule looked decidedly peeved about something when the party returned late this afternoon, but the Governor said it was a great trip. President Carr, who is a Yosemite enthusiast, has gone back to David to find suitable language to describe what the party felt and has caused to be printed in the official program the Psalm beginning, "The heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmanent showeth his handwork."

A delegate from San Francisco asked Mr. Carr for David's last name. He said he wanted to write him a card of thanks.

OPTIMISTIC ADDRESS

The session was featured by the address of Jay D. Rising, vice-president of National Park Bank, New York on "The Business Outlook." This financier's outlook is optimistic. Better business, he said, depends to a large extent upon the stabilized and easy flow of commodities through foreign trade channels co-operative marketing, constant and fresh credit information, broader demand and improved economic conditions.

"Ideals," the speaker asserted, "are more than something at which to aim; they must be sought, gained and held."

Co-operation was the keynote of the talk, a splendid tonic for troubled conditions.

The protective committee reported that during the year 310 crimes against banks in California had been perpetrated entailing losses aggregating $289,216 of which $57,085 had been recovered, the entire amount being fully covered by insurance.

On the report for Group Five, which includes Los Angeles county, W. A. Kennedy, Pomona, chairman said, in part: "The Escrow Indians are not quite as active as they were, but there are a lot of them left and they will remain and be good citizens. Crop outlooks and business conditions are good. Bank clearings daily threaten the figures emanating from San Francisco. Industry is finding that Southern California is a healthy place for industrial growth and is taking advantage of the fact. The foot-and-mouth disease no longer halts the feet of fisherman or stops their mouths. We have been a little short of water, but we shall not go thirsty. The white spot is still white, and so are all the little white spots. We are doing very well, roots and branches."

Nearly 100 belated delegates arrived today. Mr. Robinson was the center of interest among the newcomers. Those not in attendance upon the convention participated in the informal receptions and other functions at the lodge.

Slow Trading

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BOSTON, June 5.—The wool market continues slow and draggy. However some houses seem to have decided that it is time to accumulate stock of the raw product. This movement seems to be with the idea of being prepared for developments in the market for finished goods. Buying both of fleece and territory wool is in progress at considerably below last year's prices.

MARKET FLASHES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, June 5.—Stocks irregular; rail shares strong; West Penn jumps 10 points.

BUSINESS NEWS

TRADE REVIEW

Bradstreet's weekly review of trade conditions in Los Angeles says:

"Business appears to make slight gains in some essential lines, but on the whole, is only fair and still remains below a year ago. Convention of General Federation of Women's Clubs in session and retail stores in downtown section report business fairly good. Outside territory continues slow. Shoe trade reports novelty shoes in good demand and staple numbers moving fairly well. A slight price increase is felt.

"The furniture trade reports only limited demand and the belief is that prospects will not be good until fall. Wholesale dry goods trade reports sales below a year ago, in some cases 6 to 10 per cent less. Collections lagging, with improvement over April. Lumber sales behind last year and collections likewise slow. Employment is less and building operations are confined to those projects already planned. Demand for real estate slow with a decline in improved realty outside of the so-called downtown section.

"Exports for May totaled $5,352,000, an increase of over $2,500,000 over 1923. Imports in May were $2,420,000 compared with $2,275,000 last year. Postal receipts for May showed an increase of $63,000 over last year. Crops and weather good. Receipts are large and prices to growers weaker than last week."

EARL FRUIT ELECTION

Net total earnings of the Earl Fruit Company for 1923 before Federal taxes and bond interest were $710,772.38, or 2.9 times the amount required for bond interest, according to Hunter, Dulin & Co. President Joseph Di Giorgio reports that operations were satisfactory, and that business in the first five months of 1924 presages a favorable twelve months.

In his statement at the annual meeting, President Di Giorgio stated that his predictions for the present year were based on the fact that the eastern markets are in a healthy condition and that the canners are going to pay more for pears and peaches this year than last as they are well cleaned up on these commodities. The Federal quarantine embargo placed on importations of Almeria grapes from Spain will also have a stimulating effect on the malaga grape market. As far as black varieties are concerned, the advance sales are from $15 to $30 per ton higher than at this time last year.

Directors elected at the annual meeting include Joseph Di Giorgio, president; Roland Fontana, vice-president; S. A. Lines, vice-president and general manager; Ray Rippey, vice-president and assistant general manager; A. P. Overhouse, secretary-treasurer; Harry J. Bauer, and E. S. Dulin. The new directors are Roland Fontana, of the Fontana Food Products Company, Harry J. Bauer, president of the Pacific Gasoline Company, and the Delano Land Company, and E. S. Dulin of Hunter, Dulin & Co.

RAIL BONDS SOLD

Investors quickly absorbed yesterday an issue of $1,000,000 Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio Railroad 5 per cent equipment trust certificates offered by Blair & Co., Inc., at prices to yield from 4 to 5.25 per cent, according to maturity. The certificates are issued under the Philadelphia plan, and were marketed without the assistance of a banking group.

Blair & Co., also report that approximately one-third of the $11,433,000 City of Los Angeles bonds offered yesterday had been sold up to a late hour in the afternoon.

CHAFFEY ELECTED

Andrew M. Chaffey, president of the California Bank, was yesterday chosen a director of the Mortgage Guarantee Company.

DEPRESSION HANGS OVER STEEL TRADE

Buying Demand Begins to Recover as Prices Touch Low Levels

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CLEVELAND (O.) June 5.—"General sluggishness still dominates the iron and steel situation, but this is being modified by some signs of stimulated interest as the decline of prices and production becomes more sharply extended," says Iron Trade. "This week a noticeable betterment has been apparent in inquiries and new undertakings in structural steel. Tube mills are able to maintain operation 20 per cent above other finished lines.

"The awakening of the pig-iron market has become more pronounced, with recovery held back. The gap between mill shipments and new business is keeping up, this indicating that either buyers have little to place at present or are unwilling to commit themselves. The average deliveries of the Steel Corporation have been running thirty-six to thirty-seven tons daily, and new bookings of about 25,000 tons.

"The month of May added further to the net loss of forty-six active blast furnaces, making the total decrease in the past two months eighty-one stacks. This is the heaviest fall in furnace operations in any similar period since the 1921 depression. The average daily production of pig iron in May fell 21 per cent from April to 84,879 tons. This is the lowest figure in eighteen months. The average daily loss of 22,658 tons was the greatest in history and only slightly exceeding that of the steel strike of 1919. The total production for the month was 2,631,248 tons, a loss of 594,859 tons. Sufficient time has not elapsed to test the market influence of the firmer policy on finished-steel prices now being pursued by the leading producers, including the Steel Corporation.

"Slow business conditions undoubtedly have been a factor influencing the organized sheet tin plate workers to yield on their demand for wage increases averaging 25 per cent in the new yearly agreement dating July 1. Conservative counsels dominated the conference of representatives of the men and the manufacturers this week, in which the new agreement was negotiated on the same basis as the expiring year's scale.

Practically all of the coal and coke producers, excepting the Frick and Raney interests in the Connellsville district, continue to bring down their wage rates to the 1917 basis.

"East Russia has placed orders for 75,000 boxes of tin plate and Cuba has placed orders for 5000 tons of rails with the Steel Corporation. In structural steel awards to this week have increased to 22,544 tons. Inquiries are heavier, totaling about 13,000 tons. The revival of interest in pig iron has broadened to an extent that proclaims a buying movement of substantial proportions."

The Iron Trade composite of fourteen leading iron and steel products this week was $40.84, compared with $41.14 one week ago and $41.22 two weeks ago.

Enlightened Self Interest

Which Yields 7% and 7½%

MUCH that passes for philanthropy is, in reality, the indirect result of enlightened self interest. But the result of this enlightened self interest may be most benevolent in its effect.

The man who buys Street Improvement Bonds is directly interested in providing himself with a superior investment, but the indirect result of his self interest is the promotion of the material welfare of the city by financing the paving of her streets.

Absolutely the only means for financing street improvements is through the sale of Street Improvement Bonds. There is no other way provided by law.

An investment which is a first lien on a specific piece of property for a very small fraction of its value, taking precedence over all possible claims except general taxes, and which bears 7% and 7½% interest with complete tax exemption is obviously a desirable investment.

An investment which makes possible the financing of a city's street paving is a benefit to the city as well as an advantage to the investor.

BOND QUOTATIONS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, June 5.—A broad buying movement for the United States government obligations, which carried six active Liberty and Treasury issues to year's highest levels and most of them to new high records, today reflected employment of the huge surplus of funds in this market. The slackness of money also was measured by a drop in the rate for call funds to 2½ per cent and the ease of time loans. With the supply of high-grade liens depleted by recent investment purchasing, buyers today turned to speculative mortgages. Issues of the western railroads achieved unusual popularity and on gains of one to two points many of them set new high records for the year. Western Pacific 6s and Chicago and Alton 5½s each jumped two points.

Advances in the Liberty issues ranged from one to 7-32nds.

Following are closing quotations on bonds listed on the New York Stock Exchange, furnished by Logan & Bryan, 630 South Spring street.

AMERICAN MONEY SAFE

Southern Pacific Official Believes Present Mexican Government Will Endure; Business Good

That the present government of Mexico is a stable one and will assure protection and encouragement to American capital invested in the development of the natural resources of that country is the opinion of V. W. Bennett, industrial agent of the Southern Pacific of Mexico, who arrived here yesterday from a survey of the West Coast in conjunction with the $15,000,000 construction and improvement of 110 miles of standard gauge track from Tepic, on the Gulf of San Blas, to La Quemada east of the coastal mountains.

"It seems to be the concensus of opinion that although the Mexican revolution which broke out in December of last year, was well organized and financed, it was energetically put down and this was the first revolution that ever failed in Mexico despite the saying among Mexicans that rebellions always win," said Mr. Bennett.

"The Southern Pacific is well informed as to the prospect of continued peaceable conditions in Mexico and in this connection I might point out that the company has sufficient faith to be actively engaged in the construction of the 110 miles of connecting line between Tepic City and the northern terminus of its line now operating out of Guadalajara. In addition to this it is reconstructing the branch lines in Sonora as well as placing permanent bridges, ballasting, erecting new buildings on the main line, all of which means an outlay of approximately $15,000,000. In making this outlay the Southern Pacific is showing its absolute confidence in the present government and the future of the country as well.

INVESTMENT PERMANENT

"When the United States government recognized the Mexican government it did not commit itself irretrievably. Recognition can be withdrawn but the investment being made by the Southern Pacific is obviously a permanent one and demonstrates confidence in the future of Mexico.

"The Southern Pacific of Mexico is not concerned in furthering the interests of any particular property or district of the West Coast. It is interested in the conservative development of the entire territory contributary to its lines. The company has in its files listings of agricultural properties of all descriptions and ranging in size from twenty to 100,000 acres. These are distributed through the States of Sonora, Sinaloa and Nayarit.

"Investors should bear in mind that soil that would be good farming land in Iowa may be nothing but desert land in some parts of Mexico because of a lack of water. It is true that there are millions of acres of desert land in Mexico that will ultimately be reclaimed but there are also other millions of acres located along large streams and rivers where irrigating is actually being done or is entirely feasible. In the States of Sinaloa, Nayarit and Jalisco there are large tracts of land where the rainfall is ample for all agricultural purposes.

ACREAGE AVAILABLE

"There are thousands of acres of land that with water available should become agricultural lands and which may now be purchased at from 50 cents to $1 per acre.

"In the lower Fuerte River Valley, Sinaloa, there are approximately 30,000 acres already in cultivation. These lands produce sugar cane, alfalfa, winter vegetables and other crops in abundance. Tomato and vegetable crops shipped from the Fuerta River Valley, Los Mauches and vicinity during the season just past will bring over $1,000,000 American money into the valley this year. Most of the settlers in the valley are Americans.

"In the Culiacan Valley, Sinaloa, there are nearly 20,000 acres under cultivation. This valley is irrigated by two gravity canals now in successful operation. One is operated privately and the other was built and is operated by the government.

"The season just closing is the most successful one ever experienced by the winter vegetable growers on the West Coast. Even though the early plantings of tomatoes were lost, due to unusually late rains, shipments for the season will probably exceed 2600 cars.

ITALIANS COLONIZE

"A group of 150 Italian immigrants landed May 21 at Vera Cruz, Mexico, en route to the Culiacan Valley in Sinaloa, where they will settle on lands owned by the Alameda Sugar Company. An additional 100 persons from Italy will join the first group to establish a colony which will be gradually increased to the needs and opportunities of the extended land development. This company has 40,000 acres of excellent land, all of which will be settled by Italians.

"Premier Mussolini as a representative of the Italian government is personally interested in this colonization project and it is understood that it has his approval. There are other large tracts in this valley being developed by American interests and being colonized by Americans. In Yaqui Valley, Sonora, there are 45,000 acres of cultivated and irrigated land operated by American owners. These lands produce abundant crops of alfalfa, rice, wheat, cotton and deciduous fruits. There are other large tracts on the West Coast which are being developed largely by American owners."

NEW YORK CURB

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, June 5.—Curb securities were generally unsettled today, a reactionary tone dominating trading, which was influenced largely by weakness in the oils, due to reports of increased production last week and reductions in gasoline prices.

Prairie Oil and Gas lost more than 4 points to a new low for the year. Losses in other issues were smaller and the list closed heavy.

A few strong spots were noted in the industrials but the reactionary trend had them in check. Trading was fairly firm. Dupont selling at a new high for the movement.

Following are the closing quotations on the New York Curb market, furnished by Logan & Bryan, members of the New York Stock Exchange, 630 South Spring street.

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

Two new wells are expected to go on production in the Dominguez field today or tomorrow. They are the Reyes No. 2 and Reyes No. 4 of the Shell company. Yesterday No. 2 was running tubing to swab, after setting a combination string at 4355 feet. Reyes No. 4 was putting in a new connection to replace a leaking one, and will be brought in immediately, officials say.

Reyes No. 4 was brought in on Wednesday but due to the leaking connection was killed to allow its replacement. The well flowed for only a short time and no gauge was placed on it, although officials report that there were 1000 pounds of gas pressure at the casing head. The hole is 3760 feet deep.

Reyes No. 2 is being brought in after weeks of repair work following its sensational blowout, as the first gasser in the field.

Find Bottom Water

The United Oil Company was disappointed in the production test of its well in the Maricopa Flats field, offsetting the Bush lease, officials report. After getting a good water shutoff, the well was brought in from a depth of 4457 feet, but the product is said to have been mostly water. Officials are certain that the well went too deep and that the difficulty is due to bottom water. The well is being cleaned out and will be plugged back and another production test made, it is said.

Scientific Well Idle

The Scientific Oil Company has shut down operations on its wildcat well at La Mirada, one and one-half miles east of the Santa Fe Springs field, according to officials. The well is standing cemented at 4172 feet. It is reported that good oil and gas showings have been found. Work will be resumed in the near future.

Complete Outpost

The Dolores No. 1, the most southerly well in the Torrance field, located south of Wilmington in the eastern area, probably will be placed on production test today, according to officials of the Shell company. The well was standing cemented at 3540 feet yesterday and was to be drilled out today. Showings have been good and Shell officials expect to get a producer. The Dolores lease comprises 500 acres and is one of the largest single tracts in the field.

To Drill Near Orange

According to reports from Orange the Trustees Development Company, which has a lease on Glassell street south of that city, is making preparations to start a wildcat well on the property within a couple of weeks. The organization has sixty-five acres to drill on. Many of the stockholders are Los Angeles capitalists, reports say.

Five New Wells

Five new wells were brought in at Torrance yesterday. Total production of the quintet aggregates 2530 barrels, 2100 barrels coming from two wells.

The Superior Oil Company completed its Torrance No. 33 and No. 34 at depths of 3840 and 3835 feet, getting 1100 and 1000 barrels per day respectively. Both these wells are on the Joughin lease in the eastern part of the field.

The Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company brought in its Kettler No. 19 in the North Lomita field, pumping 150 barrels per day from a depth of 3870 feet.

Two small wells were completed by the Fullerton Oil Company and the George F. Getty interests. The Fullerton's Waddell No. 1 was brought in on the pump, producing eighty barrels per day from 3476 feet. Getty's Torrance No. 23 pumped 100 barrels per day from 3400 feet.

Near Completion

The Central Oil Company is perforating in its No. 73 well in the old Whittier field, and expects to bring the well in within the next few days. The hole is down 1914 feet with 800 feet of oil formation exposed. This is the first well the Central has drilled on its large Whittier property in two years. As soon as it is completed another well is to be drilled, officials report.

In Newport Beach

The Vista del Mar Oil Company, which has been operating in the Huntington Beach field, is building a rig to start a well in the Newport Beach district about two miles northeast of Newport Beach, according to field reports. The project is located at Placentia and Eighteenth street on the Newport Mesa. The company owns a thirty-acre lease and probably will start to drill in thirty or forty days. The well is to be electrically operated, the Southern California Edison Company to furnish the power.

For Undersea Pipe Line

The Associated Oil Company has obtained permission from the authorities at Ventura to construct a pipe line on the bed of the ocean for a distance of 2300 feet from shore, in order to create an oil-loading station which will accommodate tankers of deep draft. It is understood that the loading will be done with flexible nozzles attached to barges anchored on the ocean at the extreme end of the pipe line. The tankers can tie up to the barges, and take on oil. The company is reported to be preparing to build another pipe line from the field to Ventura in order to handle the increasing volume of oil from the Ventura field.

Is Shut Down

The O'Donnell Oil Syndicate, which is drilling a well between Huntington Beach and Newport Beach, has suspended operations at about 3300 feet, it is reported. O'Donnell has about forty acres in this lease, and is said to have had good oil showings.

Crude Gains Again

According to estimates made by the American Petroleum Institute, the daily average gross crude oil output of the United States for the last week in May was 1,983,400. East of the Rocky Mountains the daily average production was 1,352,250 barrels, while the California production was 631,250 barrels per day.

Daily average imports were 265,143 barrels, compared with 218,288 for the previous week. Daily average receipts of California oil at Atlantic and Gulf ports were 92,857 barrels, compared with 171,000 for the previous week.

No changes were reported in crude oil prices for the major districts, California crude ranging from $1 to $1.40, depending upon the gravity of the oil.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Moving in a sluggish and uninteresting manner stocks on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday failed to attract any appreciable amount of trading. Oils as a group were weak, but the Julian issues ran contrary to the tendency and exhibited some strength, the preferred closing up 1-2 at 30 3-4 and the common the same amount to 19.

Union Oil Associates declined 1-8 of a point to 53 and Union of California receded 1-4 to 122 3-4. Standard of California was unchanged at 56 1-2, while U.S. Royalties dropped 1-2 cent to 12.

Very little interest was shown in mining shares. Richmond Consolidated fell 1 cent to 15 1-2, while United Eastern sold at 60, Tom Reed at 35 and United Americ 5 1-2 cents.

Los Angeles Investment appears to have found temporary stabilization around 3.75, the sales yesterday ranging around that figure. In the bond list, San Joaquin Light and Power series "B" 6s of 1952 were active at 99.

Following are the closing quotations and sales:

NET CLOSING ON BOY BANDIT AIDE

All Lanes of Egress Closed to Pal of Morrison

Verdin Tells How Killing Was Precipitated

Bootleg whisky and underworld women pointed out the path that sent Franklin John Morrison, 17-year-old college boy, to his death branded as a criminal and turned Philip Baker, Jr., from the pampered son of a wealthy local business man, into a fugitive sought by police of the entire State. This is what the police said late yesterday afternoon after a day spent investigating the killing of Morrison by Ernest R. Werdin, president of the Los Angeles Paving Company, when the youth in company with another youngster, said by the officials to have been Baker, attempted to hold up a card game in his home of Fred Harlow, local cafe man, at 340 North Arden avenue.

Morrison was shot twice in the breast and killed instantly by Werdin who was playing in the card game when the two youths forced their way into the Harlow home. The other bandit fled after firing two shots at Werdin and the other seven men grouped about the table. The shooting occurred at about 11 o'clock Wednesday night.

PARTY PLANNED

Bootleg whisky and women entered the investigation yesterday after Assistant Captains of Detectives Cato and Cahill, in charge of the search for Baker, located the women who had been on an all-night wild party with Baker and Irwin J. Sidney, 17, of 4165 South Van Ness avenue, now held in the City Jail for investigation, two days before the fatal hold-up.

The desire for money with which to purchase more whisky and to finance another party with the two women is believed to have been the motive for the attempted hold-up at the Harlow home, police say. The party which will never take place was to have been attended by Baker, Sidney and Morrison last Saturday evening, police declare.

Morrison was identified late yesterday afternoon as one of the two youths who held up and robbed a party in the home of E. H. Schick, 584 North El Centro street, about an hour before the Harlow hold-up. The second youth with Morrison answers the description of young Baker, police declare.

Police records show that Mr. Schick and seven men and women who had attended a party in his home were held up and robbed just as the guests were bidding their host good-night. The robbery netted the bandits only about $18, as they refused to take jewelry. It was after this robbery, and only five blocks away that young Morrison met his death.

SET AROUND BOY

A telephone call received at the Baker home late yesterday afternoon convinced the police that young Baker is wandering about the streets unable to make up his mind what to do. A police officer stationed at the Baker residence at 2412 Third avenue answered the call. Mrs. Baker standing beside the telephone recognized her son's voice. The person calling refused to give his name and hung

BOY BANDIT IN DOUBLE LIFE

Dutiful, Studious Morrison Youth Kisses Mother Goodby and Goes to Death in Hold-up

No stroke of fate more savage, swift and inexplicable could have befallen the family of Franklin John Morrison than his death by gunfire Wednesday night while attempting to play the hardened desperado.

A boy of 17 years, a good boy, docile in his parents, industrious, studious, normal-minded, healthy-minded, cheerful, even-tempered, trusted and liked by his schoolmates and his neighbors; in every way wholesome seeming, pushes aside the announcements of his graduation that he is about to mail to friends of the family, kisses his mother goodnight at 7 o'clock and is next seen three hours later in a private house which he had entered by stealth, masked, in either hand a pistol, demanding money. Less than a minute later he lies dead on the floor, two bullet holes in his body.

At the family home yesterday, on North Serrano street, a neighborhood of modest homes, an aged J. A. Stroke, in the roofing business at 17 East Main street, Alhambra, does the talking. A plain man, plain spoken, no dealer in subtleties, he tells all he knows. The mother is upstairs, prostrated. The father is in Denver. A sister, Virginia, 15 years of age, sits and listens, attentive and alert. A younger brother, Marion, 11, is with his mother.

BIENNIAL CALM SHATTERED BY WORDY ROW ON FILMS

Rupert Hughes and Mrs. Porter Clash on Censorship Issue; Action by Board Likely

Like the proverbial bolt from the traditional blue, the peaceful calm that has marked the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs was shattered for a brief period yesterday afternoon at the Philharmonic Auditorium when two writers and novelists of international fame locked horns in public and before a packed house.

As a result the board of directors of the federation may take action opposing the sentiments on Rupert Hughes, novelist and writer, who addressed the gathering.

Arrayed on one side was Mr. Hughes, a solitary man in a sea of women's face; on the other Gene Stratton Porter, whose fame is no less than that of Mr. Hughes's. The subject of the controversy that has set thousands of the visiting delegates talking was motion pictures and motion-picture censorship.

Hundreds of those present took exception to a statement by Mr. Hughes that "women think they are gods to censor pictures; one who wants to be a censor is not fit to be one."

AUDIENCE NEUTRAL

It was a strictly neutral audience that heard the two writers and authors. Mr. Hughes, in a burst of oratory that touched on conditions dating back some 300 years when certain young Puritans of early America disported themselves in a manner that shocked and grieved Rev. Cotton Mather, flayed the present motion-picture censorship agitation and asked that it be abolished, lauded motion pictures as the youngest of the arts and then pleaded with the delegates for their support in eliminating censorship.

Applause greeted his final words and Mr. Hughes resumed his seat on the stage, satisfied that he had made friends of the delegates.

Gene Stratton Porter, presented as one who would speak on "How You Can Help Improve Motion Pictures," began. Mrs. Porter, a matronly woman of pleasing appearance whose voice carried to the upper tiers with ease, started by announcing that she felt a little bitter toward the censorship of films. The audience applauded and Mr. Hughes smiled.

SHOULD KNOW BEST

The speaker declared that motion pictures are produced by men who have spent years in the business and are therefore vastly more qualified to judge the merits of a picture than censors who know little or nothing about films. More smiles from Mr. Hughes, who also is a film producer.

"But I do stand for a check on the salaciousness of some producers, film writers and actors," declared Mrs. Porter. "Cut the hokum and sex filth from the pictures and help us to express the beautiful and uplifting things.

"A great deal of harm has been done by motion pictures but we must also accept the good they have done. In my opinion they have been the cause of many petting parties in which promiscuous embracing is indulged in, smoking by young women and acts of crime by youths who imitate crimes they have seen committed in pictures. I cannot agree with Mr. Hughes on some of the things he has said about pictures."

Mr. Hughes's smile was gone.

Continuing, Mrs. Porter said: "Give pictures a chance to express the beautiful and uplifting things of life. I am opposed to vulgarity and sex problems in films — things that do not help make the world better." Prolonged applause followed the speaker's words.

WOULD RESTRICT BOOKS

Mr. Hughes declared that censorship is throttling the liberty of motion pictures, while Mrs. Porter not only declared herself in favor of motion-picture censorship of some kind but also a similar censorship for books.

Before launching her attack against salacious pictures and producers, Mrs. Porter advocated a movement for better music in the home, scoring jazz music and pleading for a general uplifting of music. She lamented the fact that she recently had heard a too-popular song about bananas sung to the music of "The Messiah."

"Every time you are insulted by jazz music hurl a mental or metaphorical brick," she urged the delegates.

MAJESTIC THEATER IS PURCHASED

Million Dollars Reported Paid by M. H. Price; Plans Extensive Alterations

Negotiations were completed yesterday for the sale of the Majestic Theater Building at 843 South Broadway to M. H. Price by the Hamburger Realty Company for a reported consideration of $1,000,000. Announcement of the sale was made by Mr. Price who heads the M. H. Price Realty and Investment Company.

The Majestic Theater Building, a theatrical landmark of Los Angeles, is an eight-story freproof building, consisting of two stores, 114 office suites and a theater auditorium with a seating capacity of 1600. It has a frontage of eighty feet on South Broadway and a depth of 167 feet.

The new owner is making a study of building improvements so that plans may be drawn for extensive alterations to be made next May, which will place the theater building among the finest in the city. The deal has been in litigation for several months, E. B. Du Bain having filed suit in Superior Court for $45,625 in connection with the transaction.

COURT CONSIDERING CHILD CUSTODY PLEA

MOTHER SEEKS TO SET ASIDE ADOPTION BY FORMER BROTHER-IN-LAW

Judge Archbald of Juvenile Court yesterday took under advisement the petition for a writ of habeas corpus brought by Mrs. Laura E. Yoder, a widow of Long Beach, to have awarded her the custody of her two children, Dorothy Irene Yoder and Wilma Corrine Yoder.

The habeas corpus action was instituted in connection with a suit in equity instituted by Mrs. Yoder in an effort to have set aside the proceedings whereby her former brother-in-law, Dr. Henry C. Yoder, and his wife adopted Mrs. Yoder's two daughters in October, 1923.

In the complaint in this suit Mrs. Yoder asserted she gave her consent to the adoption proceedings at a time when she was mentally incompetent as a result of grief following the death of her husband. Judge Archbald also has this case under advisement and attorneys in the case were ordered to submit briefs on points at law involved.

NAMING OF JOHNSON IS CONFIRMED

Appointment to Public Utilities Board Approved by City Council

Philip R. Johnson yesterday was unanimously confirmed as a member of the Board of Public Utilities by the City Council. Mr. Johnson was appointed to fill the unexpired term of one and one-half years caused by the resignation of John P. Kennedy. The new commissioner is the son of Farley M. Johnson, former police commissioner and well-known capitalist.

PHILIP R. JOHNSON

In order that the entire Council can discuss the appointment by Mayor Cryer of C. J. Elsasser as a member of the Board of Police Commissioners to succeed Dr. S. T. Montgomery, resigned, the Council yesterday referred the appointment to itself to be considered sitting as a committee of the whole. The public safety committee, to which Elsasser's appointment had been referred, sent it back to the Council without recommendation. Councilmen Criswell, Gregory and Mallard opposed reference to the committee of the whole and demanded a vote on the appointment, but their suggestion was not adopted. As matters stood yesterday, a majority of the Council were believed to be opposed to confirming Elsasser's appointment.

BUILDINGS FOR PARK URGED

Agricultural Association Head Tells Council of Need for Permanent Structures

Immediate construction of a magnificent promenade entrance to the Coliseum at Exposition Park from Figueroa street was made possible yesterday when the City Council authorized changes in the contract between the Sixth District Agricultural Association, the county government and the city, which sets forth the jurisdiction of areas of park property.

President William M. Bowen of the association, addressed the Council on the need for providing a suitable entrance to the Coliseum and for the building, with funds to be appropriated by the State Legislature, of permanent fair buildings and of a convention hall on the land between the Coliseum and Figueroa street.

CITES LARGE CROWDS

"The Coliseum," Mr. Bowen said, "has shown in the short time that it has been in use its tremendous value to Los Angeles. More than 687,000 people have visited the Coliseum and attended events there since it was opened, and one might say that the Coliseum has just begun to show its value to our city.

"But a real entrance must be provided. As it is now, the people who go to the Coliseum must climb over barbed wire fences or walk through the dust of the race track from Figueroa street and through fields where baseball games are in progress to reach the stadium. The present plans call for the building by the county government of a magnificent entrance and promenade to the Coliseum from Figueroa street, including two thirty-five-foot sidewalks, two sixty-foot drives with the center landscaped. If it is found that the promenade should be made wider to accommodate the crowds, the Sixth District Agricultural Association can and will, under the changes in the contract asked for today, grant all additional space required to make the entrance to the Coliseum adequate."

WASTE OF $500,000

President Bowen also told how, under the amended contract, the way will be cleared for the building, on the land on both sides of the new promenade entrance to the Coliseum, of permanent buildings, including a convention hall and buildings for live stock and industrial exhibits. He said nearly $500,000 had been wasted in building and then tearing down temporary buildings when fairs were held at the park.

Objection was made to amendments to the contract by President F. G. Leonard of the Playground Commission, and Mrs. Willoughby Rodman on the ground that under these changes space now used for amateur baseball games would be eliminated.

Councilman Mushet sustained their contentions and voted against the changes in the contract until, he said, satisfactory arrangements had been made with the Playground Commission for transferring their playground activities to a new site.

Councilmen Criswell, Allan and Gregory said they would vote for the purchase by condemnation of land for the use of the Playground Commission for the baseball diamonds, to be eliminated as soon as a new site had been found and accepted by the commission.

HOLLYWOOD PARK PLANS

Chamber Directors Consider Plans for $7,000,000 Playground from Junction to La Brea

Plans for construction of a $7,000,000 park and playground three and a half miles through the heart of Hollywood, from Hollywood Junction, at the intersection of Sunset and Santa Monica Boulevards, to the west city limits are under consideration by the board of directors of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, it was announced yesterday.

The plans, which have been under consideration by a special committee for several months, call for a system of driveways, parks and playgrounds a block wide about midway between Sunset and Santa Monica Boulevards from the junction of La Brea avenue, Dr. A. A. Hummel, chairman of the committee stated yesterday. The county may be asked to extend the park as far as Fairfax avenue, Dr. Hummel said.

BOND ISSUE PLANNED

The plan calls for a $7,000,000 bond issue and the creation of an improvement district extending from the foothills to Beverly Boulevard and from Hollywood Junction to the city limits. It has been placed before Gordan Whitnall, director of the City Planning Commission, who, according to Dr. Hummel, expressed approval of the idea.

The project was submitted informally to the directors of the Hollywood chamber Wednesday in place of plans for a number of isolated parks to be established at a cost of approximately $4,000,000 which previously had been considered.

The members of the special committee working on the plans are Dr. Hummel, chairman, Dr. John P. Buckley, Lloyd F. Head, Mrs. John D. McCloskey and H. W. Hoagland.

Mr. Whitnall, Dr. Hummel said last night, plans to go over the territory included in the proposed park with Van Griffith, city park commissioner. They are expected to take the project up with their colleagues in the city government at an early date.

HELD IDEAL SITE

"There are two reasons why we selected the strip between Santa Monica and Sunset boulevards as the best site for the park," Dr. Hummel explained. "It runs through what is almost the exact center of Hollywood and the property which must be condemned is the most reasonably priced in the Hollywood district.

"The strip will be within three-quarters of a mile of everyone in the suburb living on both sides of it.

"In view of the fact that the average lot in Hollywood has increased in value almost $2000 within the past two years, the assessment of about $300 a lot, when spread over a long period, will not be a burden.

"Hollywood has no parks at present, except Griffith Park, at one end of town, and when it is remembered that the park commit-

NO VERDICT BY WILLIS JURY

Members Are Locked Up for Night in Hotel

No Indication of Progress Made is Given

Deliberations to be Resumed This Morning

After spending four hours in deliberation, the jury considering the fate of Mrs. Margaret Willis, charged with the murder of Dr. B. B. Baldwin, was locked up for the night with no indication of what progress had been made.

The jurors left the jury room for their sleeping quarters in the Rosslyn Hotel laughing and joking among themselves. They are to resume their deliberations at 9 a.m. today.

During the four hours that were spent in deliberation they showed but one sign of activity to those outside the room. Shortly after the dinner hour they made a request for a copy of the judge's instructions and then returned to their work.

TAKEN TO HOTEL

The case was submitted at 5 p.m. at which time Superior Judge Crail issued an order that they should be taken to the hotel at 10 p.m. in case a verdict could not be reached at that time.

When the appointed hour arrived, the jurors were taken directly from the jury room without returning to the courtroom.

In his closing argument for the prosecution Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hamner characterized the slaying as "one of the most terrible crimes in the history of this city," termed Mrs. Willis a cold-blooded murderess and asked for a verdict of first-degree murder without recommendation. That would mean that Mrs. Willis must die on the gallows.

During the bitter arraignment Mrs. Willis toyed with a sweet-pea blossom, now and then holding it to her nose. Her face betrayed no emotion. Her 13-year-old son Harold sat by her side.

DEFENSE REITERATED

Defense Attorney S. S. Hahn, shortly before noon yesterday, closed his argument that lasted all day Wednesday and yesterday morning. In summing up his appeal Hahn asked the jury to consider Mrs. Willis's son and what it would mean to him to have his mother go to the penitentiary. He also emphasized his arguments that Mrs. Willis is innocent and that the crime was committed by another.

Attorney Hahn again attacked the case of the prosecution from three angles. First, he asserted Mrs. Willis did not kill Baldwin; second, he said if she did it was in self-defense, and third, that she was insane if the prosecution is correct in the assertion that she committed the murder.

Attorney Hahn's motion for dismissal of the jury on the ground that one of the jurymen's daughter is employed in the police department was denied by Judge Crail yesterday morning.

Three hours were required by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hamner to make the closing argument. He related the events connected with the murder, as brought out in Mrs. Willis's asserted confession to the police; of the finding of the doctor's body in a battered trunk at the side of the road and of the apparent indifference of Mrs. Willis in face of the astounding charges.

MAGIC IS IN CONCERT OF OPEN SPACE

Throngs Held Thrall to Galli-Curci's Voice and Hertz's Artistry

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

The golden gala climax in the history of outdoor concerts in California was attained last night at the Hollywood Bowl. The inspiration of nature vied with that of music, and that of music with nature, and finally the perfect blending of the two cast the spell of enchantment over 25,000 listeners at the great open-air amphitheater in the heart of the hills that probably never before have echoed such a message of sovereign song and orchestral harmony.

The magic of a great prima donna's name, the return of a beloved director, the lure of being once again in the open listening to melody, with only the canopy of the skies overhead, sent forth their call to throngs upon throngs, and never in the history of arts in Southern California has such an audience assembled. Great as the Hollywood Bowl is in its expanses of hillside, and rows on rows of benches and chairs, this time it really did seem filled to overflowing.

Not a street that led to the amphitheater but was crowded for every inch of its available space with motors cars. The street cars were jammed and packed with people as they have never been before. The sidewalks were dotted with pedestrians. One and all they had come to hear perhaps chiefly Galli-Curci, to listen once again to the spell that is evoked by Alfred Hertz, and above all to renew an acquaintance with the Hollywood Bowl, or else to visit its now-famed precincts for the first time.

Such a thrill as those who were present experience only can be felt; it cannot be described. Those

FOR A LARGER POLICE FORCE

Crime Commission Urges Favorable Action by Council on Chief Vollmer's Program

The following resolution was unanimously adopted yesterday by the Crime Commission of Los Angeles:

Whereas, it is a fundamental duty of all governments to protect life and property, and

Whereas, such protection of life and property can be guaranteed to the people of Los Angeles only by means of an adequate number of police officers a comprehensive and practical reorganization of the police force, a speedy completion of the police building program, recently authorized by the citizens and an immediate installation of the police signal alarm system authorized by the citizens at the same time, and

Whereas, Chief of Police August Vollmer after careful study of the needs of the police department, has requested the Honorable City Council to increase materially the present strength of the police force, and

Whereas, the people of the city of Los Angeles did at an election held May 6, 1924, vote by an overwhelming majority to provide funds through the issuance and sale of bonds for the construction of additional police substations, for equipment for such stations, and for the installation of a modern police signal alarm system:

Now, therefore, be it resolved, that the Crime Commission of Los Angeles does hereby approve the request of Chief Vollmer for an adequate increase of men to the police force, the speedy completion of the police building program and the immediate installation of a modern police signal alarm system, and

Be it further resolved, that the Crime Commission of Los Angeles does hereby respectfully urge the Honorable City Council to appropriate sufficient funds to provide the increase of police officers requested by Chief Vollmer, to do all in its power to carry out the expressed will of the people by a speedy completion of the police building program and by an immediate installation of a police signal alarm system, and does further respectfully urge the Honorable City Council to enact such legislation as may be necessary to put a comprehensive and adequate police reorganization into effect.

HARBOR BEGINS INITIAL WORK

Moves to Comply With Army Board's Proposals

First Step is to Create Port District

Unification of Terminal Lines in Progress

Greater Los Angeles Harbor turned its attention yesterday to complying with the conditions set forth by the Army Board of Engineers in its recommendation for a $10,000,000 Congressional appropriation. Foremost among these conditions are the creation of a port district and unification of the railroads now serving the greater harbor area.

Negotiations looking to unification are already in progress among the railroads, municipal and civic bodies of Los Angeles and Long Beach and the Greater Harbor Committee. Weekly conferences have been held by engineering representatives of the four railways and of the committee. Agreement on physical details is being steadily worked out, irrespective of the general principles of policy which will determine an ultimate decision.

Both the Greater Harbor Commission, which is a self-supporting unofficial body, and the Board of Harbor Commissioners, which is an arm of the city government, are in accord on the course that must be pursued. Unification means the consolidation of all existing railway lines into one terminal system, each line serving as a link, whether municipally or privately owned, and each sharing in that system proportionately to its holdings and its business. It is unification that both bodies desire, but they are prepared to press for the only alternative, if the railways deny them their first choice.

ALTERNATIVE IS SEEN

This alternative is complete construction of a municipally owned belt line, already partly in being. Such a course inevitably implies duplication, but it was made plain yesterday that the two commissions both regard some waste as better than the chois that threatens if present competitive conditions are allowed to continue.

Perhaps prior to determination of the terminal question, however, will come the creation of a port district, because the authorities in control of such a district ultimately will be responsible for railway service quite as much as for piers, wharves and other water-front facilities. Cities which already have port districts are New York, New Orleans, Seattle, Portland and Houston, Tex. The Greater Harbor Commission is briefing all the legislation that has surrounded the creation of these districts, with a view to applying here the principles of organization and administration which have proved feasible elsewhere.

Indications are that the best plan is to make the boundaries of the district coterminous with those of the county. That is, all property in Los Angeles county would become the security for any future harbor bonds and all voters in the county would have a voice in selecting those responsible for administering the business of the district, however it may be decided to designate them.

STEPS NECESSARY

First, it will be necessary to go to the State Legislature, which meets next January, for an enabling act. That obtained, the question probably will be laid before the voters of the county. A two-thirds majority to ratify probably will be required by the Legislature.

If the rivers and harbors bill now before Congress does not reach the Senate at this session, as Washington dispatches predict, it was the opinion here yesterday that it will have to be reintroduced as new legislation at the next session in December.

It was the understanding here yesterday that all the recommendations for dredging, as published in The Times Tuesday, which aggregate $3,177,000, will become operative at that time, independent of the conditions attached to construction of an enlarged breakwater, for which another $14,000,000, half of it to be financed locally, will be needed.

BIRDS FIGHT DUEL TO DEATH

Squeaks and Squawks Are Only Weapons Used by Parrot and Mocking Bird in Two-Day Battle; Latter Dies First; Now Matchmaker Sleeps in Peace in Hollywood Home

A duel to the death between a mocking bird and a parrot, said to be unique in the records of natural history, took place this week in Hollywood, according to the account of William Z. Gilwhite, an account backed by many eye and ear witnesses.

Mr. Gilwhite had been annoyed many nights by an unusually loud and saucy mocking bird, so numerous in these parts, who at almost precisely the same hour each night, namely at Mr. Gilwhite's's bedtime, began his song just outside the Gilwhite bedroom window. The song lasted for about two hours, consisting of the sometimes sweet, nightingale-like trills, and the coarse, chicken-like cacklings, with that wide variety of racket for which the mocking bird is notorious. Only at times would there be any answering mock from other trees, and Mr. Gilwhite became convinced that the bird lived only for the purpose of keeping him awake.

SEEKS FRIEND'S PARROT

Now, Mr. Gilwhite had a friend who possessed an unusually accomplished parrot, a large green bird who spent his life insulting milkmen and postmen and the neighbors' children; a most imprudent, garrulous, insulting parrot with the voice of a huckster and the face of a gargoyle.

Mr. Gilwhite borrowed this parrot and hung his cage in the very window where the mocking bird was wont to give his nightly concerts.

The first night the parrot did not open his mouth. While the mocking bird's chattering was at its height, Mr. Gilwhite arose from his sleepless bed and striking a match, inspected the parrot. That old bird was wide awake, with his head cocked now on this side, now on that, but he never said a single word.

ACTION NEXT NIGHT

On the second night, the mocking bird no sooner had begun his wonter carols, than the parrot opened up an obbligato, a sort of parody on one of the mocking-bird's trills of the night before, and soon the two were at it in a most diabolical duet of shrieks and chatterings. The mocking-bird as birds go was a lyric tenor; the parrot a robusto of unusually rugged tones.

The exchange of musical insult at first amused Mr. Gilwhite, who confesses to a somewhat perverted sense of humor. But it did not stop at the hour of midnight when the mocking bird usually went to bed. It continued until daylight; it still continued. It kept up all the next day. It never ceased for five seconds together.

SIGHTS MOCKING BIRD

Daylight increased the dramatic scene. Mr. Gilwhite saw the mocking bird for the first time, a male, large for his species, who sat on the branch with his body leaning somewhat forward, hurling defy after defy at the parrot, and getting defy after defy in return. The parrot clawed the sides of his cage in a terrific rage, as he shrieked back every sound that the mocking bird had made, multiplied ten times in volume, intermingled with parrotical static and to this he added sounds the mocking bird in vain attempted to make.

When Mr. Gilwhite returned home the second night they were still at it. He regrets he did not stay up all night, for when morning came there was silence. Inspection showed that the mocking-bird was quite dead, and the parrot lay exhausted in his cage, breathing, but that was all. An hour later he gave a faint squawk and expired.

NET CLOSES ON AIDE OF BANDIT

up the phone without stating where he was calling from.

Every known resort of Baker's is being covered by police officers and the boy's parents have promised the police that they will urge the youth to give himself up if he telephones to them. His capture, according to Captains Cato and Cahill is only a matter of time. They stated that he cannot leave the city by automobile, train or street car without being taken in custody by officers who are blocking all roads to safety.

Green descriptions of an automobile used by young Baker and Sidney when they visited roadhouses with the women located by the police yesterday it is thought by the authorities that the boys have been implicated in a number of mysterious hold-ups reported during the last few weeks. Descriptions of the bandits are in the hands of the police and fit the dead youth and his supposed companion, the officers say.

The entire story of the attempted hold-up which resulted in the death of young Morrison was retold to the police yesterday by Mr. Werdin who spent the entire day assisting the police in running down clews.

"I was seated at a table in Mr. Harlow's home," stated Mr. Werdin, "with Mr. Harlow, Assistant City Attorney; Perry Thomas, Deputy City Clerk Joseph Hooper; James A. Hill, a contractor; W. H. Dehm, an attorney, and Capt. Jesse Hunter, an investigator in the District Attorney's office. It was about 11 p.m. and we were all playing cards.

"The first thing that I knew two youpg men with their faces masked and revolvers in their hands walked into the room and told us to throw up our hands. They then demanded our money. Mr. Dehm took out his pocketbook and told the bandits that he did not have any money. One of the masked men started to look at the purse and then I drew my revolver. I didn't want to shoot until the highwayman got away from Dehm but as soon as he stepped back I opened fire. The first bandit fell and then the other fellow made a dash for the door. He fired two shots at us and I fired three times. One of the fellow's bullets missed my head by less than six inches. It is lucky that none of us was hurt."

FOUND TO BE STUDENT

It was some time after the shooting and after the police were called that Morrison's identity was discovered. A belt buckle carrying the name "Loyola" was traced by the police, and it was then that the dead boy was discovered to have been a student at Loyola College. His connection with Baker then was established and later Sidney was connected with Baker and Morrison, although the police say that they cannot link him with the hold-up.

Early yesterday morning a satchel containing two flashlights and an automatic pistol identified as the weapon carried by the second bandit was hurled from a speeding automobile on West Temple street. It was picked up by a pedestrian and turned over to the police. Baker's small automobile was discovered in the family garage at about 3 o'clock yesterday morning. No trace of the boy could be found, however, until the mysterious telephone call identified by Mrs. Baker as coming from her son, was received at the Baker home yesterday afternoon.

The automobile used by the bandits Wednesday night and the machine in which the second highwayman escaped is believed by the police to have been a rented machine. It was a small coupe, painted a dark green, according to pedestrians who saw the bandit dash from the Harlow home, leap into the automobile and drive away. For a time after the shooting the police believed that a third bandit was waiting outside of the Harlow home, but according to witnesses, there was no one in the automobile when the remaining bandit leaped in and drove away.

At Loyola College it was learned yesterday that the dead youth was a student in the fourth high division. He would have been graduated next week and already was entered as a student in the university for next year. Morrison, according to the instructors, was a model student and very brilliant. He was a member of his class football team, debating manager in Division A, fourth high division; advertising manager of the school paper, second lieutenant in the R.O.T.C., a member of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin, fourth high division, and very well thought of by his fellow-students. He was the son of F. C. Morrison of the Mowder Realty Company. Morrison was the only one of the youths now under investigation that was a student at Loyola.

Late yesterday afternoon the police announced that an inquest will be conducted over the body of the slain boy bandit at the Cunningham & O'Connor undertaking establishment at 1031 South Grand avenue at 11:30 a.m. today. Before the inquest a number of persons believed to have been held up by Morrison before he met his death will be taken to the funeral parlors to attempt to identify the body.

YOUNG BANDIT IN DOUBLE LIFE

The day he knew that he had passed his examinations he came home full of exultation. His mother shared his joy with him and promised that she would find some way to buy him a tuxedo for his graduation exercises.

"Yesterday afternoon he was home at 3 o'clock. He must have come straight from school. At 7 o'clock he was sitting here in the next room writing and addressing to his friends notification that he was about to be graduated.

"The bell rang and a boy he knew came in. Yes, the family knew him, too, though not well. He was older than Franklin, a young man of some means, working for his father; as far as we knew, a fit companion.

That youth was Philip Baker, Jr., 19 years of age. The Morrisons thought him 20. Virginia, the sister, said Franklin had known him perhaps six months. They had lived at their present address about a year and it was not until several months after they moved in that the family knew of the friendship between Franklin and Philip.

"Philip came in and chatted with the family," continued the uncle. "He had pleasant manners and was agreeable to the family. Nobody here had anything against him, but we know little of his other companions, to whom he might have introduced Franklin.

"Well, he asked Franklin to take a ride with him. He owns his own car and had driven to the house in it. Franklin had been out with him before and they had always come home at a decent hour. But a mother, you know, particularly when the father is away, is careful, and Franklin's mother made him promise to be home early.

"He promised without hesitation. There seems no possibility of anything having been cooked up between the boys. Franklin had been in all afternoon; so far as we know, he hadn't seen Philip before on that day. So out they went and that's the last we saw of Franklin alive. It must have happened just as it has been told to us, but it still seems unbelievable.

"The boy had been carefully brought up; I never knew one who had better care. His father shared in his plans for the future—I think he wanted to be some kind of an engineer."

"He didn't know but what he might study to be a doctor," put in Virginia.

"Well, anyway," resumed the uncle, "his father kept an eye on him and saw that he was diligent in his studies. He was a bright boy and stood well in his classes. Everybody liked him, everybody. Nothing wrong with him, at all, not a thing. We simply can't understand it.

"We have heard that there was booze in the car. We don't know but there may have been. To our knowledge Franklin never drank. I have seen him where there was liquor to be had for the taking, but he never tasted a drop. Philip was sober at 7 o'clock when he stood in this room. There was not even a trace of liquor on him.

"What happened afterward we don't know. The police tell us that Philip's car was found in his father's garage at 3 o'clock this morning, as cold as a stone. Somewhere they must have changed cars. What that means I don't know.

"Franklin had no experience with firearms. You can see for yourself how much of a gunman he must have been to stand there with a pistol in either hand and let a man he had covered shoot him dead. That, of course, is merely a detail, but it adds to the mystery. The answer, I suppose, is bad associations. But who could have guessed it?"

The price will be 40 cents for one week or 75 cents for two weeks, mailed to any address in the United States or its possessions. This includes the Sunday issues.

COMES RIFT IN BIENNIAL CALM

the chief speaker and before settling down to the serious business of discussing "Journalistic Idealism" kept those in attendance in an uproar with clever phraseology and sparkling epigram.

Waxing humorous, the famous writer declared that he is sure that it is the duty of women to pass a law compelling the wearing of low-necked dresses. He also said that women should devote their time to taking laws off the statute books instead of putting them on.

JUST TWO THINGS

"I would urge in addition," he said, "just two things: That you women allow others to save their own souls and that you allow free play of that sacred curiosity implanted in human beings, and do not stand for censorship of motion pictures. A baker can bake better bread than any of you in this room. Let him do it, and devote yourselves to other and better things. There is a lot of idiocy hurled at the motion pictures that should be stopped. But I beg of you not to perpetuate the evils of man-made governments."

Mr. Hughes was followed by Mrs. Porter who spoke on matters pertaining to journalism. First of all she insisted that those present admire her gown. Gifted feminine reporters described it as "a gossamer pale green with a green satin hat."

Others who spoke on "Journalistic Idealism" were the Princess Cantacuzene, Lillian Burkhart Goldsmith, Mrs. Frederick Weitz, editor of the Iowa Federation News; Marjorie Shuler, representing a national daily publication and a woman's magazine; Mrs. Ida Clyde Clark, associate editor of a national woman's magazine; Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, Mrs. L. P. Boyce, chairman of press for the California Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. A. B. Weir, local press chairman.

DEFENDS PRESS

Myra Nye, club editor of The Times and dean of the newspaper women present, addressed the gathering in behalf of press representatives present. Replying to veiled attacks on the press in general, Mrs. Nye said:

"Within the last moment I have thrown away every thought of what I had planned to say in a modest little speech, for I want to speak honestly and earnestly in behalf of the women who write for the daily papers and not for magazines particularly, and also speak a word for the papers they represent.

"In our black-and-blue moments we club editors think that women's clubs are organized solely for the suppression of news and the promotion of publicity, when it is news we want and publicity we desire least. But when we hear such talks as Mrs. Porter has given, we take heart and when winter comes our bruises vanish and paradoxically it is summer.

"We too, see through rosy spectacles. Mrs. Winter plays square as all of you do, but in addition she knows the story from the newspaper angle and makes us rejoice. We would not betray her confidence. She has just said that when she has a secret she wants to keep she gives it to the news paper women. If she tells half of it they will get the other half and maybe tell it wrong, so she tells it all and indicates what she would prefer us not to use. We like that.

FOR CONSTRUCTIVE NEWS

"The papers we represent, notwithstanding a constantly expressed fallacy to the contrary, are just as desirous of putting over constructive news as is the federation. Our papers publish far more constructive news than otherwise. The paper I represent is as desirous of putting over the big peace plan as are the women who constitute this organization. No doubt this is true of the other papers.

"As for front-page stories of divorce, suicides and murders, have you watched the front pages of the papers of California for the past week and have you read them? If you read the best, the constructive stories, it is bound to follow that more of them will get on the front page." Mrs. Nye was roundly applauded.

The luncheon was presided over by Lessie Stringfellow Read of Arkansas, national press and publicity chairman. Women writers from many parts of the United States and correspondents of more than 100 newspapers were present. Mrs. Oliver P. Clark was in charge of the arrangements.

A majority of delegates, interviewed at random following the clash of Mrs. Porter and Mr. Hughes, were inclined to support Mrs. Porter, although many point out that the federation as a whole is opposed to the censorship. The slogan of the local biennial is "Make the Best Pictures Pay Best." The Los Angeles district of the federation has waged a constructive campaign for two years with this in view and with the full co-operation of the majority of producers, exhibitors and distributors.

OVERFLOW MEETING

At the afternoon conference the crowd was so large that an overflow meeting was conducted in the Biltmore Theater and the auditorium program repeated. As early as 1 p.m. several hundred delegates were awaiting admission to the auditorium.

The conference and meeting, which was presided over by the national president, Mrs. Thomas Gerald Winter, opened with an address by Mrs. Read, who spoke on "Every Club Woman a Trained Reporter," and urged the delegates to help make their publications bigger and better and to assist in news gathered. Matthews, Luke, John and Mark were reporters, she said, trained at the feet of the Master.

Mrs. Weitz spoke on "Standardizing and Financing the State Club Organ." Following her talk the Iowa delegation rose and sang the oft-heard "Iowa" song.

Miss Shuler addressed the delegations on "Clean Journalism."

"Are we getting what we want from the press and do we want what we are getting?" she asked. "Some of us are taking into our homes the kind of mental food and drink that we would handle with the fire tongs if it came in any other form."

The audience applauded when Mrs. Shuler declared that a great many of the women who are talking about world peace haven't as yet learned to be good neighbors.

"Use the breath of praise as well as the devastating wind of criticism," she said.

Princess Cantacuzene, a granddaughter of President Grant, spoke on "The Gentle Art of Journalism."

"Journalism has become an art," she said, "and women are taking their place in it. A generation or two ago it was considered rough, dangerous and difficult but that has changed now. The press has become intellectual and is helping people who cannot travel to know the whole world. The press is also an uplifting, constructive force."

NEW CLUB FORMED

Last night Ida Clyde Clark spoke entertainingly on "Women and Journalistic Jazz" in the place of Princess Cantacuzena, who spoke in the afternoon.

Jacques Gordon played two groups of violin numbers. He is the concert master of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and came to Los Angeles for one day for this appearance leaving early this morning.

At the dinner of the directors a new club was organized and named the Alice Ames Winter Club in honor of Mrs. Winter, who was presented with a handsome string of pearls by the retiring board. Mrs. John C. Urquhart, California president, made the presentation with a graceful little speech of appreciation for Mrs. Winter's capabilities and accomplishments for the federation.

Oswald Ryan of Indiana was introduced by Mrs. Franklin White. His subject was "Who Shall Inherit the United States?"

INDIANA MAN SPEAKS

"The United States has been made a common dumping ground of Europe too long," said Mr. Ryan. "It is time to give consideration to the front gate and to latch the rear door against immigrants being bootlegged into the United States. There must be an immigration program that will be effective based on a common language, the elimination of exploitation of the unworthy immigrant, one flag, an undivided love of country and the living of more noble lives by native-born Americans to prove Americanism to the immigrant."

Mrs. Clark as judge in a club story contest announced the winner as The Mintdale Club of Michigan and the author proved to be in the Michigan delegation, but was too modest to come to the platform or announce her name. Others honorably mentioned were the Palo Alto Club of California, West Roxbury, Mass., and Alliston, Ala., and the Buckeye Woman's Club of Arizona.

NEW PARK PLAN IN HOLLYWOOD

tee had been considering a number of schemes to spend approximately $4,000,000 for a number of smaller parks, it will be seen that the new project calls for only $3,000,000 additional to what probably would be spent anyway.

PLAYGROUND NEEDED

"Playgrounds in Hollywood are badly needed and our plans call for two baseball parks, one in the neighborhood of Normandie avenue and the other near La Brea where the strip will be widened. The park will average 800 feet in width. Tennis courts, of course, and all the other paraphernalia of playgrounds will be installed."

It was estimated yesterday that the property it is proposed to condemn is valued at about $200 a front foot.

MAN SEEKING DIVORCE SAYS WIFE BEAT HIM

"You are too smart; you need a beating," said Julia Wheelen to George H. Wheelen, according to his divorce complaint filed yesterday.

She didn't let the matter stop with expressing her opinion, he said, but proceeded to administer a facial massage with her clenched fists. That caused Wheelen "great bodily harm," he said.

The fistic exhibition was in May a, he said. Then in May she greeted his request for food with, he said, "I am not cooking for you; if you are hungry you can go out."

GERTRUDE ROSS HEARD OVER KHJ

Noted Composer of State is Aided by Daughter

Mexican Orchestra Recalls Days of Romance

"Divine Fire" in Violin Solos by Morris Stoloff

BY CLAIRE FORBES CRANE

A prophet is not always without honor in his own country. Los Angeles seems to stand out among the music centers of the United States as a city which delights in paying tribute to her resident artists and composers. Too often in less fortunate communities the glory is given to the newcomer, covered with the glamour of far places.

Last evening the Fitzgerald Music Company carried on this spirit by presenting Gertrude Ross, pianist-composer, and her daughter, Corinne Ross, reader, in an hour's recital at the KHJ studio.

The name of Gertrude Ross stands for all that is finest in the creative world of women composers of America. She is perhaps most beloved because she has not been tempted into the byways of European musical idiom. Loving the West, and California especially, she has used her art to fashion pictures which every true American hungers for. The wide-flung desert spaces—the vastness of our purple mountains—the freedom of the life of the plains; all is faithfully portrayed in her compositions.

Gertrude Ross has the fortune to be a most excellent pianist and is thereby enabled to give her audiences the two-fold pleasure of listening to works played by their creator.

Last evening Miss Ross gave the "Ride of the Cowboy" with a clearness of technique which many a concert pianist might have envied. Included on the program was a group of Spanish waltzes which are also from her pen.

TALENTED DAUGHTER

Miss Ross is noted also for her many beautiful Spanish songs. In using the Spanish idiom Miss Ross has still been consistent with her love of State, because the traditions of the missions are an indissoluble part of our history.

Corinne Ross proved last evening the fallacy of great talent skipping a generation. Her marked personality seemed quite worthy of her famous mother. She read "Prunella," by Granville Barker, with incidental music by Gertrude Ross (the composer at the piano,) with taste and discrimination. Corinne Ross also favored with "The Spring Song" and "The Concert," by Edna St. Vincent Millay; "Patterns," by Amy Lowell; three poems from "The Fairy Flute," by Rose Fyleman; "Outdoors Somewhere," by Henry Herbert Knibbs, and "Don't You Know?" by Edmund Vance Cook.

From 9 to 10 o'clock the Hoffman Hawaiian Trio, George W. Markie, manager, playing through the courtesy of the Hoffman Candy Company, gave an enjoyable program. An unusual combination of instruments, they gave much joy to Radioland. Interspersed between their numbers were some interesting readings by Ruth Quisenberry.

Every orchestra which plays at KHJ seems to have a personality of its own. They are as different as a group of fascinating women of various countries. At noontime yesterday the flaming beauty of Mexican girlhood, with its liquid black eyes and swaying, lithesome body, was personified by Jose Arias's Mexican Orchestra. We all wished we might dance nothing else but the tango and seguidilla.

HARMONICA CONCERT

Our radio family of the afternoon received real inspiration from Morris Stoloff, violinist, who was presented through the courtesy of Barker Brothers. Mr. Stoloff possesses a thrilling sonority on his instrument. Many violinists have technique and taste—but Stoloff's playing contains the true "divine fire." His reading of the first and last movements of the Caesar Franck violin and piano sonata will long remain in our hearts.

Dickie Brandon scampered up the stairs and burst into the studio at the children's hour with all of his usual sparkle and joy of life. He gave his radio brothers many new stories and poems.

Joseph Haig, a harmonica player, gave a veritable concert on his tiny instrument of numbers ranging from hymns to the "William Tell Overture." Prof. Walter Sylvester Hertzog gave an interesting account of the private gold coinage of Georgia and California from 1830 to 1840.

We had a newcomer to the children of KHJ in the person of Wilbur A. Lester, 7 years of age, whom we welcomed cordially, and Sylvia Panitz, pianist, 12 years of age, gave "Impromptu in A Flat," by Schubert, and the Chopin "Waltz in E Minor," in a fashion far beyond her tender years.

Uncle John made the evening completely a success with a bedtime story.

LARGE GAINS IN THEATER ATTENDANCE

Southland Films Seen by Million More Than in Same Month of 1923

Persons attending motion-picture theaters and other places of amusement in Southern California during April of this year numbered almost 1,000,000 more than the attendance at such places of amusement during the corresponding month of 1923, a report made to Washington by the collector of internal revenue indicates. The report shows the amusement tax to have been $313,542 last April as compared with $298,470 in April, 1923.

The tax represents a total attendance during April, 1924, of 18,772,016, and a total expenditure of $3,758,504. The total attendance during April, 1923, was 17,694,820 and the total expenditure was $3,578,964.

Taxes assessed against memberships and dues in social organizations show that the forty-five active country clubs in Southern California, and other similar organizations paid $38,150 to the government during last April. The revenue from the same source during the corresponding month of 1923 was $36,976.

GUILLEN POISONING TRIAL DATE IS SET

MINOR CHANGES MADE IN ACCUSATIONS; WIFE TO GIVE TESTIMONY

The trial of Mack Guillen on a charge of attempted poisoning of his wife Mary will begin on the 25th inst., Judge Hardy ruled yesterday after a motion to change several minor legal points in the information against Guillen was granted. Another case, the murder of Guillen's brother-in-law, William Rivera, will follow the first.

Guillen is charged with the two counts as a result, authorities say, of a plot to poison his wife of whom he was jealous. By a mistake, her 16-year-old brother drank the asserted poisoned mixture.

Mrs. Guillen will testify against her husband in the attempt case, in which she is the complainant, but cannot testify against him in the other.

The charges yesterday were changed to read attempted poisoning instead of attempted murder.

NORTH COAST LIMITED IN TWENTY-FIFTH YEAR

April 29 is the birthday of "The North Coast Limited," the passenger service standard bearer of the Northern Pacific Railway. The twenty-fifth year, the silver anniversary year, of the North Coast Limited, will be celebrated by a greater service to the Northwest than in any year in the train's history, A. B. Smith, passenger traffic manager, predicts. "We expect more passengers than ever before to be carried and better carried."

THE MORNING AFTER

There's a play called "Yesterday's Wife." Yesterday's wife will probably be the June bride of some other wight.

CHANCE FOR A FIGHT

Possibly a resolution to the effect that bobbed hair is indecent could come as near starting a war as anything else this week.

AMONG THE MISSING

McAdoo seems to have garnered the Florida delegates as a part of his string. What has become of that professor who was presented as the star choice of William Jennings Bryan for the nomination?

GOING TO THE DEVIL

Billy Sunday emerges from the hospital to remark that this world of ours is headed for Hades so fast that no speed limit can stop it. We have had a lot of reform legislation and the churches are all showing gains. Is it the hospital that has brought out the glooms in Billy's make-up?

CALLING A HALT

A citizen purposes to invoke the powers of injunction to prevent the government from paying the soldier bonus. The allegation is made that the soldiers themselves are not in favor of the measure as passed and, therefore, it should not be permitted to apply. It will take more than an injunction, however, to halt a bonus bill.

A SOLDIER'S LETTER

Secretary Weeks has received a letter from a veteran of the World War which, for sentiment and conciseness, is a model many others may be proud to imitate. This soldier wrote, "The service of my country in time of war is not of a kind that can be rewarded by a gratuity from Congress." There are some things that wealth cannot buy and money cannot pay for.

BUSINESS AS USUAL

A single ship comes to our Coast with a cargo of silk from Japan valued at $8,000,000. There was a day not so very long ago when this sum would cover the whole volume of our Japanese trade. The Cherry Blossom boys are grieved at the indelicate manner in which we close our gates against their coming, but they are not to cease selling us their silks on that account. Our trade relations with the island empire will continue as of old.

THE UNEASY HEAD

Gen. Grant told the King of Spain that his eight years in the Presidency were the most harassed and unhappy of his life. The office has brought the violent or untimely death of numbers who have adorned it. So far as testimony goes it has confirmed happiness in none. Yet the land is full of estimable citizens who are eager for the Presidency and even now seventeen Americans are contesting for the doubtful honor of a Democratic nomination. Wouldn't it jar you?

ANOTHER PARTY

The "American party" is about the first in the field with its ticket. They call it the American party because it seems to be opposed to polygamy and in favor of the Ku Klux Klan. It has nominated Judge Gilbert Nations for President and our professional prohibitionist friend, Charlie Randall, for Vice-President. Although not favoring a League of Nations, it is a party of nations—exclusively American. It being first at bat, the American can hardly command recognition as a third party—the vaunted rival of the two majors.

MAGNANIMOUS MUSSOLINI

The Fascist leader is giving the Italian people every possible chance to save themselves by the Mussolini tested methods. He says that parliamentary government in Italy is on trial. If it succeeds—which means if it is subservient to the will of the Fascist leader—well and good. But if it fails—that is, if it gets fractious—Mussolini will be compelled to save the country without it. With this limitation the Italian dictator is really anxious to see parliamentary government in his country a complete success.

GOING DOWN

Editorial opinion as expressed in various sections of the country persistently records the dwindling mentality of the United States Senate. Both the House and the Senate seem to be slumping. Neither body is what it was in the days when giants were upon the earth. It is hard to check up and place the responsibility. Of course, the results of the direct primary have not been happy. Instead of the office hunting the man it is the man who hunts the office, and in four cases out of five he is the wrong man. If there are objections to the caucus and convention and to party domination it must at least be admitted that the convention, made up of party leaders, brought forth better and stronger candidates than are now rushing from the bushes. The people look to the House for business activity and to the Senate for statesmanship. The House indicates a certain capacity for the consideration of the public business; but those who have hoped for unbiased and patriotic statesmanship in the Senate have been miserably disappointed. There are a few mental giants; but the pygmies are in the majority.

A RADICAL DILEMMA

French radicals have discovered early in their career that it is one thing to capture a government and a vastly different thing to operate it, once it is in their possession. They have overthrown Poincare; but not one of them experienced in governmental affairs has been hardy enough to occupy the place now vacant.

Poincare went because the people had become weary of Poincare. The majority of them didn't know why; but they had had enough of him and his administration. They dismissed him much as they dismissed Clemenceau at the end of the World War. Perhaps the increased tax burden counted for something. It was apparent that more money must be collected to meet the costs of government and to stabilize the exchange value of the franc; and grudgingly the people paid. But they took their revenge upon the government that levied the taxes.

But the radicals have encountered unexpected difficulties in forming a government of their own. Those who are judged best equipped for the place decline to serve and those who are willing to accept have yet to give their first proof of fitness for the office.

The position in France is somewhat similar to that in Great Britain, where a Labor government is adhering strictly to Conservative policies. Experienced parliamentarians know that the policies for which Poincare was condemned are absolutely essential to good government in France. The people demand an army that shall be more powerful than any other in Europe; but they shrink from meeting the expense. They also seem to demand a government that shall be Socialist in name but Conservative in fact.

Any radical Premier who follows the policies of Poincare will be condemned by the radical left and will be quickly overthrown. But the radical majority insists upon a radical leader. These facts are patent to the experienced political leaders and none of them cares to sacrifice his parliamentary future for the vain glory of holding for a few weeks the office of Premier.

The radicals are demanding the immediate resignation of President Millerand; but he is inclined to exercise his constitutional rights. Such action is difficult for one accustomed to American parliamentary procedure to understand. It is as though Congress should have demanded the resignation of President Coolidge when he vetoed the blanket bonus bill.

Parliamentary government in France has always lacked stability. In no other country is the average tenure of office of a government head so short. The French seem to take delight in placing some political leader on a pedestal and then kicking the pedestal out from under him. They find his discomfiture amusing and it is essential to the tranquillity of every Latin people that it be amused.

The Ruhr policy does not seem to enter into the discussions. The French approve as a mass taking the whole of the Rhine district from Germany. They would make it a French Rhine, but they are not certain how long they can hold it. The next government may modify somewhat the present rigorous government of the invaded Rhine districts; but any action looking toward withdrawal would probably cause the fall of a government in an hour.

THE SEVENTH COMMANDMENT

A British judge recently said from the bench: "I am not going to recognize that people are entitled to commit adultery because they are in the theatrical profession."

So remarkable is this pronouncement considered that it has been quoted in nearly all the British newspapers.

As against this we have the interesting pronouncement of all the members of the jury in the Willis trial—eight women and four men—that they would not be prejudiced against a defendant because she had lived with a man as his wife without the formality of a marriage.

As against this likewise we have the honors lavished upon a woman motion-picture star whose five marriages before the age of 25, considerably complicated and very vaguely recalled by her upon the witness stand, evidently in no wise militate against her public distinction.

As against this, too, we have a very general attitude of flippancy and cynicism about the romantic peccadillos and casual divorces of numerous famous and near-famous scions of the motion-picture industry, as well as of "prominent society people."

All who were present will recall the premiere night of the "Ten Commandments" as these admonitions were flashed on the screen. Thrilled applause for all until the seventh was flashed and thundered from out the heavens—and then a curious silence and some obvious tittering.

That British judge appears to be strangely old-fashioned. But he is right.

THESPIS LINKS UP WITH GOMPERS

An actors' labor union, frankly avowed as such, has gone on strike in New York with an implied threat to wreck the financial investments and artistic plans of a dozen theatrical producers, unless demands of the union are entirely complied with.

Four years ago the union, called Equity with unconscious irony, struck and obtained concessions in the relations of managers and players. But the subsequent career of Equity showed that it didn't thrive on peace. Many members fell in arrears. Apparently continued amity meant gradual disintegration.

Then luck came to the help of the worried union officials. New York was chosen for the Democratic National Convention. Multitudes sure to be drawn by this event meant more than a harvest for theatrical managers, as well as for players and musicians; it meant to some a chance to recoup heavy losses—for the hazards of show production, always great, had left them sorely behind on ventures that did not hit the public fancy.

To this situation the Equity officers brought all their acumen, aided by the open assistance of Gompers's lieutenants. Under threat of a general strike during the convention they demanded that members of the Producing Managers' Association contract to employ no less than 80 per cent of Equity actors in their several companies. The managers must collect dues from union members and turn them over to Equity and a like amount from free actors and pay that over, too.

Thus the demand in effect meant that producers must turn the employment of actors over to the union and act as a collection agency for it to boot. Secretary Gilmore has speciously pointed to this 80 per cent clause as a concession made to bring about an amicable adjustment.

This appears to be a wily subterfuge because of the conditions that go with it and the further fact that it whips the devil around a stump. Equity earlier set up a demand for 100 per cent unionized companies. Lawyers warned that such a condition, if agreed to by any producers under duress, would lay the union open to prosecution under the antitrust laws.

The Shuberts and a few others have yielded, concluding that they have no principle to defend. Men like Winthrop Ames, David Belasco, Arthur Hopkins, Henry Miller, George M. Cohan and Henry W. Savage, from whom the finest things of our stage have come, face heavy losses and artistic paralysis for opposing what they conceive to be an un-American assault.

These managers believe, and with reason, that a tyranny is threatened that cannot fail to stifle art impulses which, to thrive, must be left to individual initiative. That Equity is pressing advantages obtained four years ago to such despotic extremes proves that the power it seeks no labor union should possess.

In its public aspect this fight must lower the people of the make-believe world in general esteem. The charm of the playhouse and its people has always been enhanced by the feeling that they were a refuge from the world of struggle for material advantage. Actors who take Sam Gompers for their guide will dissipate that sentimental regard with a swiftness they will regret.

TURKEY FOLLOWS SUIT

In the old, glad days of manhood's supremacy in Turkey, when the Pashas could cast a displeasing spouse forth on her nose or into the Bosporus at will, divorces were quite uncommon. They were available only to the masculine sex. The ladies ate humble pie for breakfast, lunch and dinner and all was serene and satisfactory within the Osmanli's menage. But now the "New Freedom" for females has hit the Ottoman Empire. Nineteen hundred and twenty-three shows a net result in Constantinople of 7000 marriages and 9000 divorces. Not only does the fair sex show an inexplicable reluctance to enter matrimony, but in leaping out of it they emulate their American sisters.

The old-fashioned contingent blames the passing of the veil for this frightful state of things. Romance is dead, according to them, now that there is no mystery connected with the lady. As one of the elder statesmen remarked in commenting on the deplorable situation, "What beauty and mystery one could dream of behind the veil, and, behold, what the removal of the veil after marriage revealed."

To a practical American it would appear that there would be more chance for marital happiness when the youth did not have to accept his bride sight unseen. You never can tell what you are going to get out of a grab bag and many a young Mohammedan must have experienced a staggering shock the first time he glimpsed his newly acquired lady fair. All of the Osmanlis are not gifted with alluring beauty.

The real cause of the domestic upheavals probably lies in the fact that the girls have acquired economic independence. There is nothing like a pay check and a balance in the bank to give a woman a chesty feeling. Nobody likes to be too independent with a highly necessary meal ticket. But the woman who knows she can support herself is more apt to argue back. And masculine sentimentalists to the contrary notwithstanding, women do not love once and then pine away and die. They, too, frequently cast yearning looks through the matrimonial bars. Being inherently conventional, they precipitate a quarrel and a divorce and then they are free to try their luck again with no loss of social prestige.

ALL FUSSED UP

Haven't you seen the sort of family that puts off everything to the last minute in getting ready for vacation and then dashes around like a headless hen in a frantic effort to be in time for the train? And haven't you laughed at their want of system? Well, that is the way our present Congress is closing its present session.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

Prohibition Will Prove Blessing

Madame Anna Pavlowa, leader of the ballet Russe that has been touring the United States, comes to New York at the end of her tour and is promptly asked for her impressions. She makes the astonishing statement that prohibition is making American men too fat. Now, apart from the fact that Madame Pavlowa may have some interesting and worth-while observations on the latest esthetic dances, we hardly expected her as an authority on the liquor question. Beer makes men fat and liquor of all kinds makes men groggy and incapable. Let us have a little patience with prohibition. Soon there will be a generation in this country that has never known the misery and degradation of the bar-room days and its accompanying evils. Whisky never did anyone any good. Tens of thousands of former liquor slaves bless the day when to drink or possess it became illegal. What if some men get a little fat. It shows better food consumed instead of strong drink that destroys the stomach and intestines and clogs the brain.

Think Peace, Talk Peace, Live Peace

The English War Office is guarding with the utmost vigilance the secrets of a new ray, which is considered the most deadly weapon ever conceived in the brain of man. The inventor is Grindell Matthews. His discovery possibly resembles that of a great French scientist, who toward the close of the war invented a "demon ray" which could destroy every human being in the German army, navy, air force and every man, woman and child in the German cities. This "demon ray" was actually being installed on the western front shortly before the armistice. From strategic points it was to be shot into the German forces. The invention was abandoned when the war closed, but it will be reconstructed now that the English have something similar. The next war, and there will be a next war, will be a terrible electrical and technical catastrophe, the crash and extermination of civilization on the earth.

Tell it to the Marines, Paul

Paul Poiret, celebrated expert of style and figure, comes with a startling statement. He says that small ankles are really hideous. The true mark of beauty is in an ankle four inches in diameter. But movie directors in the United States will shun the girl with a fat ankle and the consensus of opinion on Main street seems all in contradiction of the famous Frenchman's. We never saw the young bloods at the corner drug store turn their heads yet when a pretty ankle hove in sight or disappeared up the steps of street car or taxicab.

RIPPLING RHYMES

SAFETY FIRST

I drive my tumbril east and west, as stately as a wedding guest, and in my wide and bulging breast I hold the love of man;
If I treat others, I decree, politely, as my weird I dree, then others will play fair with me and will not wreck my van. So with the grace of Chesterfield I drive my wagon, yellow-wheeled, and I am always prompt to yield when arguments arise; I won't dispute the right of way or argue rules with any jay; "You're doubtless right, drive on," I say, serene, unruffled, wise. If all the drivers were polite when traveling by day or night we'd seldom see a mangled wight stretched out upon the grass; but many delegates forget that courtesy's the noblest bet when once they grab the wheel and set their feet upon the gas. They're always prone to take a chance, like streaks of lightning they advance, although there is no circumstance that calls for frantic speed; along the dusty road they rack; let other fellows clear the track—and then a hearse severe and black bears off the forms that bleed. And oftentimes the speeding skate, the frenzied, deadly delegate, has manners truly fine and great, when from the gas afar; when he's afoot he's kind and mild, he would not injure man or child, he only shows us conduct wild when he is in a car.

The French government rescinded its recognition of the Confederacy as belligerents in the year 1865, owing to the warnings of President Lincoln. The British had already rescinded a similar recognition.

President Johnson, in the year 1866, issued a proclamation forbidding the Fenian Brotherhood, an Irish revolutionary society, to arm in United States territory for the purpose of invading Canada. A few days prior to this proclamation 1500 Fenians had assembled an armed force at Niagara Falls and crossed into Canada. In spite of the President's proclamation 1000 Fenians on June 9 attacked Quebec and were defeated by the Canadian militia. The Fenian agitation in the United States continued for several years.

FLYING CHIPS

BY ALMA WHITAKER

Women passed seventeen resolutions at their State federation convention at Pasadena—several of them without discussion. We began to get so tired by the end of the afternoon and "Yes" was the quickest way to get the business finished.

On the face of them they sounded very righteous resolutions—so it is to be hoped that the numerous clubs with their 70,000 members had thoroughly thrashed these weighty questions out before hand.

Only one resolution offered was lost. We discussed that one. It was about billboards. The Resolution Committee was "agin 'em" and we were asked to so resolute, accompanied by a grateful congratulation to the Standard Oil Company for removing 12,000 of theirs.

That resolve was lost because (1) the Standard Oil Company would artfully get thousands of dollars' worth of free advertising if we passed it; (3) because Americans don't know anything about art and do not visit art galleries, and the billboards are the only sort of art that can be thrust upon them; (3) because billboards offer almost the only remunerative field in which to employ our hordes of aspiring artists, and (4) because it would disturb business.

Now I ask you, could the men have defeated that resolution for any more masculine notions? Who says the ladies don't see eye to eye with the men?

I don't know how much influence the men have in the biennial deliberations, but I know one or two who are mightily influential in local club elections. If gossip speaks truly husbands and males-in-law of one or two Presidential candidates have been very busily interested lately. They were in on all the conferences for furthering Presidential aspirations.

Some of the best little political subtleties were originated by men.

Well, that is all right. Women have always helped in furthering masculine political ambitions.

But tell me not that men dislike club-women wives or deplore their responsibilities of office.

I am implored to act up against giving of parties in honor of political candidates in women's clubland. "It is a cheap and vulgar form of politics," sneers the plutocrat.

But, oh, no. It isn't cheap. And if it is petty it is an age-old traditional form of pettiness which the ladies even used on behalf of their pet male candidates in the past. And it is a perfectly corking way of advertising through the society columns. And it is signifying a preference very stylishly.

The ladies have quite an interesting choice to make between their three candidates for vice-president of the Federation. One is svelte and blonde and petite, one is plump and motherly, one is older, more dignified and more serious. I propheasy it will be a pretty close vote.

One of the State convention resolutions appertained to the adoption of a federation song. One lady has written an original one about the charms of California—with its own accompaniment way up in the contra octave. Even the professional soprano squeaked on the top notes. The ladies chose another song within their range.

But at the end of Queen Isabella convention days I can imagine a great many frazzled club women finding the solace of a cigarette very merciful.

In the meantime an alarming percentage of them chew gum. Perhaps that is more refined, of course—but it doesn't look it.

I rather wish Chrystabel Pankhurst were to be a speaker from this big convention of women. I should like to hear her tell why she believes woman's suffrage is a failure.

In fact, to be really representative we almost ought to have Cora Gabel and Mme. Elinor Glyn and Juanita Miller together at one session and Barbara La Marr on another.

HOW IT WAS NAMED

BY ROSS WILLS

The name San Diego, for California's southernmost city, is distinguished from other of the State's place-names, given in memory of church dignitaries, in that it honors two titular saints. The city had originally been named San Miguel, for Saint Michael, by its discoverer, Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo, the Portuguese explorer, in 1542. But in the year 1602, when Sebastian Viscaino landed there, he renamed it San Diego in honor of St. James, patron saint of Spain. The name James in Spanish, incidentally, takes the forms of San Diego, or San Tiago, or often Santiago.

St. James (or San Diego) was thus the city's sole namesake until 1769, when, on July 16 of that year, Fray Junipero Serra founded there the first mission on California soil and named it in honor of San Diego de Alcala. Since it has been the hardly varying custom for the several cities to take their names after those of the missions founded within their present boundaries, San Diego perhaps honors more the name of San Diego de Alcala. However, the city is generally credited with possessing two titular saints.

Of the two saints more is known of St. James. He is especially distinguished as having inspired the present church ritual known as the "Kiss of Peace;" and he is also said to have inspired the Spanish war cry, "Santiago!" He was a nobleman's son who abandoned great wealth and position to take an active part in the church as a disciple of Christ. His struggle was a severe one, for he was persecuted and finally beheaded. When he was dragged before Herod Agrippa his gentleness touched the soul of one of his tormentors, who begged to die with him. James gave him a kiss, saying "Pax biscum" (Peace be with you.) From this act arose the "Kiss of Peace" which has been used in the church since that time.

The legend relates that his body was thereafter conducted by angels to Spain, where a magnificent church was built for its reception and that his spirit returned to earth and took an active part in the military affairs of the country. His sword was said to have appeared on the head of the Spanish army on thirty-eight different occasions, most notably once when King Ramiro's wife was defending Spain against the Moors. The King refused to submit any longer to the annual tribute demanded, 100 virgins, and defied the Moors to battle. After the Spaniards had suffered one reverse the legend has it that the spirit of St. James appeared with a head on a white horse and led them to victory, 60,000 Moors being vanquished. From that time "Santiago!" has been the Spanish war cry.

Not so much is recorded of San Diego de Alcala. He was a humble Capuchin lay brother who convent at Alcala about 1600. He was especially known for his humility and charity. It is said that the infant Don Carlos was cured of a severe wound through San Diego's intercession and that on account Phillip II promoted canonization. Of the miracles recorded to him legend relates one story and painting that he restored a child, uninjured, from a bed of fire after its mother had unwittingly kept it there very long; and that he restored sight to a blind boy by anointing his eyes with oil. Of interest is that, through a painting of this saint's life on the walls of the church at San Domingo, Albano came to be regarded as one of the greatest painters of the Bologna school.

STILL THEY FALL

By the Foothill Philosopher

In The Times of March 27 the Foothill Philosopher was given the privilege of sounding a warning against those clever men and women who, in the name of "Truth," separate people from their money and often bring about confusion, insanity and suicide among their followers.

The Foothill Philosopher is not a prophet and did not know that within a month following the publication of his article, "Don't Be Fooled," scores of persons in Los Angeles would be duped by so-called teachers of occultism and commercial faith healers. However, anyone assured of the continued residence in a city of a plentiful supply of "black masters" and a given number of credulous persons, might easily prophesy the result.

Fakers of this sort are becoming all too common in Los Angeles and their unscrupulous methods are a menace to the general public. The fact that they sometimes operate "within the law" does not make them any better than the average burglar.

The fact that man is in the world is a sign that the ground is a pretty safe place for the feet. The fact that God gave the average man a fair amount of common sense is a sign that he would do well to employ his intelligence for his protection. The fact that it is often difficult for man to exemplify even the "common virtues" is a pretty good indication that it pays better to try harder every day to demonstrate common decency and fair play than to spend time and money in the expectation of receiving sudden and unearned "illumination" at the hands of a purveyor of transcendental nonsense.

Speed up each day of each year!

TAME WARRIORS

I wandered into a cynical man-of-the-world set the other evening—after being submerged for weeks in church circles, in women's club circles, in violently international-peace-and-goodwill-toward-man circles.

Many of these men had seen war, fought wars, lived through several wars and soon they were talking of wars that had touched me.

So, pretty soon I was remembering too—the countless men of my acquaintance who had seized upon these wars as great adventures, who had responded like mischievous schoolboys, who had, in those days, heralded war as a blessed thrill. I was remembering how my young brother and his friends had lied about their ages that they might be recruited in the Boer War—anything to get into uniform.

I was remembering how many of my male acquaintances had fretted and sighed because they were too old or too young, or too physically imperfect, to be accepted as fighting units in the Great War, how they, too, had lied about their ages, or failing then, to have pushed themselves into the war in any capacity under any sort of circumstances, just to get away from civilization, just, in the shining name of patriotism, to be part of the great adventure—professional men, business men, tradesmen, laborers. For every slacker there were thousands of enthusiastic would-be warriors of all ages and stations in life. So few men went reluctantly, many, many more were broken-hearted to be denied.

It seemed like patriotism, but the real underlying urge was to get away, to experience some great upheaval, to gain some gorgeous excitement, to indulge some violent, boisterous masculinity. They even wanted the danger, the bloodshed, the fighting, the hardships. They wanted to test their endurance, their courage, their strength, their manhood.

For war is a man's game—civilization chiefly, mainly a woman's. Men make civilization for women, but they make war for themselves. In peace time women, women, women are the main interest. The world is a whirling merry-go-round of department stores. The social standards are women's standards. The newspaper, the magazines, the novels, the drama ooze women. So do the churches. So do homes, hotels, apartment-houses, yea, even ocean liners—women, women, women.

But the interests, the considerations, the standards of women count for precious little in war time. The world is masculinized.

That same masculine instinct which makes our boys so restless in the spring, that wanderlust which calls them to mountains and sea, anywhere remote from woman-dominated civilization, is the same instinct that thrills at the call of war. They crave courage tests, physical action, hunting, fishing, killing—way beyond that which their hardier sports can furnish. Men are cowards of sickness, of the diseases of civilization, but they are not cowardly in physical competition, in feats of daring, in the hurts that come from struggle.

This, then, my sisters, is the great instinctive force that we have set ourselves to combat. We are not just fighting evil statesmanship, race-hatreds, profiteering greed. Propaganda against these can be so reasonable, so converting. But every generation of men thirsts to establish its masculinity, aches to burst its civilized shackles, yearns to slip out from under our everlasting feminine dominance. They want to get away from us and our sentimentalism for a wild, brief, bloody spells. In war time the world is theirs.

Afterwards—oh, afterwards, we have our uses. Feminine civilization seems pretty good to them then. Ours to pet, to comfort, to indulge. And reconstructing civilization for us has its charms.

Well, we women are intent upon abolishing war. Perhaps we can. Perhaps it will be good. Many, many men have agreed upon this subject—regularly, automatically, after the last war. But if we can, if we do, we must also accomplish a complete change in the fundamental instincts of masculinity. Otherwise we shall break their hearts, break their spirits—and matriarchy must follow as the night the day. A woman's world—forever and forever.

Protects You!

Excessive Armpit Perspiration has tried the patience of many women. No matter how beautiful, charming and graceful a woman might be, she cannot avoid the embarrassment of armpit odor and ruined gowns, if troubled with this common disorder.

The use of the old reliable remedy, NONSPI, ends this disturbing and provoking annoyance. It protects personal daintiness—woman's greatest charm, restores personal assurance and saves costly gowns from ruinous stains.

NONSPI is a pure antiseptic liquid, which, if applied only twice a week, will keep the armpits normally dry and absolutely odorless. It diverts the excessive moisture from the armpits to other parts of the body and

Keeps the Underarms Sweet and Dry

Physicians endorse this pure antiseptic liquid—nurses find it indispensable—chemists, druggists and toilet goods dealers recommend it—more than a million women use it, and by its use, you, too, can end the mental and physical ill effects which not infrequently attend over-stimulated sweat glands.

Let NONSPI protect you from this common, but unhealthful condition—one trial will convince you of its wonderful relief-giving power. Be sure are we that once you use NONSPI you would not think of being without it, that we will send you, on request, absolutely free, sufficient NONSPI for you to make a thorough test. ### MONTHLY FORM LETTER

My dear followers:

The following rules of the column will have to be followed in asking for discussions and for material which we offer. Otherwise your letters cannot be given attention:

First: When you ask for material which we have offered, you must inclose a self-addressed and stamped envelope (s.a.s.e.) The address must inelude your full name, city or town, State and street number. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must also include 4 cents in loose stamps. Do not send money—it is too easily lost in the mails.

Second: Write legibly with pen or typewriter and not more than 200 words. If your handwriting is not clear get someone to write for you.

Third: When you ask for material to be sent, have your s.a.s.e. at least a full-sized envelope. It is very difficult to stuff a whole pamphlet into a baby envelope.

Fourth: Address your letters to me in care of your paper. They will be forwarded to me at my office in New York City.

Fifth: Please sign your name as evidence of good faith. We promise that we shall not use it in any way.

Sixth: Do not ask for material to be sent you unless it is something we have offered to send inquirers. You may, however, ask me to write on any subject of general interest which I have not covered, and I will be glad to do so as soon as possible.

Seventh: Do not ask for diagnoses or for individual treatment. I could not safely give you these even if I had the time. This is the province of your personal physician.

Eighth: Allow at least three weeks to elapse before thinking your request for material has gone astray or is ignored. And allow very much longer than that for an answer to appear in the column, if it can appear there.

Ninth: Watch my answers to correspondents and articles each day for something similar to the question you want discussed, and consider yourself answered when you see that, whether your initials are appended or not. Many people ask the same question and I must answer them all together to save time and space.

Unless all of the first seven rules are complied with your letter cannot receive any attention. I dislike to have to put all of these restrictions on you, but unless you do follow them it is going to be impossible for us to handle our mail.

If you will remember that my "Diet and Health" is a syndicated feature appearing all over the United States and Canada and in every section of the country creating great interest, you will realize the extent of my mail. I want to be able to read all of your letters. They are an inspiration and a help to me, but I shall not be able to do it unless you follow these rules because of the tremendous number of them.

You may never see your answer under your own initials, for in the column I can answer very few, and I try to choose those letters by the answering of which I can help the largest number. Probably 90 per cent of our letters have to do with the question of reducing, so, naturally, that subject being of the greatest interest—and, incidentally, of the greatest general importance—there will be a great deal on that subject always.

You will find I have to repeat my advice very often. But it is by repetitions that we learn, so that is desirable. I shall prepare many of my articles so that you can get them again by sending the s.a.s.e and following the other directions. But unless I have written on a subject and have offered to send it to you, it will not be available for distribution.

Please remember that I cannot take the place of your family physician, I cannot make diagnoses for you, nor treat you personally, nor write individual diets. I appreciate very much the wonderful confidence you are showing in me, but if you think for a moment you can realize that diagnoses and personal treatment would be impossible. I can only take up in the column questions that will be of general interest to all my readers.

I fell like adding a tenth rule. It is this: Save some of your 200 words to continue telling me how much you enjoy the column and how much help you are getting from it. For that is an inspiration to me and, of course, makes my work happier.

I shall probably have to run this article just as it is once a month, at least, to keep the newcomers in column order and probably to remind you, too, though I hope you will help me and hasten my reply to you by remembering to observe our rules.

Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents.

My Dear Followers:

When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember, it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. If you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Annoyer Given Fare Home by Harold Lloyd

Earl O. Evans, a shell-shocked veteran of the World War, was released from custody yesterday through the intervention of Harold Lloyd, screen comedian, and sent back to relatives at Eugene, Or. The veteran was given an entirely new outfit of clothing by Lloyd, who also furnished funds for the trip to Eugene.

Evans was arrested here about two weeks ago for annoying Mrs. Lloyd, known professionally as Mildred Davis, at her home. At that time he was placed under observation at the psychopathic ward of the General Hospital. He was released shortly thereafter on his promise not to molest Mrs. Lloyd again.

Wednesday, however, friends of Mrs. Lloyd saw the veteran hiding in front of the Lloyd home, and he was again arrested. Lloyd thereupon intervened in the case and succeeded in arranging for the veteran's release and his return to his family at Eugene.

ORDINANCE STOPPING PARADES TO BE DRAWN

As a result of numerous requests from organizations, including the Traffic Commission and Federated States Societies, the City Council yesterday directed City Attorney Stephens to prepare an ordinance prohibiting parades in the downtown district bounded by Sunset Boulevard, San Pedro street, Pico street and Figueroa street. The downtown parades, the Councilmen agreed, congest traffic and hinder fire department runs. Under the ordinance the Council has the authority to grant permits for parades, as exceptions to the rule, but the Councilmen said that these would be granted only in rare cases of parades of national and patriotic nature.

MESSAGES WORKED AGAINST HER, SHE TELLS COURT IN DIVORCE PLEA

Claims of undue influence with Providence, declared to have been made by James Garrett, were cited by Mrs. Bonnie Garrett as reasons why she should have a divorce. She filed suit yesterday.

"The Lord told me to spend this money on myself," was his manner of closing the discussion of how a $50 Christmas bonus he had received should be distributed, Mrs. Garrett related. When she once asked him to have a physicians prescription filled, he was said to have replied:

"You are only sick because you are possessed of the devil, and the Lord does not see fit to have me fill the prescription."

Garrett has been absent from home every Sunday for five years, at the Bible Institute praying, according to his explanation, his wife declared.

INDIAN ART MOTIFS SHOWN AT MUSEUM

BIRD-BUTTERFLY DESIGNS LENT BY SAN DIEGO INSTITUTION

An exhibition of bird and butterfly design, as developed by Kenneth M. Chapman, and an exhibition of costumes of all ages from the collection of Antonio Corsi, are on view at the Southwest Museum. The Chapman designs are lent by the San Diego Museum and show the evolution of these two art motifs as used by Pueblo Indians in prehistoric and in historic times in their pottery work.

The Corsi collection represents his work of forty-four years as a model for famous artists. Some of them are several hundred years old. They are not of great intrinsic beauty, but are declared to be of exceptional historic value. They are of all countries and all races, and include breeches and spurs once worn by George Washington, and a series of Mexican costumes of several different periods.

Heinz Baked Beans

are baked! Really baked! OVEN baked!

It says so on the can. Most beans are merely steamed or boiled. Look closely and you will see that they don't even claim to be baked beans, but just say "Beans" or "Pork and Beans", on the label on the can. You always ask for baked beans because you know baking is far and away the best way to prepare beans. But what do you get?

Look at the label on the can.

If you get Heinz Baked Beans they are baked, oven baked in dry-heat ovens, and it says so on the can. The pure food laws require that a can label tell you honestly what is inside that can. But no law requires you to read the label. Try reading labels, sometime, and see if you don't find out some interesting facts about the various foods you eat.

"BABY" BANDIT GANG IS JAILED

Four Confess to Hold-up of Woman in Studio

Schoolboy Quartet Had Gun and Everything

Stolen Camera and Many Supplies Recovered

Four juvenile adventurers who played "hookey" from school one afternoon recently and sought excitement with the aid of a nickel-plated revolver, found themselves in the City Jail yesterday on serious charges.

The four school boys, ranging in age from 12 to 15, have confessed to holding up Miss Margarethe Mather in her studio at 715 West Fourth street and stealing from the studio a large camera valued at $50 and $100 in photographic materials and supplies, police stated.

The hold-up and robbery occurred on the afternoon of May 28, last. Miss Mather had left the studio for a few minutes. She returned to find the four boy robbers plundering the place. The leader of the youthful gang promptly trained his revolver on her and told her to keep silent. Then he and his companions scampered out of the door and raced away.

Miss Mather followed the boys out of the door. She found that one of them had dropped his cap in his flight and turned this over to Detectives Wafles and Thompson. Yesterday she saw one of the youthful adventurers playing in the yard at the Central Junior High School at North Hill and California streets. Detective-Lieutenants Adams and Lansing then arrested Herbert Shafer, 14 years of age, of 224 South Flower street, the confessed leader of the "baby" bandit gang.

From him they learned the identity of his three companions. They were arrested and gave the names of Gilmore Ray, 13, of 244 South Figueroa street, Joe Sough, 15, of 1000 West Second street, and Merrill Jennings, 12, of 1129 Colton street.

Merrill is in the fourth grade of the Fremont-avenue school. The others all attend the Central Junior High School. Charges of burglary and attack with a deadly weapon were placed against young Shafer, and his three companions are all held on burglary charges. They will be turned over to juvenile authorities for disposition of their cases.

NO MERCY FOR SCION OF RICH

Two Boys, One Offered Every Opportunity in Life and Other Orphaned at Four, Face Judge for Sentence; Former Given Five Years; Latter Gets a Chance

One, the son of wealthy parents, who gave him a good education and offered him every opportunity—

The other, orphaned at 4, with no education and no opportunities—

Otis Fitzgerald and Jack Wagner stood before Judge Hardy for sentence yesterday, partners in crime.

CHUMS OF UNDERWORLD

Through strange freaks of fate, this oddly assorted pair became chums of the underworld, committed several burglaries together, and at last were caught stealing an automobile. They had pleaded guilty and asked for probation. It was denied, but the severer penalty was measured out to the youth of the silver spoon.

Fitzgerald was born in Cincinnati, the probation officer's report showed, went to school and high school and offered a college course. He left his home and became a drifter, finally meeting Wagner in Los Angeles. The officer reported that the youth was subnormal.

"You are much less deserving of mercy than Wagner," said Judge Hardy, "for you have turned down all the chances you had to make an honorable way in the world, and appear to have chosen a criminal career deliberately.

GIVEN FIVE YEARS

"I sentence you to five years in Folsom Prison, but commute the sentence to imprisonment in an asylum for the feeble-minded, where you will remain until you are fit to be restored to society."

Wagner, who hardly knew where he was born, who lost his mother soon after birth and his father four years later, said he had "dragged himself up" as best he could, according to the report.

"While you have a bad record there is more hope for you than for your partner," Judge Hardy said to him. "I sentence you to Ione Reformatory for three years, and direct that you be taught a trade. If at the end of one year you have learned a trade you may have two years on probation, provided you work at it."

FUND ASKED FOR CITY DESTITUTE

Prosecutor Cites Efficient Work of Department

Aid Would Go to Families of Men Jailed

Failure to Provide Branch in Need of $3000

City Prosecutor Friedlander yesterday asked the City Council to establish a fund of $3000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1 to be used to care for the dependents of husbands and fathers who are sent to jail for failing to provide for their wives and children.

Under the plan, a husband who fails to provide for his family and shows no intention of mending his ways would be sent to jail, say, for thirty days, and while there would work for the city, on road building, for example. The value of this work would be set at, say, $30 and this amount would be paid from the $3000 fund to dependants while the husband was a prisoner working for the city. The City Prosecutor said in part:

WORK EFFICIENT

"The failure to provide department of this office was organized last December in such a manner as to efficiently and expeditiously render relief to destitute dependents. Since then we have handled about 500 cases, only 121 of which were necessary to take into court. Invariably, in all cases, except twelve, which were taken into court, the sentence imposed by the court was generally suspended upon condition that a certain sum of money, fixed by the court, is to be paid to the dependent through this office.

"In only 2 per cent of the cases more drastic action was necessary to compel the parent to provide for the dependent minors.

BENEFIT SEEN

"The men that we have to deal with very drastically are invariably confined to the City Jail, and during the period of their imprisonment their families are virtually a charge upon the community, having no other source of sustenance.

"It is our experience that few men will refuse to work and contribute to the support of their minor children, when they are firmly convinced that they will not only be committed for the offense, but will be put to work during their incarceration. It might prove invaluable, and I am sure it has not passed the experimental stage, that if those men who are committed for failure to provide for their minor children are put to work on public enterprises with a pick and shovel, it will bring about not only a change of mind, but a change of heart in their relation to their dependents by the way of providing for them."

Committee to Visit Scene of Blasted Canal

Continuing the investigation instituted by the Chamber of Commerce of Owens Valley conditions and the controversy between the Bureau of Water Supply and the ranchers of that section, five members of the board of directors of the chamber leave for Owens Valley tonight. They expect to return Sunday. The delegation consists of C. S. Whitcomb, J. S. Nickerson, Dyer B. Holmes, J. C. Austin and M. Elsasser. They will travel by automobile.

The committee will make a brief survey of the Aqueduct and the scene of the recent dynamiting and will look over the water supply. They may talk with ranchers also, it was said, if their brief stay in the valley permits.

The chamber began its investigations by hearing a delegation of ranchers and representatives of the Owens Valley Irrigation District, and the following day heard the water board.

He said Nevada was anxious that an early start be made on the project. Councilman Criswell and former Judge R. M. Widney took part in the conference.

Shoe Demonstrator Says She Does Toe Dancing

Feet without a flaw, experts declare, are possessed by Miss Marie Campbell, a Peggy Hamilton model, who is appearing this week in a window demonstration of the Princess Pat shoes at the Walk-Over. Miss Campbell declared she had never done anything to preserve her feet except to keep them comfortable.

"I follow sports and do everything else on my feet that I care to, including toe dancing," she said.

Miss Campbell is giving a talk with her demonstration, illustrating how comfortable footwear will keep the feet in good condition and shape.

It was testified the three were living in a bungalow court at 1640 Sherman Place, Long Beach, and were ordered out by the landlord, N. E. Lake, on April 28. That night the place caught fire and $4500 damage was done.

"HONOR BOND" TRIO F

Three Held Not Mentally Responsible in Fraud Case Revealed by "The Times"

Following the hearing of evidence yesterday in the case of Clown, A. F. Hathaway and James Lindsey, charged with [illegible] government officers and fraudulently obtaining money in connection with "Bond of Honor," Federal Judge James dismissed the charges on the grounds that the defendants were not mentally responsible.

He said, however, that if they persisted in their "Bond of Honor" operations the government undoubtedly would have to take action against them.

Vague references to "acts of Congress," "secret orders" and the like figured prominently in the defense testimony. The defendants maintained they were operating within their rights and under special governmental guidance when they were arrested December 1, 1923, after Times investigators had exposed their activities to the Department of Justice agents.

TELLS OF INTERVIEW

Clown was on the witness stand most of the time yesterday afternoon. Clown's explanation of the Bond of Honor, the headquarters of which were at 634 West Sixth street, was that it represented the borrowing of money on Federal properties. The "Federal properties" in question, he said, were the silver dollars issued by the government, also mineral and timber lands.

Alma Whitaker, writer for The Times, was the chief witness for the government. She related circumstances of her [illegible] office shortly before [illegible] of her purchase of [illegible] $10. # LAST BODY IN FIRE F

Believed Jacobs Boy; Discovered by Chance Flame-Traps Decided by Grand Jury

The only missing body out of the twenty-three victims that Saturday night destroyed the Hope Development [illegible] del Rey was recovered accidentally last night by two curiously poked at the charred embers.

The youths, George Reardon of Long Beach and J. A. Robinson, 833 Bay street, Santa Monica, reported the discovery to Venice police. An ambulance from Sharp and Nolan Undertaking Company took the body to the morgue where the remainder of the victims were held.

While identification of the body was impossible last night, examination indicated, according to the undertakers, that it is the body of the adopted son of Mrs. Jacobs, proprietor of the home. This belief is based, it was stated, on the condition of the teeth and other evidence. If it develops that it is the body of the Jacobs boy, it will make only three recovered bodies not identified.

WAR ON FIRETRAPS

Definite action to wipe out death traps operated as institutions for the care of mentally defective children was taken by the county grand jury yesterday at the virtual conclusion of its four-day investigation into the fire at the Hope school.

A tentative plan for ridding the county of the institutional fire traps such as the development school, and replacing them with county controlled and county managed institutions of the most modern type has been adopted by the grand jury. This will be presented for ratification at a conference this morning in the grand jury rooms of the grand jury, the Board of Supervisors, Dist.-Atty. Keyes and members of his office.

The adoption of the suggested plan, Mr. Keyes declared, virtually will assure the county against a repetition of the horror last Saturday, when twenty-three persons, all but one of them mentally defective children, lost their lives. Full co-operation will be given by the supervisors in putting this plan into effect, members of this body pledged last night.

Mr. Keyes stated at the conclusion of the grand jury's session yesterday that the inquisitorial body found that the privately owned institutions to which mentally defective wards of the county had been farmed out had been conducted in the best possible manner under the circumstances. The grand jury found no individual to blame for the holocaust, but was unanimous in its declaration for immediate action to prevent another such disaster.

COUNTY RESPONSIBLE

The burden of the responsibility, the grand jury found, rests squarely on the county. The entire system under which the county farms out mentally defective children to privately owned institution was condemned. Under this system, the grand jury found, the care and safety of the children is unwittingly made a matter of secondary importance. The principle aim of those operating [illegible] it was stated, is to [illegible] stitutions pay and [illegible] the children is [illegible] to secondary [illegible]

CAMPBELL STARTS

ENGAGES PLAYERS FOR BIG SPECIAL FILM PLAY

By Grace Kingsley

Other companies may merge and merge, but as for Maj. Maurice Campbell, head of Maurice Campbell Productions, that independent gentleman just goes on and on, like the brook.

Maj. Campbell is to start work this week at the Thomas H. Ince studios on a new picture, the title of which is being withheld for the present. Maj. Campbell himself will direct.

The cast, which is an all-star one, is already picked, and the announcement of it was made yesterday. Patsy Ruth Miller and Johnny Walker will have the leading straight roles, while Shannon Day and Alan Hale will have the character leads, and Francis Raymond also will have an important part.

Shannon Day is a former Follies girl, who has been working in pictures for some two or three years. She has appeared in some important productions, but it was not until recently, when she played a series of character parts for Universal, notably that of a little gypsy dance hall girl, that her talents seem to have received proper development. Her work in the Universal two-reelers was of such caliber that the young actress's services are now being eagerly sought. Maj. Campbell feels that he has a find in her.

Doug., Jr., Departs

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., has gone abroad, presumably with the idea of joining his father and Mary Pickford in their travels.

Ole Olsen Weds

Ole Olsen, who plays the xylophone down at the Orpheum this week, is a happy bridegroom. He was married to Laura Weber, also on the bill, up in San Francisco a fortnight ago.

It was a romantic wedding, as Olsen and Miss Weber hired a tug and went out to Mile Rock, a lighthouse station, just offshore. Here, accompanied by Justice of the Peace Frank Dunn, they climbed a rope ladder forty feet up the sheer side of the cliff and were wed. Even in the midst of all the hilarity consequent on the feat, however Olsen says nobody dared spring the old one about being married in a lighthouse and doing light housekeeping.

Priscilla Dean Busy

Priscilla Dean isn't to have any more vacations, for a while at least. Having completed "A Siren of Seville," Miss Dean is almost at once to start work on "A Cafe in Cairo," which will be her next effort in the vineyard of cinematic art.

Fred Niblo leaves

Promising to send us such post cards from Europe as they feel certain that Will Hays would approve of, Fred Niblo and Enid Bennett, his wife, accompanied by their little daughter, Loris, and a nursemaid, will leave today for New York, whence they will sail almost at once for London, Paris and Monte Carlo.

Mr. Niblo's avowed purpose is a vacation combined with a little work shooting scenes for Norma Talmadge's next picture, which he will direct. But the rumor still persists that Mr. Niblo will direct "Ben Hur." Also Ramon Novarro is said to have already left for Europe.

Sheila Terry Divorced

The matrimonial bark of Sheila Terry, vaudeville dancer, has gone on the rocks, according to word just received from New York. Roy Sedley, Miss Terry's husband, whom she wed in Los Angeles in 1921, has had his lawyers, Messrs. Kendler & Goldstein, draw up separation papers against his wife.

At the time Miss Terry married Sedley, she was supposed to have been engaged to Benny Rubin, another dancer. But she suddenly changed her mind and married Sedley, sending all Rubin's presents back to him.

Estelle Taylor Bobs

Having gone a safe distance away, Estelle Taylor writes me a post card from Seattle, stating that she has bobbed that luxuriant, lovely, black, curly hair of hers. Miss Taylor explains, however, that she is becoming a regular Miss Nimrod, and that she feels that bobbed hair is the thing for any of the Nimrod family. She took with her a gun and expects to bag some deer during her sojourn in the north.

$1000 Royalty for Play

Just to show you how Louis Macloon himself feels about "Spring Cleaning," Frederick Lonsdale's play, and that if he is asking you to spend money, he is doing it, too,' be it related here and now that that enthusiastic manager is paying no less than $1000 per week royalty for the right to play the piece here. New York is the only other city in which the play is running.

Antonio Moreno Writes

Antonio Moreno, who has just come into picture sheikdom, wires me from New York, where he says he is working on a story for Paramount which so far hasn't been titled.

"The company now gathered here is sort of celebrating Old Home Week," wires Tony. "Our director, Irving Willat, was with me in the old Reliance days. In early Vitagraph period I was a fan of Maurice Costello, also worked with him, and in this picture am renewing that pleasure. My early stage experience was greatly aided by Tyrone Powers. He also is with us, besides several others of Vitagraph regime. Miss Ayers and Miss Godowsky, along with Mr. Willat's lovely wife, Billie Dove, lend the feminine charms to our crowd."

Dorothy Devore Sells Clothes

In case you are a small boy about the size of Dorothy Devore, and are in need of clothes, you may be glad to know that Miss Devore is going to sell the eleven suits of boy's clothing she wore in "Hold Your Breath," her last comedy for Christie. She says she is going to sell them dirt cheap, and that she means to donate the proceeds to the Salvation Army. Miss Devore offered the clothes to the army, but they are smaller than that organization usually has call for. So if you want to benefit both yourself and the Salvation Army, you may call Miss Devore at HEmpstead 0948.

Clara K. Young Better

Clara Kimball Young, according to word received here by her father, has recovered from her recent operation, performed in Fort Wayne, where she was suddenly stricken, and has gone back to New York. Whether she will again take up her tour in her stage play, "Trimmed in Scarlet," isn't certain. The production was originally scheduled for New York.

Honors for Genius

If you are not certain as to the ten greatest names in motion pictures, perhaps the Story World, an ambitious young magazine published in Hollywood, may help you to make up your mind. H. H. Van Loan is the writer of a series of articles concerning these greatest ones, and as Mr. Van Loan is himself famous as a writer of scenarios it is considered that his judgment may be right. It is significant of his modesty that he does not mention his own name.

But this is not all. The Story World is going ahead and prove that it means what it says by awarding certificates of honor, in recognition of high achievement, to each of the chosen ones. Many may disagree with this selection, but at any rate the following list and the reasons for each choice is of general public interest:

C. Francis Jenkins, inventor, honored for creating the method of projecting motion pictures.

D. W. Griffith, director, for his many outstanding successes.

Carl Laemmle, president of Universal Film Corporation, for bringing "independence" to the screen and fostering cinema art.

Thomas H. Ince, producer, for his consistent output of high quality photoplays.

C. Gardner Sullivan, screen playwright, for his screen stories.

Charles Chaplin, actor and director, for histrionic art.

Mary Pickford, actress, for phenomenal popularity.

Dr. C. A. Willatt, inventor, for great advances in color photography made through his work.

Roy Leighton Manker, president Palmer Institute of Authorship, for founding the first and most important educational institution carrying screen technique to the people.

Wilfred Buckland, Famous Players-Lasky art director, for work in developing and perfecting technical art in films.

Lubitsch Names Picture

After holding contests, turning around three times with his eyes shut and putting his finger down on a word in the dictionary, and trying other abstruse methods of choosing a name, Ernst Lubitsch has at last settled on the title "Three Women" for his new picture, which he is making for Warner Brothers.

Appearing in the picture in the name parts are May McAvoy, Pauline Frederick and Marie Prevost. Lew Cody is the poor mere man of the tale.

Herbert Here for Pilgrimage Play Rehearsal

Henry Herbert, the Christ of the Pilgrimage Play, arrived here yesterday, accompanied by his wife, to begin rehearsals for the fifth season of the play, which opens in Hollywood, July 7. Mr. Herbert made the trip by water, via the Panama Canal, leaving New York at the close of his season under the direction of David Belasco.

Mr. Herbert played the Christ role in this sacred drama when it was first produced by Christine Wetherill Stevenson five years ago. Florence Stone, who appeared as Mary Magdalene at that time, will again assume her original role in the coming production.

POLA NEGRI PICTURE HAS MEN FOR THEME

Men who say you're the only girl they've ever loved, without smiling; men who use perfume; men who size up women as they do race horses; men who are angels to their stenographers and terrors to their wives; men who knock ashes into your flowers; men of business in conference—over golf; men hovering over radio sets until 4 a.m.; men in rags and their wives in ermine; men whose coats shine and shoes don't—

Ladies, Pola Negri tells about them in "Men," her latest picture, made in Hollywood and showing at Grauman's Metropolitan, beginning tomorrow. You can learn about men from her, according to the producers.

ANOTHER GIRL REVUE

Mike Lyman Opens Summery Musical Show at Rendezvous

Inaugurating the summer season at the Rendezvous, Mike Lyman's unique girl revue, "The Passing Parade of 1924," staged under the direction of Gordon Fielding, made its debut before cinema folk, social elect and Rialto frequenters generally Wednesday night. New and novel effects have been obtained by Fielding which lift the revue far above the usual in shows of this character.

As headliners of the divertissement the whirlwind dancers, Dorothy and DuBrac, prove an even greater sensation than they did in their recent engagement at the Cocoanut Grove.

With his comedy songs Harry Vernon kept first-nighters in a happy mood whenever he held the spotlight. The Weber sisters do a singing and dancing specialty which shows them to be adept in both arts. Helen Doty's songs and dancing win her a generous share of the applause, while Olga Borowski, featured dancer with the Russian ballet, Earl Carrol's "Vanities," the New York Winter Garden show and other Manhattan attractions, promises to win as many devotees here as she has in the East. A well-drilled and attractive chorus furnishes adequate atmosphere for the song and dance numbers.

RIVALS ACTORS

Director Beaudine Flooded With Fan Mail Concerning Picture

Many a screen star would be envious of William Beaudine this week. For, probably never before has a motion-picture director received the fan mail that the young producer of "Boy O' Mine," the current attraction at Loew's State Theater, is being deluged with as a result of the local premiere of this production.

Beaudine's daily mail for the past week included scores of letters of congratulation from educators, fans, mothers and picture professionals. The correspondents are agreed that "Boy O' Mine" will do more to elevate the screen than any other picture produced in recent years.

At the present time the young director is under contract with Warner Brothers, for which concern he will produce three or four special features during the ensuing twelve months. He is now filming "Cornered," an adaptation of a well-known stage play.

WILL SHOW WOMEN ART OF REDUCTION

Elizabeth Brown, of Brown and Sedano, international dancers, who are featured on the Hillstreet bill this week, will conduct a free physical culture class on the stage this morning at 11 a.m. She will teach the correct method of reducing by exercise and thoroughly demonstrate that a trim figure can be acquired without the drugs or diet if her instructions are carried out. The only cost will be a little effort.

Miss Brown has a well-proportioned figure and her measurements correspond exactly with the Venus de Medici. Women only will be admitted and they are requested to come to the stage entrance on Hill street and bring their bathing suits.

MARCELLA CRAFT IN MEMORIAL SERVICE

Marcella Craft, soprano, will appear as soloist with the Los Angeles Oratorio Society, at the memorial service to be held by the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the Hollywood Bowl. Selections from Gounod's "Redemption" and "Chorals," from Bach will be rendered by the society, of which John Smallman is the director.

ACTRESS AS HOSTESS

Ruth Hiatt, one of the Wampas baby star selections of 1924, will be hostess at the college-night party tonight at the Plantation. Miss Hiatt will present a silver cup to the winners of a novelty dancing contest. Many entertainment features are planned.

THRONGS HEAR GALLI-CURCI

who know the Hollywood Bowl can understand it, but even for them it must have been intensified, as I know it was for me, under the auspicious circumstances of its opening this season.

The concert, of course, was preliminary to the regular orchestra series that is to be given for the third successive year this summer. The regular routine of programs does not start until early in July. This was in the nature of a special affair staged with the orchestra that is to be heard then, but having as the effulgent star of the occasion, Galli-Curci.

It was the first time that the celebrated coloratura soprano has ever been heard here at an open-air concert. The admission prices for the general run of seats was much less than that usually scaled for so noted a singer, and consequently the opportunity was one of which a democratic audience availed itself.

Evening clothes were in order in some of the boxes in the center of the amphitheater, but the great majority wore street clothes, and many of them doubtless had hastened out from work to enjoy this gala night of music. When they could not obtain seats hundreds and hundreds found a place on the grass-grown hillsides, or even in the dust and gravel. Scores also stood and listened to the golden, and ofttimes priceless notes of the singer that they perhaps had heard about, but never before had the chance to listen to in person.

So much of purely human interest attends an affair of this type, so much real beauty and inspiration comes forth from the idea of thousands upon thousands of persons being held silent by the spell of music, that it is difficult to reduce last night's concert to a matter of mere critical estimate.

Both Galli-Curci and Hertz succeeded in sending forth a message of beauty that in some respects has not been equalled before at any bowl concert. Certainly it was a feat on Hertz's part to have his body of instrumentalists performing with such excellence at such an early stage. He has, as yet, had very few rehearsals, and wisely selected those numbers with which his men were familiar, and that were played quite frequently when he was here two years ago.

I think that for perfected loveliness it would be hard to imagine anything more exquisite than the way that certain tones of Galli-Curci rang out on the evening air, especially after she became more fully accustomed to the acoustics of the amphitheater. With the Bell Song from "Lakme" she seemed to assume full and certain sway over her listeners. Brilliant, indeed, were the light bell-like staccato effects that she attained, that had the glint and gleam of crystal.

The Galli-Curci song is really splendid in many ways in the open, because her voice is so splendidly concentrated, so clear and above all so scintillant. Certain other singers who have been heard at the Bowl have seemed to fail in definiteness of tone, and though Galli-Curci may slip slightly from the pitch on occasion, there is rarely the slightest question about the ringing beauty of her voice. Her artistry is not the rich artistry of feeling, though it is acquiring more of this, nor does she convey so much of assurance as formerly, but the quality of her tone, its magnificent radiance can seldom if ever be questioned.

Considering all the difficulties that a singer encounters under the unusual circumstances of such a concert, her work really was something to fascinate, if at moments it was not also to be marveled at.

Hearing Hertz again is like meeting a true friend who has been away for a long period of time. I sometimes doubt if he can ever be equaled, let alone excelled in a presentation of this kind. He has the humanness, plus the vigor, which makes great music not only for the musician, but above all, for the layman. People listen to him with rapt minds and hearts, and they gain knowledge of the tonal art from the variety of his expressive shadings which hardly would accrue from the great majority of interpreters, if from any other.

One feels that the moment that Hertz steps on the stand the response which the man's personality arouses not only from the men in the orchestra but from the whole audience. There is something almost electric about it, and there was not a time that he came before the public that he did not receive applause, not to speak of the huge ovation that greeted his first appearance.

The most entrancing effects that he procured were the result of the poetry and the dignity of his directing. The "Caprice Viennois" was a real poem; the overture to "Tannhaeuser" had grandeur; the Brahms Hungarian dances were filled with fire and color. That was the charm of his conducting the character with which he imbued each of the selections even to the much overplayed "William Tell." His accompaniments, too, with just some slight exceptions in the first, the Polonaise from "Mignon" were creations of taste. To "Care Nome" and the Mad Scene from "Lucia," which is always a triumphing aria for Galli-Curci, he also gave a notable delicacy, with possibly the very slightest exception. For one who during his career in opera was habitually identified with Wagnerian music, this is perhaps all the more remarkable.

Not all was music, and the biggest fortissimo of the evening was when a flashlight of the immense crowd was taken. With all the noise of a battle a huge charge of powder was set off, and after a terrific explosion, produced a hilarious uproar.

Mrs. J. J. Carter, secretary of the Hollywood Bowl Association, who always has been the chief spirits in this enterprise, also made a talk, and to add the appropriate patriotic note to the occasion Galli-Curci came out and held a large American flag during the rendition of the national anthem.

NEW MUSICAL SHOW PRESENTED AT CAFE

A new production of "Frivolities" had its premiere Wednesday night at the Plantation in Culver City. Featured in this new revue, which was produced by Fanchon, are Susette and David Murray, who delight with their intricate exhibition dancing. Among the others who shine are Jacqueline Drew, who is the only holdover from the last show; Ernst Morison, tenor; Eugeni Fiener, rendering late song hits, and Clay Stearns, eccentric dancer of ability. The chorus of California beauties is clothed in sparkling new costumes and their singing and stepping add zest to the performance.

ORDER OPENING OF BROADWAY

Councilmen Pass Ordinance for New Artery

Street Will Run from Pico to Forty-first

Wilshire Grade Crossing is Given Approval

The opening of Broadway from Pico street to Forty-first street was assured yesterday when the City Council unanimously adopted the final ordinance for the improvement which will cost at least $2,500,000, of which the assessment district will pay $2,000,000 and the city will contribute $500,000 from its general tax funds.

City Attorney Stephens at once will start work on the proceedings for the condemnation of the land required for the new traffic artery. It will be a year before these court awards are made, after which the clearing of the land for the new street can begin.

WILL RUSH PLANS

The improvement is considered one of the most important made by the City Council since Hill street was opened from Washington street to the south, and the proceedings started for the opening and widening of Tenth street from the east to the west city boundaries. The condemnation suits for the Broadway opening will be put through at top speed, City Attorney Stephens said.

While the Council has authorized the appropriation of $200,000 for the employment of outside engineers to assist the City Engineer in rushing to the Council for adoption long-pending ordinances for more than 300 public improvements—street paving, sewers, etc.—new petitions continue to arrive at the City Hall in great numbers, and these are granted by the Council. The City Engineer's office is completing daily a great number of ordinances for public improvements which are adopted, so that the Board of Public Works can advertise for bids for the work.

WORK AUTHORIZED

Public improvements authorized by the Council yesterday included the following:

Improvement of Seventy-eighth street from San Pedro street to Main street; Sixth avenue from Vernon avenue to Fiftieth avenue; Tremont street, Pomeroy avenue, Oak Glen Place from Alessandro street to Fair Oak View Terrace.

The improvement of the Pacific Electric's grade crossing at Wilshire Boulevard between Carthay Center and Beverly Hills has been approved by the City Council. As the first step in separating the grades at this point the railway tracks will be lowered to the grade of Wilshire Boulevard, the cost to be divided between the railway company and J. Harvey McCarthy.

DAMAGES GRANTED TO MAN IN GARAGE BLAST

A jury in Judge Monroe's court yesterday awarded Fred H. Sawyer $10,000 damages against William Giesler for injuries Sawyer said he received in a gas explosion in a Glendale garage. Giesler, who was declared to have been the man who turned on the gas, was reported to have disappeared since the accident. The Southern California Gas Company, another defendant in the suit brought by Sawyer, was granted a motion for a non-suit, the court holding the company could not be held responsible for the explosion.

Stock Salesman for Vanderbilt Under Arrest

James S. Donnelly, a stock salesman, is under arrest because he bought stock in the Vanderbilt Newspapers, Inc., in the open market for $80 a share, instead of turning in his customers' money at $100 per share to his employer. The latter is John Dale, sales manager for James C. Allen, Inc., said to be fiscal agents for the Vanderbilt company.

The complaint, sworn to by Dale, charges Donnelly with embezzlement and the felonious conversion of trust funds to his personal use. He admits the transaction, but denied strenuously yesterday that it was good ground for the charge. He said he found two customers for ten shares and got $1000 from them. He bought the shares from a broker at $80 a share, making a profit of $200 for himself instead of a commission of $80.

William Rennie of Awning Firm Dies at Old Age

William Rennie, vice-president of the William H. Hoagee Tent and Awning Company, died yesterday at his home at 210 North Rampart street. He was 79 years of age and had lived in California forty-seven years and in Los Angeles ten years. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Christina Rennie, and a daughter, Edith.

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow at 10 a.m. from the chapel of Graham & Isbell Company, 915 West Washington street.

Forbids Setting Aside Wheelock Divorce Decree

A writ of prohibition to stay Superior Judge Marsh of San Diego county from setting aside a final decree of divorce previously granted Mrs. Katharine Wheelock against George M. Wheelock was issued from the Second District Court of Appeal, Division Two, yesterday in a decision of Justice Works in which Justices Finlayson and Craig concurred.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheelock, according to the court records, decided to remarry after seeking the divorce and planned that the second ceremony should be performed following the final decree as they believed a remarriage would be valid only at that time. When the final decree was granted an affidavit of Mrs. Wheelock asserts that the husband left her, ignoring his agreement to remarry. Because of this Mrs. Wheelock asked the San Diego Superior Court to set aside the final decree as the agreed-on plans had not been carried out.

Following this action Mr. Wheelock petitioned the Appellate Court for an order to stay the lower court from proceeding with Mrs. Wheelock's request as the time in which she would be allowed to ask that the final decree be made void had elapsed. The Court of Appeals upheld the husband's contention and let the pre-emptory writ issue.

PRESENTED GOLD BADGE

Chief Quarantine Inspector Peterson of the city health department yesterday was wearing a handsome gold badge. It was presented to him Tuesday on the occasion of his thirty-eighth birthday by his office force and inspectors. The shield bears the inscription: "A. L. Peterson, from the Boys."

GREATER "Y" DRIVE OPENS

Leading Citizens Directing Campaign for Harbor Home for Army and Navy

With Russell H. Ballard as chairman of the central committee and J. M. Elliott and Frank S. Stern in charge of the large gifts committee, more than fifty prominent citizens of Los Angeles met at the California Club yesterday and formally launched the campaign to raise $1,500,000 for an Army and Navy Y.M.C.A. building at the harbor and for general "Y" work in the Southland.

An intensive drive will be conducted from the 23rd to the 30th inst., for the raising of $1,000,000. Of this amount, $250,000 will be used for the Army and Navy "Y" building at San Pedro, the International Y.M.C.A. War Funds committee having promised to donate $500,000 toward the building if the $250,000 is obtained through contributions from Los Angeles citizens.

The balance of the money sought $750,000, will be expended mainly for needed improvements at the Central Y.M.C.A. and for the extension and equipment of the various "Y" branches in Los Angeles. It was announced yesterday that the $249,500 indebtedness and the $25,000 necessary for campaign expenses will be paid from private subscriptions, leaving only $625,500 to be collected in the campaign.

EIGHT GENERALS

The eight division generals for the coming campaign were announced yesterday by Mr. Ballard. They are Ben R. Meyer, John C. Rendler, C. G. Pyle, H. B. Wright, Allan L. Leonard, A. N. Kemp, Dr. S. E. Burke and C. L. Ferris. These men, acting with Mr. Ballard and his central committee of fifty men, will appoint 500 active workers who will visit the business firms and individuals of Los Angeles and vicinity to ask for contributions to the "Y" fund. It was decided that the Central committee will meet every day at 11:30 a.m. at the Biltmore, beginning today, in order to perfect its organization and to devise means for assuring the success of the campaign.

Among the speakers at yesterday's session were Capt. B. R. Patrick, chaplain of the Pacific Fleet, M. Ballard, Seely Mudd, Frank Stern and Harry Chandler. Every speaker emphasized the value to society of the work of the Young Men's Christian Association in all its functions, especially stressing the need for a "Y" building at the harbor.

GOOD BUSINESS SENSE

"Aside from everything else, it is plain good business and common sense to take care of our soldiers and sailors at the harbor so that they will feel that Los Angeles is their home while on this Coast, and so that the Navy Department will see to it that Los Angeles continues to be the base of the fleet on the West Coast," Mr. Ballard said.

Viewing the Army and Navy "Y" proposition from moral, physical, patriotic and economic angles, Mr. Chandler closed his brief address by declaring that Los Angeles people cannot afford to allow other California Coast cities to outrival them in the matter of hospitality to the nation's defenders.

Pointing to the fact that between 10,000 and 15,000 men at a time are granted shore leave at the harbor, that thousands of the bluejackets find their way to Los Angeles and other southland cities every day and that the monthly pay roll amounts to $1,250,000 a month, Chaplain Patrick smilingly remarked that it is not bad business to make the sailors feel at home when they leave the ships.

CITES MORAL FACTOR

"However, beyond all economic considerations it is for all of us to think first of the moral and physical welfare of the sailors," said Capt. Patrick. "Here, too, we can not escape the benefits that accrue to all of us from our interest in the sailors, for health of body, mind and soul imply efficiency in service and make for the assurance that these young men, when they return to civil life, will be citizens of worth and that their contributions to society will be constructive."

BRIGHTMAN WILL ATTACKED

Five Sons and Two Daughters by Former Marriage Charge Stepmother Used Undue Influence

Five sons and two daughters, by the first marriage of the late Lathan H. Brightman, wealthy manufacturer of Columbus, O., who resided in Long Beach, yesterday joined in a contest of their father's will, charging in a suit filed in Superior Court that Mrs. Mary C. Brightman, the second wife, persuaded him by undue influence to transfer to her virtually all his property.

The contest was filed by Clarence W. Brightman of Columbus, on behalf of himself, his brothers and sisters. The complaint asserted that the estate should have amounted to $900,000 and that the inventory showed but $22,000. By the terms of a will and codicil, the entire estate with the exception of some life insurance was left to the widow.

Troubles between the second wife and the children first came into the limelight in Los Angeles in 1922. Thomas E. Foster, elderly private detective and author of detective stories, named Mrs. Brightman defendant in a suit for $100,000 damages. He also named Lathan Brightman, 19-year-old son of the second marriage, asserting that the youth assaulted him in the Long Beach home of the Brightmans.

Trial of the case ended in exoneration of Mrs. Brightman. It brought to light her charges that the children of the first marriage were scheming to bring about a separation between her and her husband and were employing private detectives for that purpose.

Foster asserted in his damage action that he went to the manufacturer's home to question Mrs. Brightman and that the son set on him without provocation, beating him so severely that he was confined to his bed several weeks. The youth charged that Foster took hold of his mother's hand and that he rushed in the room when she screamed, using the force he thought was necessary to protect her.

In the will contest, it is set forth that Brightman sold his interest in the Brightman Manufacturing Company for $300,000 and that dividends and his salary as president added approximately $710,000 to that amount.

Ninth-Street Viaduct Bids to be Checked

The new Ninth-street viaduct, which is to be the first of the six new viaducts across the industrial district railroad tracks and the Los Angeles River, will cost $401,898.80 under the bid submitted by the North Pacific Construction Company, and which will be considered by the Board of Public Works today.

The board received eight bids for the work and these were sent to City Engineer Griffin for analysis and report. The City Engineer's report was completed yesterday.

The eight bids were as follows: North Pacific Construction Company, $401,898.80; Bent Brothers, $409,372.25; Charles and George K. Thompson, $419,812; Clinton Construction Company, $444,246.10; Ross Construction Company, $449,330; Doran and Boyd, $480,213; Thomas Kelly & Sons, $534,917.50, and R. E. Campbell, $535,146.

The work under the low bid provides for $76,950 for the reinforcing steel part of the structure, $30,350 for the arches, smaller sums for the sidewalks, curbs and other parts of the new viaduct, and $3500 for removing the present bridge.

MEMORIAL BODY TO MEET

The Arthur Wesley Dow Memorial Association will hold its annual monthly meeting at the University of California, 855 North Vermont avenue, on Saturday. Luncheon will be served in Room 201 of the Fine Arts Building at 12 o'clock. Alumni members of the University Art Department are urged to be present at the meeting, for besides the election of officers it is the annual "homecoming day" at the university.

RAIDERS HOLD JAPANESE

T. Fugihara, a Japanese living at 1414 Cahuenga avenue, within a block of the Hollywood police station, was arrested early yesterday on a charge of violating the Wright Act. A quantity of liquor was confiscated by the raiding officers, who were in charge of Sergt. L. S. C. Nelson, vice-squad chief.

Make this on any other suit of

WHEN a man buys a car, he looks it over from front to back, point for point, feature for feature, from engine to axle! Foreman & Clark here propose the same standards of buying on men's clothes. We urge men to stop taking things for granted, to provide themselves with that brief general knowledge given here, which is the key to real value in any suit of clothes! On this page it is applied to a Foreman & Clark suit. Apply the same tests to any suit by any maker, at any price.

Copyright 1924, by Foreman & Clark, Inc. All Rights Reserved.

1 Every Foreman & Clark collar is felled by hand. Nothing takes the place of this hand-tailoring.

2 Foreman & Clark Coats are hand-balanced from the shoulders, which are carefully concaved

One of the scores of new Foreman & Clark styles is reproduced here, sketched from life from actual Foreman & Clark garments. At left: the new ASTOR—a two-button single breasted.

2- From the shoulder the entire coat front drapes. Is your shoulder concaved and shaped to give proper balance to the suit?

3- Are your buttons and buttonholes hand-sewed?

4- Is the fabric in your suit or top coat all-wool, from one of the country's foremost mills?

7- Are the edges of the coat thin-tapered by hand-tailoring? Do they resist puckering and buckling?

8- Do both sleeves of your coat hang smooth and swing free?

6 You will not feel the usual drag at the knee in F&C trousers because they are perfectly draped

7 F&C coat-edges are thin-tapered to give smarter style and greater strength

8 Every F&C sleeve hand set and hand-draped

find out the truth

Find out what's underneath the surface. All-wool or shoddy? Hand-tailoring or machine-stitching? Linen canvas or cotton canvas? Silver Hymo or cheap haircloth? In other words—short-lived style or long-lived quality?

Trade Upstairs and Save $10.

"We save men money because we are upstairs." Twelve years ago that was the whole Foreman & Clark story . . . a suit of clothes sold at a lower price because of lower rent! Today that first saving has been built into a yearly rent economy of over a half a million dollars in our chain of upstairs stores from coast to coast! But that one sentence no longer tells the story!

Today we save men money because we own our own five factories and operate them at top speed fifty-two weeks every year! We save men money because we cut out middleman and jobber, because we pay no traveling salesman's salaries or go-between commissions. We save men money because we dominate the output of great woolen mills with our year-around contracts which earn the right-of way, and the right-of-price over any other clothing makers' "twice-a-year" orders! We save men money because we are the world's largest makers-and-retailers of men's clothes, doing business at half the usual retail overhead, turning over our stock eight times a year, taking a small profit often instead of a big profit seldom.
